Three Counties Are Targets For Antismog Board

Solano, Napa, Sonoma Face District's Use Of 'Muscle'

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A two-pronged attack to force Sonoma Napa and Solano Counties to join the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District was ordered today by district directors.

Directors, noting they had waited patiently for 14 years for the three counties to join voluntarily, agreed to seek both legislative and legal action to force them into the district.

The state law that created the district 14 years ago provided that the nine counties in the Bay Area would join the district only if they wished. Six counties, including Marin joined.

However, all nine Bay Area counties are part of an interci rculating system of air which moves it from county to county.

The district's chief administrative officer, D. J. Callaghan, was requested to outline legal steps the district can take and to report to the board at its September meeting.

Director Victor Calvo, a Santa Clara County supervisor, said, "The rest of us in the district have enough muscle to get legislation next year putting those three counties in our district." The boards of supervisors in the three counties, he said, "are controlled by supervisors from agricultural areas who don't want air pollution control. .. . Unless you put the pressure on, they'll never come in,"

Legislation would merely delete the optional facet of joining the district.

San Francisco Supervisor William C. Blake suggested legal action could be taken by having the district's technical experts find that there were grounds for declaring the three counties nuisances.

The matter came up after Contra Costa County Supervisor James P. Kenny complained that residents of his county, facing a ban on backyard burning, could look across the Sacramento River and see open burning polluting the sky over Solano County.

Green Beret Killing Plot Rocks Army

Colonel, Aides Accused Of Viet National's Murder

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Army uncorked a military mystery today by charging the former commander of Green Beret forces in Vietnam and seven of his staff — including three intelligence officers — with murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

The eight are charged in the shooting of a Vietnamese man June 20 near Nha Trang, headquarters of the 5th Special Forces 200 miles northeast of Saigon. But the U.S. Command gave no details.

Charged in the slaying are Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, a West Pointer from Vineyard Haven, Mass., who commanded the 5th Special Forces until relieved last month; two majors, three captains, a chief warrant officer and a sergeant first class.

INTELLIGENCE AIDES

Associated Press photographer Rick Merron reported from Nha Trang that three of those charged were intelligence officers.

They were identified as Maj. Thomas C. Middleton Jr., Jefferson, S.C., group intelligence officer; Maj. David E. Crew of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, commander of a military intelligence detachment, and CWO2 Edward M. Boyle of New York City, a member of Crew's unit.

UNIT SHOCKED

Merron reported that the Green Berets received the news of the charges with shock and dismay.

Most Special Forces troopers said they were completely in the dark about the charges.

U.S. military officials would not disclose the identity of the dead man or any other details of the case. They claimed such a disclosure would prejudice the case.

The Army dropped the bombshell in an offhand manner. There was no news conference. A communique announcing the charges was quietly placed among routine press releases in

ABM Backers Hit Critics As Scoffers

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate, heading for a late-afternoon vote on President Richard M. Nixon's proposed missile defense plan, was told today that critics who say the Safeguard system won't work sound like those who scoffed "when the first automobile chugged down the street."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., one of the leading advocates of the proposal to deploy an antiballistic missile (ABM) system, also said Congress would be foolishly throwing away a chance on agreement with Russia on limiting ABM defenses if it rejected the Safeguard proposal.

PLEADING

Jackson pleaded with his colleagues to approve ABM deployment. Responding to allegations by many foes of the plan that the Safeguard would not work, Jackson said:

"This is not the first time we have heard this argument against a new development.

"When the first automobile chugged down the street there were loud cries of 'the darn thing will never work. Get a horse.' When the first pair of pajamas was put on sale a man looked at it and predicted it would never replace the old fashioned night shirt."

NEGOTIATIONS

Jackson said: "I am confident President Nixon is going to be in a better position to negotiate with the Soviets on nuclear arms control, when the

Returned Prisoners See Apollo Films

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Three U.S. war prisoners freed by North Vietnam flew to Bangkok toay and caught up on history—America's moon landing.

They had, of course, never seen the live television of Apollo 11 and they said they had not been told about it in their prison camp.

Lt. Robert F. Frishman of Santee, (San Diego County), Capt. Wesley Rumble of Oroville, and Seaman Douglas Brent Hegdahl of Watertown, S.D., sat in an air-conditioned guest house of the U.S. ambassador and watched the film.

"It was great," said Hegdahl. "We saw both the Apollo 11 movie and a movie about the space program. It was great to catch up on things."

The moon movie was one of the highlights of the first full day of freedom for the three Americans. The day also brought them their first set of civilian clothes, their first can of beer and their first chance to look at a newspaper in years.

They flew from Hanoi to Vientiane last night then came on to Bangkok today to catch a Trans World Airlines flight home to the United States where they are due Thursday.

"It's great to be back," Frishman said on his arrival in Bangkok.

Although thin and pale as a result of their months in the prison camp, all three men appeared healthy.

Rennie Davis, leader of the four-member pacifist group escorting the three men, was carrying home a package of 50 letters to deliver to the families of other prisoners in Hanoi. An estimated 400 Americans are held prisoner in North Vietnam.

GOP Pledges Tax Reform Next Year

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Republican leadership in the Legislature launched today a new tax reform study program aimed at overhauling the state's massive and complex taxing structure next year.

The tax reform drive was announced by Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, as the legislature pushed for adjournment by the end of the week with Republican Gov. Reagan's own tax reform program dead.

Monagan, in a joint news conference with Senate President pro tem Howard Way, R-Exeter, announced a three-pronged program:

1. Plans for a series of between-session hearings by the joint tax committees of the Assembly and Senate under the chairmanship of Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, head of the lower house committee.

EXPERTS PANEL

2. Activation of a 30-member tax reform committee composed of technical experts from all corners of state government. Its first meeting was scheduled today.

3. Creation of a joint committee to study the effects of federal tax reform now under consideration in Congress.

Although Reagan failed two years in a row to get tax reform, "it is not a dead issue," Monagan said.

"And it is certainly not impossible. Tax reform is coming," he said.

NOT THIS YEAR

Monagan doubted, however, that action could be taken in a special legislative session later this year, a possibility raised by Reagan. The state has to see what Congress does before revising its own tax program, he said.

"We want to be prepared for early action on tax reform next year," the GOP speaker said.

Warheads Secrets Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-eight of the nation's 41 nuclear-powered Polaris submarines already have missiles capable of carrying three warheads each, Pentagon sources report.

With 16 missiles aboard each sub, this means two-thirds of the Polaris fleet could attack an enemy with 1,344 warheads—that is more than the 1,054 land-based Minuteman missiles.

Key members of congressional committees have known about the multiheaded nature of the Polaris A3 missile for years and it has been a rather open secret in military circles.

But some critics of the Pentagon may choose now to use the A3 as an argument against the administration's proposal for a new generation of weapons called MIRV—multiple individu-

Six Hurt In Head-On Stolen Car Collision

Six persons were injured, one of them seriously, in a head-on collision in Sausalito last night which also resulted in the arrest of a 19-year-old youth on suspicion of driving a stolen car and possession of dangerous drugs.

Three others also were arrested on drug counts, Sausalito police said.

Held in Marin County Jail to appear this afternoon in municipal court was Timothy Joseph Deuser, 19, of Pensacola, Fla. and San Francisco. Deuser's injuries were minor and did not require hospitalization.

Listed in poor condition in Marin General Hospital's intensive care unit today was Herman Sahata, 24, of San Francisco (listed by Sausalito police as a John Doe). He was being treated for broken teeth, a cut chin and possible head injury.

Also hospitalized and reported in fair condition today at Marin General, were two other passengers in the car driven by Deuser. John Brewer, 22, of San Francisco, suffered extensive scalp cuts and Irwin Lee Maxwell, 35, also of San Francisco, was being treated for a cut scalp and a possible head injuries.

Elizabeth Waddell, 49, and Shera Eisenberger, 55, both of San Francisco and both passengers in the second car, were treated for multiple bruises at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco.

Sausalito Police Chief James D. Wright said Deuser was driving on South Street where it curves into Alexander Street and swerved into the path of Eisenberger's car in the northbound lane at about 8 p.m.

It was later discovered that the car Deuser was driving was stolen from Glendale, Los Angeles County, Wright said. He added that a green and white capsule, suspected of being a dangerous drug, was found in Deuser's shirt pocket. Still incomplete reports did not indicate if any other narcotics were found.

Wright said Sahata, Brewer and Maxwell also were arrested on suspicion of drug possession, but none of the three had been booked yet because they were still hospitalized.

Tax Reform Faction Asks More Relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — House tax reformers set the stage for today's debate on their massive bill by adding an extra $2.4 billion of tax relief, mainly for low and moderate income recipients.

A vote on the reform measure is expected tomorrow.

Sponsors estimate the bill ultimately would bring in $6.8 billion in extra revenue by tightening down on tax preferences in 27 areas.

It would ultimately pay out $9.2 billion in tax relief. Principal beneficiaries would be the poor, low and moderate income recipients, widows, widowers and mature single persons maintaining households.

Next year, however, the bill would serve the government's objective of fiscal restraint to cool inflation by stepping up collections $4.1 billion against a $1.6 billion payout. Most of the relief provision said reductions take effect in 1971 and 1972.

The measure also provides for extension of the income surtax,

Committee Agrees On School Aid Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Senate-Assembly conference committee agreed today on a school finance bill that would send up to $133.7 million in new state aid to local schools in the coming year. (Other Legislature stories pages 6, 7 and 23.)

The compromise bill was expected to be ratified by the Legislature within a day or so and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The figure represents a compromise between the $188.9 million advocated by the Assembly and the $95 million passed by the Senate.

There is no guarantee, however, that local school officials will have the full $133.7 million to work with. The budget signed by Reagan last month allocates only $120.5 million in definite new money.

The extra amount will come from whatever surplus turns up in the budget during the year. State officials will provide a firm estimate on what that amount will be by Nov. 1.

The legislative conferees said they think at least a $13 million surplus will be found, and perhaps more.

They also provided for spending any money that is available above the $133.7 million. The first $5 million extra would go for special reading programs in 27 counties which have so-called "disadvantaged" students, usually meaning poor Negroes and Mexican-Americans from urban or rural slums.

In addition, anything above the $5 million would be used for junior college construction, with a limit of $30 million on that.

Reagan administration officials have estimated that the eventual figure for new school aid will be no higher than $140

Kiesinger Asks Better Relations With East Bloc

NEW YORK (AP) — Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger said today that West Germany would "sacrifice unification" and other national goals regarding East Germany "to get better relations" with the nations of Eastern Europe.

The West German chancellor said his nation's relations with East Europe would "parallel" those of the United States, depending upon whether or not the Soviet Union contributed something of substance to these hoped-for developments.

Kiesinger replied to questions regarding the effect of President Richard M. Nixon's recent Romanian visit upon West German relations with the Eastern European Communist bloc.

He spoke in front of the Waldorf Towers as he was preparing to go to the United Nations for talks with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and then fly to Washington for talks with Nixon.

Judge Denies Request — Probe Still Slated

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Edgartown District Court Judge James A. Boyle today tentatively denied Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis' request for an inquest into Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's July 18 auto accident.

But Dinis said through a spokesman that he would go ahead with plans for the inquest anyway, moving under provisions of the state's inquest law.

Mariner 7 Snaps Close-Up Of Mars South Polar Cap

PASADENA (UPI) — Man got his first close look at the dazzling white south polar cap of Mars last night in television photos taken by Mariner 7 as it flashed by 3,000 miles away.

The cap looked like a snowy fringe of white over the south pole of the mysterious planet. In some pictures it seemed to spill over into surrounding dark craters, and in others it had the appearance of a hazy cloud.

Although "snowy" seemed the most apt description of the polar cap, scientists leaned toward the theory it is composed of frozen carbon dioxide, dry ice, and perhaps is only one yard thick.

One of the objectives of Mariner 7 was to find out if it is dry ice or water ice. If it is composed of water, deemed unlikely, the possibility some form of life could exist or has existed on Mars would be significantly increased. The answer may come at a special briefing tomorrow when scientists have had a chance to examine readings from the instruments aboard Mariner 7.

FBI, Two States Search In Slayings

YPSILANTI, Mich. (UPI)—California and Michigan police today sought further links in a chain they believe could tie together a series of murders in both states.

Monterey County sheriff's deputies said yesterday there was a definite connection between seven slayings of young women in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area and the killing near Salinas of Roxie Ann Phillips, 17, of Milwaukie, Ore.

The key to the killing, police believe, is John Norman Collins, a senior in elementary education at Eastern Michigan University.

Collins, 22, faces examination Thursday on first-degree murder charges in the sex slaying of 18-year-old EMU coed Karen Sue Beineman, who was last seen alive two weeks ago today leaving a downtown wig shop with a young man on a motorcycle.

Two Michigan detectives went to Salinas earlier this week to investigate a trailer allegedly stolen and hauled to California by Collins and a missing friend, Andrew Julian Manuel, 25. Manuel is being sought by the FBI on a federal fugitive warrant.

Michigan state police Sgt. Ken Christiansen told newsmen earlier there was "a strong inference that Collins is involved" in the killing of Miss Phillips, wto disappeared June 30 while visiting friends in Salinas.

Monterey County sheriff's officials said yesterday they have found a girl who knew both Miss Phillips and Collins.

Nancy Albrecht, 17, Fort Worth, Tex., reportedly told police she allowed Collins to drive her home one day in Salinas, where she was visiting her sister, Mrs. Francis Gauthier. Miss Albrecht said the youth told her he was studying to be a teacher at Eastern Michigan University, and made a date to return to the home the following night, June 30, but broke it.

Miss Phillips disappeared the next day on the way to mail a letter. Her nude, decomposed body was found at an illegal dump in nearby Carmel nearly two weeks later. Police said the method of her savage killing resembled the Michigan slayings.

Police here said Arnold Davis, a close friend of Collins, told them he was with Collins and another man in the car that picked up Miss Joan Schell, 20, on the last night she was seen alive one year ago.

Police said Davis told them Collins dropped him and the other man off, and was to have picked up Miss Schell later. Her nude, sexually molested body was found a week later in a lovers lane area. Her throat had been slashed and she had been stabbed five times.

Coroner Calls Killer Of Two 'Psychopath'

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Two young girls slain while picnicking were the victims of a sexual psychopath and died in a "frenzied flurry of knife-wounds" inflicted so swiftly that neither could even struggle against their attacker.

This is the opinion of Dr. John E. Hauser, Santa Clara County Coroner, who was so shaken by the brutal crime he groped for words to express his thoughts.

"You know, I've been in this profession a long time and sometimes I think I'm rather callous, but when I saw these girls, believe me it was terrifying," Hauser said yesterday.

Hauser said the body of Kathy Snoozy, 15, had 150 stab wounds on her back, 50 on the front and a "storm" of punctures on her neck. The body of Deborah Gay Furlong, 14, had 100 wounds on her back and upper front and an uncounted number on her neck.

The bodies of the two girls were discovered Sunday on a grassy knoll not more than six blocks from their parents' homes in San Jose's suburban Almaden area.

Chief of detectives Barton L. Collins said his men have talked to 200 people so far searching for clues to the slayings, but have yet to turn up any substantial information.

"We don't have a thing," he told newsmen.

He said he would like to talk in "the worst way" with Andrew J. Manuel, being sought by the FBI in the investigation of seven coed murders in Michigan and five similar slayings in California.

Manuel is known to have been in Salinas, 35 miles south of San Jose, as recently as last Thursday. However, Collins said he had no direct clues linking Manuel with the San Jose slayings.

Collins' men were looking for a white mini-bus parked in the area at the time of the slayings. No blood was found on the ground near the bodies, indicating the girls were slain elsewhere, possibly inside the vehicle.

Hauser said he was puzzled by numerous aspects of the slayings. He said neither girl had been sexually molested, neither had suffered any wounds below the waist and neither showed evidence of struggling to escape.

Glen Furlong, father of Deborah, was close to tears as he told newsmen he was allowing interviews in the hope that publicity "would trigger something in someone's mind and we can solve this crime."

Wife Divorces Hearst Publisher

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—George Randolph Hearst Jr., 41, was divorced yesterday by his wife of 17 years who testified his "selfish attitude" made her a "polo widow."

Mrs. Mary Thompson Hearst, 37, said her husband "wanted to do what he wanted to do."

Silent Vigil Protests Nuclear Weapon Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 40 pacifists held a quiet vigil in front of the White House last night to mark the 24th anniversary of the dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima, Japan.

Many were part of a Quaker action group that in 1967 sent $10,000 worth of medical supplies to North Vietnam. Several were veterans of an earlier around-the-world cruise protesting the American H-bomb testing.

Anderson's Manager Out Over Police

Nine striking members of this Sacramento Valley lumber town's 12-man force agreed to return to work today and to continue wage-benefits negotiations that broke off yesterday.

Their walkout last Friday came after Oberholtzer fired Police Chief Christopher Bell, who had opposed a council decision cutting four dispatchers from his staff to balance the budget.

The council set an Aug. 18 hearing to determine whether Bell will be rehired.

Oberholtzer claimed in a letter to Bell that the chief had failed to resolve interdepartmental disputes and had brought grievances to the public in a newspaper article without Oberholtzer's approval.

After speakers from an audience of 600 voiced strong support for Bell, the city manager said, "The walkout was illegal so reinstating them was illegal and ill advised."

"The action of the council with the support of persons here tonight indicates that the people of Anderson ... would prefer to have an errand boy rather than a city manager," he said.

Atom Bomb's Anniversary Remembered

TOKYO (UPI)—Prime Minister Cisaku Sato marked the 24th anniversary of the U.S. atom bomb attack on Hiroshima today by predicting the United States will return Okinawa to Japan within three years.

Sato said he was certain Okinawa and the rest of the Ryukyu Islands would be returned to Japanese control by 1972 but did not explain why he selected that year.

The conservative, pro-American prime minister is scheduled to visit Washington in November for talks with President Nixon on Okinawa, which was captured from Japan in the last stages of World War II.

Sato commented during a nationally televised news conference, one of the few he holds annually. Before the news conference, Sato said he offered one minute of silent prayer to the estimated 250,000 victims of history's first atom bomb raid, 75,000 of whom were killed outright on that day 24 years ago.

In Hiroshima, about 50,000 persons offered silent prayers at the Peace Memorial Park, near the target of the Aug. 6, 1945 attack.

Mideast Guns Blaze Across Suez Canal

It was the third straight day of fighting along the 103-mile waterway separating the armies of Egypt and Israel.

Auto Makers Facing More Cost Increases

DETROIT (AP) — The 1970 car models will hardly have gone on display before the cost of building autos takes three more fast jumps.

Industry sources who decline to be named view a price increase as "inevitable," with some forecasting $100 to $150 as the range.

The industry got the news July 30 that prices would be $6 to $8 a ton higher for most of the steel products it uses.

Next comes a series of hikes in labor costs.

Under current contracts with the United Auto Workers Union, a new fringe benefit is effective Oct. 1 for hourly rated workers at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler: The companies assume the cost of prescription drugs and refills beyond a charge of $2 each.

This new fringe benefit, estimated to cost 1.5 cents hourly per worker, goes on top of a company-paid hospital-medical-surgical insurance plan good for up to 365 days of semi-private accommodations for an employee and his dependents.

A cost-of-living escalator, on with the index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, will add nine cents an hour on Oct. 27.

On Nov. 24 an automatic so-called annual improvement factor increase of 3 per cent takes effect.

The current hourly straight-time wage in Big Three factories is $3.83.

With the 9-cent cost-of-living increase and the 3 per cent annual improvement factor the straight-time hourly wage will go to $4.04 for the final year of current three-year contracts.

Contracts, negotiated in 1967, run out together on Sept. 14, 1970 for Chrysler Corp., Ford Motor Co., and General Motors Corp. Bargaining on new ones will begin next summer.

Some hint of what may be in the wind could show up later this month when the UAW and American Motors Corp. open negotiations to replace a two-year pact expiring Oct. 16.

Right-Wing Cabinet Takes Italian Posts

ROME (AP) — Premier Mariano Rumor and a new all-Christian Democrat minority cabinet took office today, providing a stopgap solution to a month-long Italian government crisis.

Reed Budget Down But Tax Rate Up

A 1969-70 tax rate of $3.689 per $100 assessed valuation, an increase of 15.9 cents over last year's rate, was approved last night by the Reed School District Board, chairman Leo Souza reported.

Trustees also approved a final budget of $2,000,990 down $73,878 from last year's budget of $2,074,868, Souza said.

The seeming conflict of an increase in taxes to finance a budget which is less than last year's is because last year's budget was out of balance with revenues raised by the approved tax rate of $3.53 per $100 assessed valuation and the budget total was later slashed by $227,868 to bring the budget in balance.

This year's final budget is up $40,193 from the publication budget approved July 15 with increases due mainly to carryovers from closing accounts at the end of the fiscal year.

According to Souza, the tax rate hike was caused by increases in three override tax categories: Building loan payments to the state, financing of the educationally handicapped program by override taxes for the first time and increased health and welfare benefits for teachers, approved earlier this year.

A motion by trustee James Richwagen to finance the educationally handicapped program with general purpose funds, rather than override funds, was defeated 3-2 with trustee Kenneth G. Wells supporting Richwagen.

The tax rate includes a $2.25 general purpose levy and $1.439 in override taxes.

The Reed School District Board also:

LEASE — Approved a lease agreement with the City of Tiburon for joint use of a corporation yard adjacent to Reed School.

NAME — Postponed to Oct. 7 discussion of renaming Reed School to allow student and teacher discussion.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of custodians Kenneth Brooks and Roy Fisher.

EMPLOYMENT — Authorized the hiring of Frederick M. Cardoza as a gardener-custodian at a monthly salary of $485; Robert Hardison as part time custodian at $304; and Naomi Mills as a teacher at the Reed complex for $11,175 a year.

Youth Hurt As Car Strikes Tree

A Novato youth was injured last night when his car skidded into property in front of a home on Peacock Drive in San Rafael.

The car driven by David A. Nolt, 18, of 395 Alameda de la Loma, Novato, was going west on Lagoon Road east of Peacock Drive at 11:05 p.m. according to Police, when it hit a mailbox, fence, outdoor light and tree in front of the home owned by Jorgen V. Lunding at 4 Peacock Drive.

Nolt suffered a cut arm and back pains, it was reported by Marin General Hospital. A passenger, Richard M. Scheid, was uninjured.

Brown's Hall Donated For Senior Citizens

The Homestead Valley Community Association Board last night agreed to donate the use of Brown's Hall one afternoon a week as a Senior citizens center, secretary Audrey Peterson reported.

Vice President Virginia Spalding was named to represent the association in discussions with the county to establish the center, Mrs. Peterson said.

Hit-Run Driver

San Rafael police, acting on a license number furnished by witnesses, were seeking today to locate the driver of a hit-run car reported to have hit an auto driveny by Jimydene Sullivan of 117 Jefferson Drive, Tiburon, at 10:10 a.m. yesterday at the intersection of Second and Shaver streets.

Hub Tax Rate Raised By New School Costs

San Anselmo School District trustees last night adopted a $1,917,971 budget for 1969-70, a hike of $81,620 over last year's $1,836,350 budget, and estimated the tax rate would be set at $3.425 per $100 assessed valuation.

That rate would be 13 cents higher than last year's $3.295 rate, Supt. Stephen L. Parodi reported.

He said the reason for the budget increase is partly a newly authorized dental care program for all employees in the district expected to cost about $10,500 by next July.

Last night the board approved an agreement for the dental care at $6.00 per month per employee with the California Dental Service.

The dental program will include teachers, staff and employees at all levels in the district, Parodi said.

In other action, the board approved plans to hire a landscape architect to check soil erosion that Parodi said had occurred beneath Sleepy Hollow School, which is built on a large concrete and reinforced steel slab.

San Anselmo School District Trustees also:

RECOMMENDATION—Agreed to send a second letter to the San Anselmo City Council recommending Terra Linda Recreation Supervisor Larry Husband be appointed to the San Anselmo Recreation Commission. An earlier letter has not yet been acted on, Parodi reported to the board.

TEACHERS — Hired two teachers at Isabel Cook School, Betsy Harnett at $8,006 to teach 4th grade and Louise Weston at $7,585 who will teach 1st grade.

a rack at the U.S. press center.

Rheault, whose wife and three children live in Vineyard Haven, was second in command of the 5th Special Forces Group in 1964-65 and returned to Vietnam to take command of the elite Green Berets last May 29, three weeks before the killing. He was relieved of command on July 21.

He is an expert on counterinsurgency and guerrilla warfare, having served as a special assistant in special operations for the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington in 1966. A West Point graduate in 1946, he served in Germany with the 6th Armored Cavalry Regiment and in Korea with the 3rd Infantry Division, and has won three Legions of Merit, the Bronze Star and the Air Medal.

Suspect Youths Cornered By Gun

Two Novato youths were arrested today on suspicion of burglary after an off-duty San Francisco policeman held them at gunpoint at his Loma Verde home, sheriff's deputies reported.

Glenn Michael Anthony Richardson, 18, of 7060 Redwood Highway, Apt. 45, was booked into Marin County Jail. Kim Richard Adams, 17, of the same address, was booked into juvenile hall.

Deputies said Robert L. Lenzio of 1060 Calle Empinado heard noises in his garage at 12:30 a.m., took his service revolver and got the drop on the two youths in the garage.

They reportedly were taking food and beer from a freezer when Lenzio leveled his .38 pistol at them.

No bail was set for Richardson pending arraignment today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police Report Two Burglaries

Two burglaries were reported today by San Rafael police.

An electric typewriter and adding machine, valued at $339, were reported stolen betweeen Monday and yesterday from the A to Z Rentals, 116 Jacoby Street Police said entry was made by breaking a rear window.

Police also reported lumber, valued at $25, was stolen Tuesday from a home under construction by Galli Homes at Main Drive and San Pedro Road.

Meeting Postponed

A scheduled meeting of the Larkspur Library Board last night was postponed until Sept. 2 because of vacation absences, Mrs. Frederic L. Brenlin, chairman, reported.

Volunteer Work Day For Pioneer Park Sprinklers

Final plans for a volunteer work day to install the sprinkler system in Pioneer Memorial Park were made last night by the Novato Civic Foundation Board, according to president David Price Jones.

Work will start at 7 a.m., Aug. 16 and last all day, he said. The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is furnishing the trenching machinery, Jones said. Indian Valley Landscaping Co. under the direction of Jack J. Burgi will furnish five men to work on the project.

The Novato Public Works Department will furnish supervisor's and members of the parks and recreation advisory commission will donate their labor. The civic foundation will provide lunch and cold drinks for the workers.

The Novato Junior Women's Club told the foundation board that it would make raising money for the foundation their project for the coming year, Jones said.

The board called for eliminating the spray pool and having just a small sail boat lagoon, Jones said.

Woman Hurt In Two-Car Crash

A Novato woman received minor injuries in a two car accident at 3:25 p.m., yesterday in front of 902 Grant Avenue, Novato, police reported.

Treated at the Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for chest pains and a skinned right knee and elbow was Hertha M. Bretz, 48, of 2004 Feliz Road.

Police reported that her westbound car collided with one backing out of an angle parking place. Driver of the other car, James A. Kidder, 20, of 583 Louis Drive, was cited for unsafe backing, according to police.

Ring, Diamonds Gone From Tiburon Home

A platinum and diamond ring valued at $1,000 and an envelope containing eight one-quarter carat diamonds valued at $250 has been stolen from the apartment of Noel L. Parina, 105 Barbaree Way, Tiburon, sheriff's deputies reported today.

She told deputies the theft took place during the past three to four weeks.

Prison Transfer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pacifist draft resister David Harris, husband of folk singer Joan Baez, was being taken today by auto to a federal prison farm in Arizona, U.S. Marshal Louis Martin said.

at 5 per cent, for the first six months of 1970.

Democratic liberals who wanted a chance to offer an amendment to knock out the surtax extension were rebuffed yesterday when the House Rules Committee cleared the measure for House action under no-amendment procedures.

Liberals scored, however, when the Ways and Means Committee in a special session rejuggled the tax rate tables to provide more relief, especially for low and moderate income recipients.

Committee spokesmen said the action guarantees every ordinary taxpayer with income under $100,000 at least a 5 per cent reduction in his tax bill.

Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said this had been the intention of the committee all along. He said the tables as originally drafted for the bill were faulty because of misunderstandings with staff and Treasury technicians.

Among its many provisions, the bill would cut the oil depletion allowance from 27.5 to 20 per cent and trim other advantages for the oil industry; narrow special depreciation rules for real estate; repeal the investment credit for business purchase of equipment; tighten rules on large donations of appreciated property and the claiming of farm losses against non-farm income.

On the benefit side, the bill includes a low-income allowance to take 2 million poor families off the tax rolls and afford relief to others well above the poverty line; a general rate reduction in 1971 and 1972; special benefits for surviving spouses and for mature single persons maintaining their own households and a 50 per cent tax limit on earned income, however large.

million. State school aid now totals about $1.5 billion a year.

The basic $133.7 million would be divided this way: $84.2 million in basic aid for all schools; $41.2 million in additional funds for districts which still need more aid to provide adequate programs; $8 million in new money for the statewide program emphasizing specialized reading instruction in elementary grades; and $300,000 for a study on how schools can spend their money to get the most out of each dollar.

The bill also seeks to end double sessions in kindergarten classes within two years. And it would continue until at least July 1, 1973, the current law requiring a vote of the people to raise most school taxes. Present law provides that these voter override elections would not be required starting in 1971.

Final County Rabies Clinic

Final rabies vaccination clinics for dogs will be held tomorrow and next Tuesday by the Marin County Health Department.

Thursday's clinic will be at the San Rafael schools administration building, Third and E streets; Tuesday's at Marion School, 1705 Marion Avenue, Novato; both sessions from 6 to 8 p.m.

The law requires dogs 4 months and older to be vaccinated and tagged, unless so treated since Jan. 1.

$100 Burglary

Currency totaling $100 has been stolen from her apartment, Kathy Marie Kidd of 503 Pineo Avenue, Apt. 2, Tamalpais Valley, reported to sheriff's deputies. She said the theft took place Sunday.

Panel Studies Gnoss Field Runway Use

The Marin County Aviation Commission took steps last night to determine whether a portion of the old runway at Gnoss Field could be rehabiliated for crosswind use.

Francis E. Torr, airport manager, said a large group of pilots appeared at the commission meeting to urge a crosswind runway.

Commissioner Melville Dickson was named to work with Torr and the base operators to study reopening of part of the old runway. Torr said he told the audience that the present county budget contained no funds for rehabilitation work.

The state Aeronautics Board has allocated $44,700 to help build a new crosswind runway at the field, but that money will not be available until the 1971 fiscal year. Federal and county funds will be needed as well.

In other matters last night, the commission discussed possible annexation of the airport to the City of Novato and what steps could be taken to merge the aims of the County of Marin and its cities on airport development.

Commissioner William W. Schwarzer was chosen to provide liaison between the cities and county.

Senate has voted to give him the authority to move ahead with Phase 1 of Safeguard."

Another ABM supporter, Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., agreed.

"President Nixon believes it will strengthen his hand in negotiations with the Russians," Byrd said. "I agree."

The public galleries filled slowly as the debate began. But the Senate families took over one of the galleries normally open to tourists.

Just after the session started a woman in the visitors' gallery screamed: "I prophesy against the ABM in the name of the Lord! Listen! Listen! Listen!"

She was escorted out of the chamber by two men.

Record Power Drain During Heat Wave

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The current hot spell has air conditioners and refrigerators humming in northern and central California at a record rate.

Pacific Gas & Electric Company reports that at 3 p.m. Monday, PG&E was turning out 8.4 million kilowatts of energy in northern and central California. This was about 100,000 kilowatts more than the previous record set July 19, 1968.

Man Booked In Abuse Of 7-Year-Old Youth

A 7-year-old Novato boy last night was the victim of a sexual abuse by a man visiting from Texas, Novato police reported.

Booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of performing an unnatural sex act with bail set at $6,250, was Charles E. Lawder, 42, of Houston. He was scheduled to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Another Workday For Church Playground

Another workday to complete the playground at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, according to Rev. James Symons.

Workers are needed to build a foundation for 90 cubic yards of tanbark. Lunch for workers will be provided by the women of the church.

studies in the past but Monagan disagreed that it had been "studied to death."

He acknowledged, however, that politics has been the main problem.

"I hope we can put aside all political considerations . . . It's going to take a relatively strong bipartisan effort to do this," Monagan said.

The speaker said, in reply to a question, that he had not consulted Democrats in planning the new study.

Monagan said portions of Reagan's own plan would not necessarily be abandoned. "They will be given full consideration" during the study, he said.

Earlier, Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh challenged Reagan to bring his dormant tax program up for a vote before the regular legislative session ends.

ally targeted re-entry vehicles.

Dr. John S. Foster Jr., the Pentagon's chief scientist, officially confirmed for the first time yesterday, before a Congressional committee, that the A3 carries more than one bomb. He did not say how many.

Foster contrasted the A3's MRV—multiple re-entry vehicles—with today's new MIRV by indicating the MRV system has very little guidance capability. MRV can hurl warheads in a pattern to one target; MIRV can send bombs to targets separated by hundreds of miles.

Foster said the United States turned to development of the MRV system and other missile penetration aids such as dummy warheads early in this decade to counter potential Soviet missile defenses.

Foster said the United States received indications in 1964 that the Soviets were deploying a powerful new missile interceptor, called Galosh, around Moscow. He said it appeared to carry a multiple-megaton warhead and "raised the possibility that one defensive explosive burst could destroy" an incoming cluster of A3 warheads.

Defending the newer MIRV concept, Foster declared:

"We need a more reliable method of delivering our deception devices and our warheads. We need, essentially, to be able to spread them out in space so that one Soviet defensive nuclear burst cannot destroy several American warheads or a whole cloud of decoys."

Police Car Attacked At Manzanita Center

The window of a patrol car carrying two sheriff's deputies was shattered by a rock last night as the deputies were patroling the parking lot at the Manzanita Center in Marin City, deputies reported today.

Neither deputy — Wyman Tong or Sgt. Robert Gaddini — was injured. Deputies said several juveniles were seen running from the parking lot after the rock was thrown by no one was caught.

$500 Puppy Reported Stolen By Youngsters

A German shepherd puppy valued at $500 has been stolen in Tamalpais Valley, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Deputies said Ronald B. Johnson of 35 Villa Garden Drive reported two boys about 12 years old unleashed the puppy, who was tied outside the residence, at 3:35 p.m., picked him up and ran over the hill toward Marin City.

OBITUARIES

GEORGE HILDRETH

Memorial service will be held at Mill Valley Community Church Friday at 9 a.m. for George Edward Hildreth a former Mill Valley resident.

Hildreth, 56, died Saturday in Los Angeles, where he had lived for the past nine years.

A former buyer for the now defunct White House department store in San Francisco, Hildreth lived in Mill Valley for seven years before moving to Los Angeles. Hildreth and his wife, Marion, were seperated.

A native of Boston, Mass., Hildreth had lived in California for 15 years. He served with the Navy as a lieutenant during World War II. He was a graduate of Bodin College in Maine.

He is survived by two sons, Edward W. Hildreth III, and Bruce C. Hildreth, a daughter, Marion D. Mills and his wife. He is also survived by three sisters, Florence Badger, Gladys Wormer and Mary Richardson and a brother, Arthur Hildreth.

Contributions may be made to the American Heart Association.

EDWARD PERKINS

Memorial service for Edward Everett Perkins of Mill Valley were held Friday in Bowie, Md.

Perkins died July 26 at a local hospital following a heart attack. He was 72.

Born in Bowie, Perkins had lived in California for the past two years and had moved to Mill Valley 10 days before his death.

He was a retired professor of electrical engineering at the Georgia Institute of Technology in Atlanta and was a member of the American Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers.

He is survived by his wife, Emma Gene Perkins of Mill Valley; a son, Lloyed E. Perkins of Atlanta; a daughter Jean P. Gordon of Mill Valley; two brothers, William Turner Perkins of Hyattsville, Md., and Hanson T. Perkins of Washington, D.C.; a sister, Grace Caroline Perkins of Bowie; and five grandchildren.

RUTH LASCY

Funeral for Ruth F. Lascy of Mill Valley will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at the Russell and Gooch Funeral Chapels in Mill Valley. Inurnment will be private. Contributions to the Shriners Hospital for Crippled Children are preferred.

Mrs. Lascy died Monday at her home at 17 Roque Moraes Avenue, apparently of natural causes, according to the Marin County Coroner's Office.

A native of New York, she had lived in California and Marin County for the past 52 years.

She was a secretary in the Mill Valley School District offices and was a member of the Order of the Eastern Star, No. 219, Mill Valley.

She is survived by a son, Frank Howard Lascy Jr. of Fair Oaks, Sacramento County; a daughter, Maureen Ortman of Novato; a sister, Edna Fedotieff of Tiburon; and four granchildren.

Two Stereo Sets Taken At Homes

Burglars stole stereo equipment from homes in Kentfield and Strawberry Sunday, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Taken from the residence of Bruce Stephens, 205 Belvedere Drive, Strawberry, were a stereo set valued at $300 and a clock radio valued at $60.

Taken from the residence of Paul W. Lofholm, 90 Upper Briar Road, Kentfield, were a stereo set and loudspeakers, value not stated.

Man Pleads Guilty To Marijuana Count

Andrew Dennis Chute, 23, of San Francisco, pleaded guilty yesterday in Marin Municipal Court to a charge of being in a place where marijuana was used.

The charge was reduced from an original charge of possessing marijuana in his car May 28 on Highway 101. Chute was ordered to appear at 10 a.m. Aug. 29 for sentencing.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Marin City Pullout Talks Not Yet Set

No date has been set yet for negotiations between the Marin County Redevelopment Agency and Marin Development Co. on the firm's withdrawal from developing Marin City, agency Executive Director Donald O. Stutsman told agency directors last night.

Stutsman said he has discussed negotiations with Mark Thieman, a New Yorker representing Marin Development, but "no positions have yet been stated so I can't predict" when negotiations will start or how long they will take.

He said he hoped the first session could be held in Marin City no later than next week.

Marin Development (formerly the California Development Corp.) last week announced it would pull out of its exclusive contract with the agency for the development of Marin City. The New York-based firm has held the contract since 1961 and has been under heavy fire from Marin City residents for failing to move enough developing the city.

When details of Marin Development's withdrawal are finally worked out, the way will be open for other interests to negotiate with the agency for handling the city's development.

In another action connected with the future development of Marin City, the Marin County Housing Authority last night authorized an appraisal on the value of the ridgeland above Marin City which also is held by Marin Development.

Stutsman said the appraisal is designed to give him background information for negotiating with Marin Development which has paid a total of $441,900 for the ridgeland, with the final payment in April of something over $140,000 being put in escrow.

In addition, the firm's representatives said, it has spent about $200,000 more on other costs relating to the property. The firm has not indicated how much it will demand to give up the land.

The appraisal will be done by Edwin Jordan of Napa at an estimated cost of $1,250. Stutsman said he expected it to be finished in two or three weeks.

Stutsman also provided a report summarizing costs so far of the Marin City redevelopment project and will provide more detailed information at later meetings, he said.

The Marin County Housing Authority Also:

AUTO — Approved the purchase for $2,500 of a staff car to be used primarily by Stutsman on authority business. Stutsman's personal car was extensively damaged by vandals during last week's meeting at which Marin City residents scolded him for his handling of the Marin Development contract.

HILARITA — Granted a request of the Ecumenical Housing Association to enter a six-month option agreement to provide moderate income housing development at Hilarita.

TURKEY — Authorized a letter of intent to Richard Bale of Tiburon indicating the authority's willingness to enter a lease agreement for about 30 apartments under the Turnkey leasing program, pending approval of location and specific plans.

Opera Pupi Play

Political Patronage Bill Withers Again

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to abolish the last political patronage plum, the job of state inheritance tax appraiser, died its annual legislative death yesterday in a Senate committee. (Other Legislative story's on pages 7 and 23.)

But the author, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, was optimistic it would pass next year because the Senate Judiciary Committee promised "an in-depth study" of the measure — which Bagley has introduced annually since 1963.

In past years, it was killed summarily by the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee, traditionally the graveyard of controversial bills. This year, it was sent to judiciary, but it died there because committee members "were not familiar with it," Bagley said.

The bill would eliminate the practice of having the appraisers appointed by the state controller. Instead, appraising would be done by civil servants.

The present controller, Houston I. Flournoy, has fought alongside Bagley for the measure year after year. Flournoy, who instituted a program to test applicants for the appointments, has maintained the patronage was subject to abuses by his predecessors.

Bagley Outlines Budget Of Tax Committee Studies

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A big shopping list of special interim studies by his revenue and taxation committee has been outlined by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Assembly committees in past years have tended to be pretty mum about what they were doing between legislative sessions, but the new speaker, Assemblyman Robert Monagan, R-Tracy, this year said committees must spell out by resolution the matters they will study.

Listed by Bagley were studies of utility service taxes, business license taxes, income tax reform, funding capital outlay from nonbond sources, taxation of publicly owned utilities, property taxation assessment practices, exemption of intangible property from taxation, tax appeals procedures including a court procedure for tax appeals and a procedure to handle small amounts of taxes, major tax reform, allowing the assessed value of improvements to real property as a credit against the total assessed value, substituting a tax on personal net wealth for the property tax, and the problem of city-county tax equity.

Oakland Girl Hurt As Car Speeds Off Ramp

Dolores Aguirre, 17, of Oakland, was treated at Marin General Hospital last night after the car in which she was riding went off a Highway 101 off-ramp in Larkspur.

The California Highway Patrol said Miss Aguirre was a passenger in a car driven by her sister, Roberta Louise Aguirre, 19, of Oakland. The patrol said she apparently was going too fast to make the turn and went off the road. The mishap occurred at 8:15 p.m.

Hospital Aid Proposal Dies

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill ordering large ward-level staffing increases in state mental retardation hospitals was killed yesterday by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee without a hearing.

But the author of the measure, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said he was encouraged because the committee made a commitment to study the level of staffing during the interim before the 1970 Legislature convenes in January.

Originally, Bagley's bill would have added 47 ward-level technicians at Sonoma State Hospital, but the health and welfare committee last week amended it to order all four state hospitals for the mentally retarded to reduce ward staff shortages by 10 per cent during the next year.

Joining the controversy over hospital staffing was Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, whose district includes Sonoma County. He introduced a resolution requesting an increase in the number of ward-level employees and that "top priority be given to ensuring the patients' personal care, including food, clothing and physical and mental well-being.

Lawyers Get $20,000 Work Room

The Marin County Board of Supervisors unanimously consented yesterday to spend $20,000 to provide a work room for attorneys in the new Hall of Justice.

County Administrator Alan Bruce had written in opposition to the request for funds by the Marin County Bar Association, while representatives of the bar association and Joseph G. Wilson, presiding judge of Marin Superior Court, appeared before the board to fight for the work room.

In his three-page letter, Bruce recommended that the board take no action on the bar association's request but agreed to spend the $20,000, after County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell confirmed that the funds were available from the Hall of Justice contingency account of $29,000.

The $20,000 is to finish the storage room and purchase carpeting, drapes, two tables and 16 chairs.

Burglars Raid Home, San Rafael Car Lot

San Rafael police yesterday reported two burglaries.

A man's gold ring, valued at $500, and a checkbook were stolen between Friday and yesterday from the apartment of Randolph W. McCarley at 119 Nova Albion Way.

Police also said chrome wheels and two tiers valued at $100 were stolen Saturday from a car parked on the sales lot of DeLong's Cherolet at 550 Francisco Boulevard.

The average South Korean farm measures only 1.3 acres.

Supervisors Adopt New Sign Standards

After six months of review, a new sign ordinance was approved yesterday for the unincorporated area of Marin County.

As it was, the measure took four hours to clear the final hurdle — a hearing before the board of supervisors.

The board spent most of the time on the ordinance's most controversial features — size and height of free-standing freeway signs and the authority of Planning Director Paul C. Zucker over sign approval.

Recommendations by the county planning commission were scrubbed in both cases. The commission had proposed a maximum sign area of 100 square feet for freeway-oriented businesses which it identified as service stations, restaurants, motels and shopping centers, with Zucker holding sole power of approval.

The board, however, yielding to pleas by chamber of commerce officials and businessmen, raised the square-footage to 150 feet for all but the service stations and included the right of an applicant to appeal beyond Zucker to the planning commission and, if necessary, to the board of supervisors.

Service stations along freeways were held to 100-square-foot signs under review by Zucker because of previously established standards.

For businesses along highways designated as other than freeway-oriented, the board set a sign area of 75-square-feet, also subject to appeal. A height of 30 feet was established for signs for highway-designated businesses, and 25 feet for others, also with appeal provisions.

Ben A. Farlatti, president of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau; Richard P. Nave of Nave Lanes in Ignacio and Norman Traverson, manager of the Marin Property Owners Association, urged more relaxed standards, with Nave also pleading that a grandfather clause be written into the ordinance to exempt existing signs from being removed or altered as nonconforming under the new standards.

The board refused that, but did lengthen the time under which present signs must comply from five to 10 years from the time notice is served, including extensions.

Other provisions of the measure allow nonfreeway signs of 100-square-feet and 25 feet above the road, bans new billboards and limits to 25 per cent a portion of a sign carrying a trade name, except in the case of dairy farms.

Under the old ordinance, signs were approved under use permits with no criteria for size.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

APPOINTMENT — Named Barbara L. O'Hay as development program director in the community mental health services department at $960 a month.

DAMAGES — Rejected a claim by Sam A. Rush of San Jose for $56,250 in damages as a result of alleged failure by county jailers to summon medical aid for Rush's injured foot while he was a prisoner.

CHANGES — Approved $1,684 worth of construction changes on a cafeteria dishwasher and jail serving trays at the Hall of Justice.

LANDSCAPE — Voted to relandscape the cafeteria terrace at the administration building, drawing $1,600 from reserves to add to $10,000 already budgeted for the work. The project is part of site development in connection with completion of the Hall of Justice.

REDEVELOPMENT — Authorized the county planning staff to apply for federal funds for neighborhood development at Kentifeld Corners and to continue analysis of a similar program at Lomita Park.

SAN PEDRO — Asked county and city staff from San Rafael for recommendations on an architect for landscaping of the second and third phases of the South San Pedro Road widening project, together with an idea of the scope of the work.

BICYCLES — Asked staff to write to the state Division of Highways seeking reconsideration of its opposition to a barrier between a proposed bicycle path and Highway 101 at Richardson Bay.

WORKSHOPS — Set workshops for Aug. 12 with data processing director Joseph Leach and Oct. 14 with the planning commission.

SUPERINTENDENT — Authorized a monthly salary of $1,195 for Erick F. Yarchin, program administrator at the State Medical Facility, Vacaville, who will become Juvenile Hall superintendent Sept. 1. The position has been vacant for 18 months.

ADDED NURSE — Approved deletion of two part-time physicians from the Juvenile Hall medical program and the hiring of one added registered nurse at a cost of $5,252. One nurse is now on duty six hours a day, Monday through Friday.

MENTAL HEALTH — Asked the staff to form a committee to make recommendations on the mechanics of establishing procedures to implement a conservatorship — a form of guardianship to aid the older and, particularly, confused elderly people — to the fullest extent of the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act.

IN MEMORIAM — Adjourned in memory of Dan E. Andersen, late San Rafael city manager.

Revisions Voted For Petaluma Area Plan

The Petaluma Planning Commission last night approved six revisions to the Petaluma area general plan.

The first change deletes the plan for the extension of Mountain View Avenue and instead shows a four lane extension of Lakeville Highway to Hopper Street and the connection of Caulfield Lane to the west side.

Another change realigns Sonoma Mountain Road to cross Highway 101 on the northeast side of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad overcrossing and extended to cross Petaluma Boulevard North to connect with the future Bodega expressway now known as Skillman Lane.

The revision shows an expansion of the community shopping zone at East Washington Street and McDowell Boulevard to include the area of East Washington Street between Highway 101 and North McDowell Boulevard where a shopping center is now being built.

The revision also show expanded highway commercial and service zones adjacent to the east side of old Redwood Highway North and the northeast side of Highway 101 at the Denman interchange.

In another revision in the Denman area, the commission changed the plan to show medium density residential development at the northwest end of the city in the area lying north of the highway commercial zone at old Redwood Highway where it is now designated at limited industrial and low density residential on the northeast side of Highway 101. The revision also expands the commercial area on the northwest side of old Redwood Highway.

The recommended revisions will go to the city council for study.

The Petaluma Planning Commission also:

REVOCATION — Reviewed use permit conditions on businesses on Lakeville highway and voted to revoke the use permit of Scrappy Jim's auto wrecking yard. The commission said various conditions had been violated including stacking cars above the fence line.

VARIANCE — Granted a variance to Walter Baker to allow no sideyard setback and a four foot space between an existing residence and a proposed commercial development at 320 Petaluma Boulevard South.

GAS STATION — Granted a use permit to the Phillips Petroleum Co. to rehabiliate an existing station at 201 South McDowell Boulevard.

ADDITION — Granted a variance to Ray Alietti to improve an existing family room at his home without converting one half to garage use.

PRINT SHOP — Granted a use permit to John Churchill to operate a printing shop at his home at 49 Wilmington Drive.

SUBDIVISIONS — Approved final maps for the Sonoma Vista subdivision at Lakeville Highway and Casa Grande Road and for the Valley Green Subdivision off South McDowell Boulevard.

CHERRY VALLEY — Granted the rezoning request of Cherry Valley Estates, Inc. to reduce lot sizes off Schuman Lane from 10,000 to 6,000 square feet.

HEARING — Heard protests at a public hearing on rezoning a lot at 651 Central Street from single family residential to multiple family. The rezoning request of James Scott was denied due to the protests.

PREZONING — Granted the request of Andrew Condiotti to prezone 48 acres on Ely road from agricultural to single family residential.

STUDY SESSION — Set a study session for Aug. 26 at 7:30 p.m. to review sign regulations.

Reagan Tells What Bills He'll Sign

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan broke his own precedent to indicate what major legislation on his desk today will be signed and what will be vetoed.

The governor at his weekly news conference yesterday said he probably would sign bills for shoreline and fill controls for San Francisco Bay, reform of divorce law and local control of topless entertainers.

But he also indicated he would veto for the second consecutive year a bill that would establish the open primary in California.

The performance by Reagan was a departure from his usual refusal to say what he'll do about a specific bill until he actually does it.

The governor said he probably would sign this week a bill by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, extending the life of the Bay area Conservation and Development Commission.

"I don't think there's anything wrong with the bill," Reagan said.

SACRAMENTO SUMMARY

'Deficit Financing' Program Adopted For San Rafael Schools

San Rafael Board of Education last night adopted budgets for 1969-70 totaling $9,729,708, expected to carry tax rate hikes in the elementary and high school districts. (Another San Rafael Board of Education story on page 23.)

Approved were the high school district budget of $4,937,617, up $166,259 from last year, and an elementary district budget of $4,792,047, down $37,250.

Supt. John F. Plank described the budgets as "deficit financing" with expenditures slated to exceed income by about $150,000 to $200,000.

However, he explained, both districts will have larger beginning balances than expected, $643,123 in the elementary and $503,419 in the high school district.

Plank said that without knowing exactly how much state financing will be available it was impossible to estimate tax rates.

There will be a seventh-eighth grade override tax rate in the elementary district, which wasn't levied last year, possibly up to 22 cents.

There also is expected to be an override tax rate increase in both districts to cover increased employee fringe benefits.

The total tax rates for the past year, including overrides and bond redemption, were $3.06 per $100 assessed valuation in the elementary district and $2.265 in the high school district.

Plank reported that the undistributed reserve in the elementary district budget will be $379,966, and in the high school district $154,000.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

ADULT EDUCATION FEES — Raised the registration fee for adult education courses from $5 to $6 and the driver training fee from $22 and $25, but made no change in the $6.50 hourly pay rate for adult education instructors, pending further study.

HIRING — Approved the hiring of Shirley Barden, part-time home economics teacher, high school district, at $3,900 a year; Marilyn Bier, French-English teacher, elementary district, $7,208 a year; Kenneth Duzich, teacher of educable mentally retarded, high school district, $9,964; Martha Stillinger, Spanish teacher, elementary district, $9,572; Julia Strong, primary grades teacher, $6,500; Marshall Tsuruda, crafts teacher, high school district, $6,678; and Dorothy Serio, account clerk II, $6,060 a year.

READING TESTS — Heard a report from Jack Kirby, director of administrative services, on results of reading tests administered in October, 1968, which showed first, second, third, sixth and 10th grade students in San Rafael City Schools ranking higher than state and national medians.

ASSOCIATION DUES — Voted to remain in the California School Boards Association and pay the yearly dues of $1,100.

SUBSTITUTE TEACHERS — Took under study a request from the Marin County Substitute Teachers Association to raise the daily pay for substitute teachers from $27.50 to $35.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION — Approved application for $9,000 in federal funds for vocational education programs including vocational counseling services for disadvantaged and handicapped students.

TEXTBOOKS — Adopted as high school textbooks "Discovering American History, Vols I and II," by Allan O. Kownsier and Donald B. Frizzle, and "Engineering Drawing" by Frank Zozzora.

OVERPASS NEEDS — Heard a report from Mrs. Wesley W. Page of 49 Corrillo Drive of the need for a pedestrian overpass, which would serve students, crossing Highway 101 in the vicinity of Wiltshire Towers, and an overpass at the new Highway 101 off ramp at North San Pedro Road.

YOUTH RECREATION — In response to a letter from Chris Harris, summer coordinator, Marin County Youth Commission, gave support to the commission's proposed youth recreation program.

LOAN — Authorized borrowing $1,928,477 for the elementary school district and $2,592,221 for the high school district to operate until tax revenues come into the districts.

ADJOURNAMENT — Adjourned until 7:30 p.m., Sept. 9 at the Administration Building, Third and E Streets, San Rafael, with the regularly scheduled meeting of Aug. 26 canceled.

Board member Lawrence I. Kramer, on a business trip to Japan, was absent.

Granted Stay

Robert Douglas Hill, 25, on San Quentin's death row for the murder of a Los Angeles housewife, was granted a stay of execution Monday. Yesterday's Independent-Journal omitted Hill's first two names in reporting the stay.

School Bus Service Will Be Trimmed In San Rafael

San Rafael Board of Education held fast last night to its decision to reduce school bus runs despite pleas from parents to delay putting the new bus schedule into effect.

About 1,000 students are expected to be affected by the bus service cut approved by the board in June as an economy measure, expected to bring a net savings of $30,000.

Raymond J. Haas of 41 Galleon Way presented a petition signed by parents of 46 students in outlying areas near Terra Linda protesting the cutback.

There were about 15 persons in the audience seeking some way of providing the bus service to upper Lucas Valley and Marinwood.

The high school pickup limit, temporarily at two miles, was extended to the former limit, three miles, and the limit for junior high and middle schools was extended from a mile-and-a-half to two miles.

Keith Lanning of 222 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, suggested there be a committee including parents and school officials to study ways of meeting busing needs. He asked that the service cut be postponed until the committee offers a plan.

Among the possibilities mentioned were the leasing of buses by the San Rafael City Schools, leasing of buses by parents or forming of car pools by parents.

Board Member John C. Pfeiffer said the board couldn't restore the former bus service since it has budgeted only for the reduced program.

Board members approved the idea of forming a committee and asked John A. Thomson Jr., superintendent of maintenance and transportation, to meet with parents.

Thomson explained that this year, eligible students will be issued bus passes, and "no pass, no ride."

Store Burglary Suspects Booked

Two San Rafael youths have been booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of conspiracy and burglary in San Rafael.

Mohamaid T. Kia, 24, and Iraj Jahangiri, 22, both of 19-A Warner Court, were arrested Friday on suspicion of taking clothing, a billfold and a watchband valued at a total of $90 from the Emporium in Northgate Shopping Center.

Each was released on his own recognizance to appear at 2 p.m. Friday in Marin Municipal Court.

Marin City Meeting

The Marin City Community Services District will discuss which members will run for re-election in the November elections at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Manzanita Center.

San Francisco Trash May Find A Home Yet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's garbage disposal problems may find a temporary solution in a 544-acre plot which Mountain View wants to fill to build a park.

A joint Health and Finance Committee Hearing heard speaker after speaker yesterday back the proposal to fill in land between Bayshore Freeway and the Leslie Salt Co. ponds in Mountain View 32 miles south of here.

San Francisco School Costs Top $115 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The city's Board of Education approved a $116.5 million budget last night for the 1969-70 school year.

The budget, a record one, is $18.5 million greater than the this past year's.

Novato Panel To Study Creeks And Land Uses

The Novato Beautification Committee will compile an inventory and analysis of the creeks and land uses adjacent to them, members have decided, according to secretary Peggy Lehigh.

The study of the creeks and their possible use will be done with the help of the city's planning department and public works department.

Elizabeth Moody of 1261 Cambridge Street and Joan Grosser of 1249 Cambridge Street, are organizing a citizens committee to develop a creek plan. They want interested citizens to meet with them at 8 p.m., Aug. 28 at the Novato Community House to form a Citizens Committee on Creeks, Mrs. Moody said.

Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director, reported that plans for the child's play lot on Novato Sanitary District land on Joyce Street east of South Novato Boulevard, would not be completed until September, Mrs. Lehigh said.

Probation For Pot

Thomas Duane Smith, 20, of San Francisco, was given a 60-day suspended jail sentence and placed on a year's probation Monday in Marin Superior Court for possession of marijuana Feb. 27 on Shoreline Highway.

Seminary Gets Classroom Nod

San Anselmo planning commissioners have approved a variance requested by San Francisco Theological Seminary for a new classroom and communications center set for construction at the corner of Austin Avenue and Kensington Road.

The center will house audio visual equipment, seat 40 in a classroom and hold smaller counseling rooms.

In other action Monday night, planner approved an application of Mrs. Sydney Alexander and Edwin Wicander Jr. to rezone a lot at 58 Magnolia Avenue from single family residential to neighborhood apartment to construct retirement apartments.

The Eiffel Tower, made of bolted iron girders and standing 984 feet high, plus a 20-foot TV antenna, grows seven inches on a sunny summer day.

Mink Cape Valued At $500 Stolen

A mink cape valued at $500, was taken when she was moving from one residence to the guest house at Hamilton Air Force Base, Lenora Sandefur of Harrington, Maine, reported to Novato police.

She moved from her house at 309 Bolling Drive on July 28 to the guest house at 114 Marin Road until Aug. 1, she said. The cape disappeared during these moves, she reported.

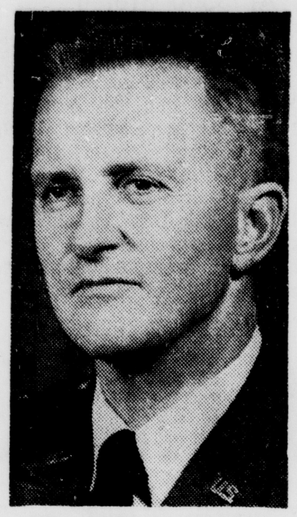
COL. DONALD L. DUCEY
New Chief



COL. JOHN M. HINMAN
Retiring chief

Col. Donald L. Ducey has been assigned chief of staff, Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command, at Fort Baker succeeding Col. John M. Hinman of Sausalito who has retired after 30 years service.

Colonel Hinman, of 16 Glen Drive, had served as chief of staff since April, 1968, and had been assigned to Fort Baker since 1964. At retirement ceremonies at Fort Baker he was presented with the Legion of Merit medal.

Colonel Ducey had been region assistant chief of staff since March, 1967 after serving in Korea.

A native of Ohio, he entered the army as an enlsited man in 1941 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1942 at Camp Davis, N.C. He and his family live in quarters at Fort Baker.

Storms rage beneath the surface of the ocean as well as above. Violent "weather fronts," maelstroms, currents and mudslides are blamed for some submarine disasters.

Property Tax Relief Checks

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — State Controller Houston I. Flurnoy has announced that the third group of $70 homeowners' property tax relief checks will be mailed statewide Friday.

About 70,000 checks will be sent to homeowners throughout California as county assessors continue certifying applicants not covered in the first two mailings in June and July, which totaled over 2,378,000 checks.

Los Angeles County will again lead the distribution with over 44,000 checks, Flournoy said.

Checks mailed to Marin County and other counties will vary according to local conditions.

Dishwasher Stolen

A dishwasher valued at $110 in a home under construction in the Casa Grande Mano subdivision, South McDowell Boulevard, Petaluma, was stolen Monday night, police reported yesterday.

Muir Beach Citizens Plan Clean-Up Drive

A clean-up of Muir Beach's 15-acre state-owned beach will be held this Saturday by residents of the shore community in a move designed to cool the beach's newest controversy over leveling of a cluster of sand dunes.

Nancy Knox, an opponent of the destruction of the dunes which was started and stopped by the state Department of Parks and Recreation last week, said the work party would begin cleaning the beach at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Meanwhile, in a letter to Robert Hatch, district superintendent of the state Parks and Recreation Department, Pierre W. Joske, county parks and recreation director, said a delay in state work at the beach would give Supervisor Michael Wornum, in whose district the beach lies, a chance to talk to area residents.

The state was blocked from bulldozing the dunes at the south end of the public beach last Thursday when Mrs. Knox and several other women and children stood in front of the bulldozer.

State officials contended that hippies and others were using the dunes as a shelter for illegal camping, drinking and other activities. The resulting litter provided one of the state's reasons for flattening the dunes. Officials said the action was necessary for a mechanical beach cleaner to clear the beach of debris.

The exact schedule for the beach clearing operation by the state is still uncertain.

The state, in attempting to eliminate the cluster of squat dunes, had the active backing of some Muir Beach residents who want the beach people driven out.

Mrs. Knox said the citizens' beach clean-up was decided on in a meeting of permanent residents Saturday. She said 20 to 30 residents were expected to participate.

Silver Star Recommended

Pfc. Thomas Cincotta, a San Rafael Marine killed in combat on June 28, has been recommended for the Silver Star for Heroism in Vietnam. The Silver Star is the third highest military award bestowed by the United States.

Cincotta's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Serge L. Cincotta of 531 Fairhills Drive, learned of the recommended decoration in a letter from their son's Vietnam commander. The recommendation was made for Cincotta's heroic action against the enemy in an assault near Quan Tri.

Cincotta, a 1968 graduate of Marin Catholic High School, was killed shortly before his 19th birthday.

Marin Probation Officer Has Charge Dropped

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Charges of felony assault against a Marin County probation officer have been dismissed in Alameda County Superior Court, on a motion by the district attorney's office.

Byron Conrad Walters, 31, of Albany, had been charged following a domestic quarrel in which he allegedly slashed his wife on the face.

He was suspended from the probation department Feb. 19 but on March 13 was ordered reinstated by the Marin County Personnel Commission, if a medical examination found him suitable for continued employment.

County personnel records show he was reinstated April 9, cleared by a physician to return to work.

Personnel commissioners, following a hearing, ruled Walters should be reinstated if a medical examination found him suitable to continue as group counselor because he "had competently performed his job."

Police Distributing Marijuana Pamphlet

A booklet entitled "Parents' Guide to Marijuana" is now available to the public at the San Rafael Police Department.

Mexican Income Up

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Despite the burgeoning birth rate, the per capita income in Mexico rose from $394.20 in 1964 to $550 in 1968, according to Francisco Cano Escalante, president of the National Chamber of Commerce.

Fairfax Teacher Pay Hope Left Undecided

Fairfax School District trustees last night adopted a 1969-70 budget of $868,091 — but left an opening to change it to give higher salaries if the state comes through with more money.

The budget, down $24,909 from last year's $893,000, would make no change in the district's tax rate of $3.015 per $100 assessed valuation, according to Supt. H. Reginald Hammond.

Of the total, $568,169 is expected from property taxes, compared to $555,704 last year, Hammond said. The rise in property tax revenue however was accompanied by a decrease in state aid.

The board has promised teachers a 4.5 per cent raise and more if the state provides more money. Teachers asked a 7 per cent increase. Hammond said the board will reconsider salaries as late as next month if money appears.

The Fairfax School District board also:

TRUSTEE — Set a closed meeting for 8 p.m. tomorrow to discuss six candidates for the board vacancy created by the resignation of Leonard A. Weiss. Hammond said the decision probably will be made at the next regular meeting at 7:45 p.m. Aug. 26, a week later than the usual meeting time with the change due to vacations.

PLAYFIELD — Learned the Army Corps of Engineers has offered to level the playfield at White Hill School as a training exercise, but decided to wait until funds are available to develop the field.

SCHOOL SITE — Approved an agreement with the county schools office to permit two portable buildings on the White Hill School site for educationally handicapped, junior high age children, with no money to change hands.

PERSONNEL — Hired Maureen Finn as a second grade teacher at $6,400; and Barbara Brown as a seventh and eighth grade teacher at $8,600.

ATTENDANCE — Approved interdistrict attendance agreements for Ruth Ann Folsom to Mill Valley and Roger Kibbe to Novato. Both are kindergarteners.

FINANCE — Delayed forming a citizens committee on finance until the next meeting.

MEETING — Set a special meeting for 9:30 a.m. Sept. 13 to inspect the schools.

Trolleys To Go

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—The last trolley lines in Denmark's capital are on their way out. Only four lines were left after May 1 and traffic authorities said they'll reach the end of the line by 1972.

Breakfast Nets Firemen Profits

The Marinwood Firemen's Association learned last night from treasurer Rinaldo Emini that it made a profit of $140 on the annual July 4 community pancake breakfast.

President Irving L. Schwartz said that curb painting of house numbers had been completed in Lucas Valley and Upper Lucas Valley, with the next area to be Casa Marinwood.

He also said the firemen are planning a community chicken barbecue — second this year — at 3 p.m. Aug. 31 in the firemen's picnic area between Miller Creek School and Quietwood Drive.

39 Strep Cases Are Reported In Marin

Thirty-nine cases of streptococcus infection in Marin last week have been reported by the Marin County Health Department.

Other communicable diseases reported were gonorrhea, 20 cases; tuberculosis, three cases and infectious hepatitis, seven cases.

There are 22 producers of synthetic rubber in the U.S. today. Approximately 61 per cent of the synthetic rubber produced is consumed by auto tires with the other 39 per cent going into such major rubber uses as conveyor belting, hosing and cushioning, according to the International Institute of Synthetic Rubber Producers.

Packing The Elegant Picnic Is Fun

WHEN THE PICNIC basket is unpacked, a bottle of wine adds the elegant touch. If the day is hot, chill the wine two or three hours in the refrigerator before unpacking it. Then wrap it well in several layers of newspapers and carry it in an insulated hamper. White dinner wines or Roses travel well in a vacuum bottle if the wine and the vacuum bottle both are well chilled before leaving home. Cheese and ham spreads are excellent for dainty sandwiches, and fruit punches also are good accompaniment, also well chilled at home.

The upcoming Concours d'Elegance to be staged Sunday as a benefit for the Marin Chapter, National Foundation-March of Dimes at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael is a perfect time for an elegant picnic before touring the rows of vintage and special automobiles.

The requirements for a romantic picnic were proclaimed long ago by the Persian poet, Omar Khayyam, when he listed the simple menu—a jug of wine, a loaf of bread. Things haven't changed very much in the last 800 years. Nowadays, the food may be a little fancier; ice makes the beverage more refreshing; and the "wilderness" of the poem is likely to be a city or state park. But the charm and excitement of a meal out of doors is the same.

The simplest plan of all is to take along a loaf of bread, a chunk of cheese, some fresh fruit and a bottle of wine. It all packs easily, carries well, and seems like a feast when cut, spread and poured at the picnic site. From a practical standpoint, it is well to wrap the bread in foil or transparent film to keep it from drying out. The cheese, similarly wrapped, can be mild or sharp as taste dictates. The wine is most often a dry red one.

Burgundy, Claret and Chianti are usual choices, but within the past few years, many California vintners have produced a soft red wine, slightly sweeter and lighter than a Burgundy — great for picnics. This type of wine has found ready acceptance in the United States where tastes are accustomed to so many sweet beverages in the soft drink classification. Each winery has its own name for this type of wine, but it can generally be identified by such descriptive terms on the label as "mellow red wine" or "vino rosso" or by their Italian-type names and their California origin.

Most wines are available in bottle sizes to suit any group, from the small "tenth" bottle that holds 12 ounces to the gallon jug containing 128 ounces. The small bottle allows six-ounce servings for two — a moderate amount — and on the same basis the gallon would serve about 20 persons.

A picnic that involves a little more preparation, but is still essentially simple, may include a cheese mixture to be spread on sliced bread at the picnic site, and an easy punch kept icy in a vacuum jug.

GADABOUT PICNIC COOLER
(Makes 1¼ quarts)

- 2 cups crushed ice or 1 tray ice cubes
- 1 (4/5-qt.) bottle California red dinner wine or Rose
- 1 (6-oz.) can frozen pineapple juice concentrate
- ¼ cup syrup from spiced peaches, watermelon rind or other sweet pickled or spiced fruits
- Rind of 1 small cucumber

Turn ice into large container. Pour in wine. Add pineapple juice concentrate and spiced syrup. Cut rind from cucumber in long strip and add to contents of bottle. Seal container and carry off to picnic.

DEVILED HAM SPREAD
(Makes 1 cup)

- 1 (3-oz.) package cream cheese
- 1 (4½-oz.) can deviled ham
- 2 tablespoons California sherry
- ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder

Mash cream cheese with a fork; add deviled ham, wine, Worcestershire, and garlic powder; beat well. Chill well. Use as spread for sandwiches or crackers.

BLUE CHEESE SPREAD
(Makes 1 cup)

- ½ pound blue cheese
- 1 (3-oz.) package cream cheese
- ½ cup California sauterne or other white dinner wine
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ⅛ tablespoon minced parsley

Mash blue cheese with a fork; blend in cream cheese. Gradually beat in wine, whipping until mixture is light and fluffy. Add Worcestershire sauce, garlic powder, and parsley. Refrigerate. Use as a sandwich spread or on crackers.

Try A Gelatin Banana Pizza For Dessert On That Picnic

Pizzas of many varieties have proven their popularity and taken a firm place in current American eating patterns. Now here comes a dessert variety of pizza in an easy to fix, "anyone can do it" kind of recipe. It's made with bananas, gelatin dessert and packaged cake mix.

This is a dessert which will appeal especially to the young folks in the family and is an easy one for them to prepare themselves.

Before spooning the partially set gelatin over the top of a thin, cooled cake layer, arrange sliced bananas on top of the cake. Here is a chance to set the imagination loose and make a pattern picture with the banana slices and maybe a few other fruits.

This is an ideal dessert to make ahead on the day before serving, and it's an easy one to carry for the beach or roadside picnic.

BANANA DESSERT PIZZA

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Grease and flour one 13-inch pizza pan.

Cake

- ½ package (18½-ounce) yellow cake mix
- ½ cup mashed banana
- 3 tablespoons water
- 1 egg

Measure one-half package of cake mix into bowl. There should be 2 cups plus 2 tablespoons. Add mashed banana, 3 tablespoons water and egg. Blend and beat 2 minutes, medium speed on electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand. Spread batter in Pizza pan. Bake 15 minutes or until cake springs back when touched with finger. Cool in pan.

Topping

- 1 package (3 ounce) fruit flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- ¾ cup ice cubes and water
- 2 to 3 bananas
- 1 cup whipped topping

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Measure cubes and water to make ¾ cup and stir into gelatin mix. Chill until mixture is thickened but not stiff. Slice bananas onto top of cooled cake leaving a border of about one inch around outer edge of cake.

Carefully spoon thickened gelatin over bananas. Chill for several hours. When ready to serve, spoon whipped topping around outside edge of cake or spray from pressurized topping can. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

ANOTHER GOOD IDEA for that picnic under the trees or out on a grassy slope is a banana dessert pizza. It's easy to make with gelatin dessert, a half package of cake mix and a few bananas. The "pizza" dessert will travel well in its flat pan and be served quickly on paper plates. Make it early on the day of the picnic and carry it along.

Special Dishes To Make With Summer Peaches

Most of us are faced with the problem of satisfying appetites without wrecking the food budget. One way to cut costs is to make our own special dishes to use in special ways.

It is a rare family that won't forgive a meat, vegetable, or what-not casserole dinner if ended with tender pancakes, each folded over a spoonful of delectable peach marmalade, then lightly drizzled with butter and dusted with powdered sugar. Warm, easy, and inexpensive to bake gingerbread topped with a spicy peach is another happy ending for an economy meal.

Elegant for parties are delicate meringues — each centered with a luscious brandied peach. Meringues cost little to make. Brandied peaches are not cheap, but you can save a lot by putting up your own.

BRANDIED PEACHES

For each quart fruit jar to be filled you will need: 8 or 9 medium-sized peaches, 1½ to 1¾ cups syrup, and 3 or 4 tablespoons of peach brandy. Use more if you like. The peaches should be freestones, fully ripe, but very firm. Clings may be used but are more trouble to peel and eat. The actual amount of syrup needed depends upon the size of the fruit and tightness of pack. Make syrup by pouring equal measures of sugar and water into wide pan or saucepot and boiling for 3 or 4 minutes; keep hot until needed. Wash and drain peaches. Put 8 or 9 in wire basket or in center of large square of cheesecloth, lower into boiling water to loosen skins. Let stay ½ to 1 minute (½ minute is usually enough), then quickly dip peaches into cold water. To prevent darkening, have ready a container of cold water with 1 tablespoon each of salt and vinegar to 2 quarts of water. Remove skin and drop peaches into the salt-vinegar water.

Bring syrup to boiling, add one layer of peaches, and let boil gently for 5 minutes. Transfer peaches to jar, leaving ¾ inch headspace. When all peaches have been pre-cooked and put into jars, add brandy and fill jars to ⅛ inch of top with boiling hot syrup in which the peaches were heated.

Wipe off anything spilled on top or threads of jar. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight. Process 20 minutes in boiling water.

PEACH MARMALADE

When cooking is stopped at the right point, this marmalade is neither stiff nor runny. It is not advisable to increase recipe. That would require longer cooking and result in a darker product. Cook up an extra batch of this pretty good-tasting marmalade, put it in those ½ pint jelly jars of the quilted crystal design, and you will be well fixed when in need of a small gift.

For about 3 pints you will need:

- 1 large seedless orange
- 7 cups prepared peaches — takes about 3 pounds
- 5½ to 6 cups sugar — use 6 if extra sweet product is liked
- 2 tablespoons juice from the maraschino cherries
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup chopped maraschino cherries

Use sharp knife to remove thin, yellow part of orange rind — discard yellow. Chop or thinky slice rest of orange and cook with 1½ cups water until soft. Then, press it through an ordinary wire strainer — do not drain off liquid.

Wash, rinse, drain and scald peaches to loosen skins. Discard skins and pits. Cut peach halves in about ¼-inch slices; cut slices in 3 or 4 pieces before measuring. Shake measure to settle peaches.

Pour all ingredients, except cherries, into kettle. Boil rapidly, stirring often, for 15 minutes. Add cherries and continue boiling almost to jellying point or until syrup spreads very little when spoonful of hot marmalade is dropped onto a cold saucer. Quickly skim off foam and pour hot marmalade to about ⅛ inch of top of pint or half-pint jar.

Wipe off anything spilled on top or threads of jar. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight. Invert jars 2 or 3 minutes; then, stand them upright to cool. If fruit rises from bottom, let cool for 30 or 40 minutes; then, shake jars to redistribute fruit through syrup.

TODAY'S NEW LAMB

When the fire glows just right, place tender, young lamb on the grill. Hear that sizzle. Smell that appetizing aroma. It's just a hint of the good lamb taste to come!

LAMB 'N CORN OUTDOOR GRILL
(makes 2 to 4 servings)

- ¼ cup melted butter
- ⅓ cup chili sauce
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 4 ears corn
- 4 loin lamb chops, ¾-inch thick

Combine butter, chili sauce, sugar and vinegar and brush the mixture over corn, saving some of it. Wrap each ear individually in heavy duty aluminum foil. Cook corn on outdoor grill 4 inches over coals 30 minutes or until kernels are tender, turning occasionally. Ten or 15 minutes before corn is ready, brush lamb with some of the chili sauce mixture. Broil chops beside the corn 5 to 7 minutes on each side or until as done as you like them. As the lamb cooks, brush it frequently with remaining chili sauce mixture. Serve with corn.

Always ask your meat cutter . . . be sure you are buying only top quality American lamb . . . full of flavor . . . always tender . . . and always fresh. Delicious American lamb reaches you in a matter of days direct from American farms and ranches at the peak of freshness.

A Tour Of European Nursery Schools

By BETTY FROST

A well known Marin nursery school educator, Mrs. Robert Bastian of Belvedere, has just finished a tour of England and the Scandinavian countries with a group to study methods of education of young children. And she found that the children's programs were often "innovative in approach and equipment."

She said that programs for children 3 to 7 years old were not confined to a school situation but also used parks, playgrounds, institutions such as hospitals, and some involved community living situations.

The traditional European education often nostalgically honored in this country as a criterion of excellence may have to be reviewed, Mrs. Bastian indicated.

"There seem to be many misconceptions about traditional European methods. They have a well-established policy and have been teaching for years the same innovative programs that we have been trying to introduce in Marin County, such as the one in the Reed School District, emphasizing individual progress in ungraded classes which has been criticized so severely by the public," she stated.

THE SIX UNIT postgraduate course in Comparative Education of Young Children presented by the University of California at Santa Barbara gave the 25 qualified students a month tour. Two weeks were spent in England, and two in Norway, Sweden and Denmark. Lectures by educational experts in those countries supplemented the visits to facilities.

Mrs. Bastian is executive director of the Belvedere Nursery School, Inc., which includes the Belvedere Nursery School, Tiburon Peninsula Nursery School, Hawthorne Nursery School, and the founder of the Marin Child Development Center in Tiburon. She also assisted with the establishment of Tamalpais and Maringate Nursery Schools and serves as executive director of both.

The summer travel course gave Mrs. Bastian the last required units for an M.A. degree in nursery education at San Francisco State College which will be completed when she finishes her thesis.

In the London area the class observed programs for young children of economically deprived families, programs for handicapped children and use of playgrounds for children and adult education. Of special interest was the "One o'clock Club," where mothers with youngest children, from infants through 3 years of age, meet for discussions, craft programs and other supervised activities while their children play. These programs are sponsored by the government department of education.

"It is designed to strengthen family life and give mothers a chance for some social activity, and provide one excellent answer to the isolation of an urban setting," Beverly Bastian noted.

OTHER PLAYGROUND programs, set outdoors in good weather and in field houses in bad weather, are Play Parks and an Adventure Play program. "The equipment is not all set in concrete or sand," Mrs. Bastian explained, and the children, under guidance, set their own pace, using the materials at hand and creating an imaginary world out of such simple equipment as ropes and ladders.

In London the modern programs are often held in old buildings. The Americans also visited the suburban community of Oxfordshire, which reminded Mrs. Bastian of Marin. Here they found modern, well built schools with all-purpose rooms, patios, bright, wide hallways used as art galleries and libraries with reading corners. Each classroom was self-sustaining, with its own bathroom facilities, work benches, craft centers, and sinks. They practice what they call "family grouping" with children 5, 6 and 7 years old in the same room. The classes are often as large as 40, with one master teacher and one or two trained aides assisting.

Aides, called "nursery nurses" in England, receive a two-year technical training course in child development and are employed at schools, nursery schools, playgrounds, hospitals, and sometimes as governesses. Although Birmingham and Nottingham are industrial cities, "they are not as pressed with slum-urban problems as London," Mrs. Bastian said.

INTERPRETERS WERE assigned to the group of students in the Scandinavian countries. In these countries formal schooling does not begin until age 7. However there is great emphasis on child care. There is a creche, giving care for children from six weeks to 2 years, a nursery for

Fifty Years Ago They Were Secretly Wed In San Rafael

"It all began on the steps of the Marin County Court House . . . no, it was actually in Idora Park in Oakland," Mrs. Walter Diss reminisces.

On Aug. 27, 1919, she was wed to Walter Diss in a ceremony performed at the court house in the chambers of Judge Herbert de la Montanya. The couple were introduced just six weeks before in the skating rink at Idora Park by a mutual friend.

Fifty years later the couple returned to visit the court house with their only daughter, Mrs. John Friend of Corte Madera. The exterior of the court house has not changed since their marriage, and the years have been good to the couple; he appears younger than his 72 years, and she is a youthful looking 71-year-old.

At the time of their marriage Mr. Diss was in the Navy, stationed at Mare Island. His bride-to-be lived in San Francisco, but they decided to be married in San Rafael because they wanted to keep it a secret.

"He was in the Navy, and I didn't think my family would approve of my marrying a sailor," she says.

"But she couldn't keep it a secret and told her sister a week later," he comments.

They took the train from San Francisco to San Rafael for the wedding.

"It cost 40 cents," Mrs. Diss recalls. "And we got the last train back to the city because they called a railroad strike that day."

Mrs. Diss was born in Mission San Jose (now Freemont) and reared in San Francisco. Walter Diss is a native of Horton, Kans., but moved to Salida, Colo., with his family when he was nine years old.

On a trip in 1965 the Disses returned to find the home where he was born was still standing. The six-week-trip took them to 17 states, where they toured national parks and historical monuments, stopping along the way to visit old friends.

The couple have lived in San Francisco all of their married life except for a year from 1924-25 when Mr. Diss had a plumbing and heating business on Fourth Street in San Rafael, Marin County Gas and Appliance Company. With the closing of the business, the family moved back to San Francisco, where he was able to find work as a plumber, his occupation until seven years ago when he retired.

Mrs. Diss enjoys church activities, knitting and sewing. She makes many of her granddaughter's clothes, including the dress Denise wore when she was married recently to William Moore. The other Diss grandchildren are Dale, who is in Vietnam, and Stephen, Michael and Kevin Friend, all students at Redwood High School.

"Eight or 10 weeks before I got married I told my father I was never going to get married," says Mr. Diss. Fifty years later he's glad he did. "I always told the truth to my wife. When we got married I told her I had a trade, and I did."

Reflecting on the 50 years, Mrs. Diss comments, "He always kissed me good night, and he has a sense of humor. When we were first married we had nothing, nothing but we had fun. We went to friends' homes and played cards, ate doughnuts and drank coffee and enjoyed the simple pleasures of life."

The couple has not quite decided how they will spend their anniversary day.

"We are just glad to be healthy enough to enjoy it," Mrs. Diss says.

MR. AND MRS. Walter Diss of San Francisco will celebrate their 50th anniversary Aug. 27. They recently visited the Marin County Court House, where their marriage took place, and were amazed to see how little the structure has changed in 50 years. Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

FOLLOWING THEIR marriage 50 years ago this month Mr. and Mrs. Walter Diss posed for a photographer on the steps of the Marin County Court House.

Kenyon Spaldings Vacation While Son Is On Study Trip Abroad

By MOLLY MARIN

The Kenyon Spaldings of Mill Valley took an extensive vacation themselves after seeing their son Peter, 15, off in New York City on a study trip to Russia and other countries.

Especially interested in languages, Peter, who is a sophomore at Drew School in San Francisco, studied some Russian and German in school. After visiting Paris, Stockholm, Copenhagen and Helsinki, he will study Russian in Leningrad three weeks and then go on to Moscow, Warsaw, Yalta, Vilanus and Kiev, before returning home.

The Spaldings visited relatives in New York and Vermont and friends in Colorado. In the Performing Arts Center at Saratoga Springs near Schnectady, N.Y., they saw ballets in which Conrad Ludlow, formerly of Mill Valley and now an internationally known dancer, performed.

In Burlington, Vt., they were surprised to find everyone familiar with the "Save-the-Bay" battle and saw Joe Bodovitz and Peter Behr on television.

Their only unfortunate experience was getting caught in the flood at Philadelphia, Pa. Before returning they visited in Colorado Springs with the Robert Randolphs, formerly of Mill Valley.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA was the vacation spot for Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan and Mrs. Wilma Anderson of the Marin Country Club Estates in Novato and the three granddaughters of Mrs. Anderson, April Achen of Lincoln, Neb., and Leslie and Laurie Clayton of Omaha. Hearst Castle and Disneyland were among the points of interest visited.

AFTER A WEDDING trip to Lake Tahoe Lt. and Mrs. Donald Leo Ducey (Virginia Slattery) are en route to Germany, where Lieutenant Ducey will be stationed with the U.S. Army. They were married at Mission San Rafael Arcangel in San Rafael in July. Virginia is the daughter of the William J. Slatterys of San Rafael and her husband is the son of Col. and Mrs. Donald L. Ducey of Ft. Baker. He was graduated from Albuquerque University and she from the College of Marin.

A SAN FRANCISCO Yacht Club women's crew will represent California in Adams Cup finals at the Fort Worth Boat Club in Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 25-28.

Skipper Martha McDougle, who took three out of four races in the semi-finals at Seal Beach Yacht Club in Long Beach last week will go on to Texas for the Women's North American Sailing Championships. Martha, who first came to Belvedere as an Adams Contestant from Rochester, N.Y. Yacht Club in 1966, and decided to remain in California, also was the area representative a year ago at Bay Head, N.J., finishing a strong second.

Crewing for Martha will be Ann Elder of San Francisco and Connie Strong of Tiburon, with Mrs. Edwin Green of San Francisco as alternate.

Rhodes 19 class yachts will be used on the lake at Fort Worth. The SFYC lady captain regularly races her own Rhodes 19 in bay competition with an all girl crew dressed alike in pink slacks and jackets.

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Husband Who Reads Constantly May Be Hiding From Life

DEAR HELEN:

My husband can't keep his nose out of a book. He has an addiction to reading that won't quit and he'll read anything, even to the new mail order catalog — cover to cover.

He reads the cereal boxes at the breakfast table, after he finishes the newspaper; takes a book to work, reads timetables, and bulletin boards. He carries his lunch and reads while he's eating his sandwiches.

As soon as he gets home, he plunks down on the couch and — instead of going to sleep like normal husbands — he reads He can't resist the current book or magazine, so his bedside lamp is on half the night. He even reads books in his dreams, as he talks about them while sleeping.

I'm getting tired of seeing only a book where there once was a face, and I'm sure our five children would like to become better acquainted with their Dad.

Is there such a thing as Readers Anonymous?—WIFE OF A READING ADDICT.

DEAR WIFE:

Sorry, I've never heard of Readers Anonymous.

I'd guess your husband's addiction is as much a cover-up as love of words. When people don't want to face life, they often hide behind reading matter — or television — or a solitary hobby which keeps them apart. A partial cure might be in getting him to discuss his books with you.

On the other hand: Better a book worm than a pub crawler. Right? — H.

P.S. Buy several books on "how to make the most out of marriage" — aimed at men — and spot them around his easy chair. An avid reader should assimilate ideas!

DEAR HELEN:

Earlier this summer a writer complained about the rough fine he got for driving while drunk. It could have been worse. Tom Arden, in the Sacramento Bee says:

So you were stopped by the highway patrol. So you were arrested, put in jail and had to spend the night there. So the judge fined you $289 plus costs. So the boss gave you a good chewing out. Well pal, you never had it so good . . .

In San Salvador, you would be executed by a firing squad.

In Turkey, you would be taken 20 miles away by the police and forced to walk back — under escort.

In Malaya, you would be jailed and, if you are married, your wife would be too.

In South Africa, you would be jailed for 10 years or fined $2,800, or both.

In Sweden, one drink would get you three weeks in jail. — READER.

VIVID VEGETABLES

by Laura Wheeler

Surprise a weekend hostess, delight a bride, make your own family happy with these motifs on towels, cloth.

Let a child help you embroider vivid vegetables in easy stitches. Pattern 518: six 6½x8" motifs, directions.

Vinyl Placemats

Wash both sides of a foam-backed vinyl placemat. A stain which appears to be on the vinyl side may be imbedded in the foam. A vegetable brush dipped in soap or detergent suds makes an effective scrubber for this purpose.

CHANEL

Chanel likes the knee-length in this beige suit revealed this week during the showing of her fall-winter collection in Paris. The skirt, pleated in the front is worn with a pale green sleeveless blouse. The belt and necklace are gold chains.

New Folk Dance Club President Is Finbar O'Driscoll Of Tiburon

FINBAR O'DRISCOLL

Finbar O'Driscoll of Tiburon a member of the group three years, is the new president of the Marin Whirlaways.

As most folk dance groups, the Whirlaways' main objectives are the promotion of cultural and recreational enjoyment through folk dancing.

Their special activity is in connection with weekly classes held at 8 p.m. Wednesdays at Carpenters Hall in San Rafael, and high points of the year are the President's Ball, the Marin Folk Dance Festival and the Karlstad Ball.

Born and educated in Ireland, O'Driscoll is also active in the All Ireland Club and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

He is employed as an electrician and he and his family, which includes three daughters, Margaret Mary, Anne Elizabeth and Maureen Agnes, have lived in Marin three years.

The new president's other interests are tennis, sport fishing and Irish cooking.

Serving with his as officers will be Frank Corno of Tiburon, vice president; and Mrs. George Robertson of Mill Valley, secretary-treasurer.

Marriage Trends

MANILA (UPI)—Filipinos generally marry at an early age, according to marriage trends gathered by the Bureau of Census and Statistics. Between the ages of 15 and 24, more than seven out of 10 females and more than five out of 10 males get married.

SCHOOLS

3 to 5 year olds and a kindergarten for 5 to 7 year olds. Day care for working parents is provided through the Ministry of Family and Consumer affairs in these countries.

Playgrounds sponsored by the local government and supervised by recreational specialists are available for children up to 14 years old. They build their "own towns" and have the opportunity to make their own little retreats, which they may keep for as long as six months. In some of the parks the children raise vegetables and there are farm animals.

"Every kind of creative play is available — art, drama, carpentry," the Belvedere woman said. "There is no litter in the parks. The children police themselves. The people take a healthy pride in their parks."

Mrs. Bastian was particularly impressed with a facility for single women with young children in Norway. The mothers, unmarried, widowed or divorced, were assigned flats where they and their children could live from one to three years. Each had a small bedroom for the child, a kitchen and a studio room for the mother. The women shared common rooms, including laundry, dining room, large kitchen for cooking for social occasions, lobby for meeting and television room. The women were taught to become self-sufficient, and child care was available for them while they trained for future careers. After 10 years of operation the program was assessed and it was found that 70 per cent of the women were still following the careers they had trained for while staying at this institution. In the Scandinavian countries there are few adoptions, so the mother's preparation for a good future gives family stability.

"These were model facilities," Mrs. Bastian said, "with trained teachers or nurses caring for the children."

"THE WHOLE program, facilities, goals, training and family involvement, reflected great concern for the human values of childhood. Both in England and Scandinavia adults really appreciated children. They seemed to respect them; they did not use them or exploit them," Mrs. Bastian summed up. "It is an atmosphere in which everyone is thriving."

Doudiet-Stevenson Rite Held

Janet Carol Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Stevenson of San Anselmo, became the bride of James T. Doudiet of San Francisco in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at the Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

A reception at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax followed the ceremony.

The bride's sister, Mrs. A. Robert Taylor of Neward, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Allen Cristofani of San Francisco; Mrs. James Streets of Riverside; Florence Kuhl of Pennington, N. J.; and Patricia Young of Pasadena.

Thomas Doudiet was his brother's best man, and Allen Cristofani, Michael Stern of San Francisco, Phil M. Bitter of Fresno and Ronald Himes of Walnut Creek ushered guests to their seats.

The couple will live in San Francisco following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Reno.

The bride was graduated from Central Regional High School of Hopewell Township in Pennington, Contra Costa Junior College and Kaiser Foundation School of Nursing in Oakland.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Doudiet of San Francisco. He was graduated from George Washington High School in San Francisco and received a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering and a master's degree in business administration from the University of California. Mrs. Eva Parks of Felton and Mrs. Yvonne Doudiet of San Francisco are his grandmothers. He is employed by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Francisco.

Petaluma Education Costs Hike Tax Rate

The Petaluma Board of Education last night adopted budgets for the high school and elementary districts that will probably raise taxes rates by 28 and 31 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The high school budget of $4,554,900 was unchanged from the publication budget but $626,581 higher than the 1968-69 budget. George W. Castleberry, business manager, said the present total tax rate for the district will probably climb by 28 cents from $2.33 per $100 assessed valuation to $2.61.

The elementary district budget of $2,333,728 was $20,900 higher than the publication budget. Castleberry said the additional cost related to making provisions for displaced students at the Penngrove School which had been declared unsafe under state earthquake regulations.

The budget represents an increase of $212,813 over the 1968-69 budget. Castleberry estimated the elementary district tax rate would increase by 31 cents from $2.11 to $2.42 per assessed valuation.

Castleberry said the tax rate was still not firm because the Sonoma County assessor's office had not yet provided school district and cities with new assessed valuation figures. Noting that figures are usually known more in advance, he said that data processing problems had caused the delay.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

PENNGROVE — Heard a report from Superintendent Lesly H. Meyer that four classes from the unsafe Penngrove School will be transferred to extra rooms and the multi-use room at the Cherry Valley School and that additional space is being sought for the fifth class.

BUS AID — Awarded a contract for the purchase of a 67 passenger diesel engine bus to the Sanderson Ford Motor Co. Petaluma at $12,747.

FIELD LIGHTS — Awarded a contract for the renovation of lighting on the Webster Street side of Durst Field at Petaluma Senior High School to Reliance Enterprises at a low bid of $12,774.

INSURANCE — Awarded the contract for district fire insurance to the Continental Insurance Co. through the Carpenter Agency at an annual cost of $15,864 and liability insurance to the United Pacific Insurance Co. Through the John J. King Agency at an annual cost of $13,063.

EMPLOYED — Hired teachers Sylvia Benn at $9,249; Pattie Jo Tower at $9,620; Michael Severson at $7,290 and Shirley Spina as a temporary part-time teacher at $914.

Festival Theater Slates Foreign Cartoon, Drama

Drama, songs and foreign cartooning will be presented by the San Anselmo Festival Theater during a three-day event beginning Friday.

Friday at 9 p.m. at the theater, Gerry Hiken and Paul Richards will present "Freeway," a mixture of various theatrical elements blended by the two Broadway and Hollywood veterans.

Saturday, the Magic Theater of Berkeley will present the Marin premiere of three one-act plays. Two of these are by playwright Michael McClure.

The Berkeley Theater presentation will be held in Alexander Hall, 30 Kensington Road, San Anselmo, and will begin at 9 p.m. A 7:30 p.m. dinner will precede the plays. Tickets must be reserved one day in advance.

A Japanese cartoon will also be shown Saturday at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. as part of the children's film series. The feature length film, titled "The Littlest Warrior," deals with 11th Century noblemen and their families.

The annual excess inventory costume sale will be held Sunday at the festival theater between 2 and 10 p.m.

Hundreds of costumes, medieval to modern, and countless accessories will be offered.

The theater is located at 27 Kensington Road in San Anselmo.

Young Poets To Read At Library

Five young poets from Santa Barbara and Marin County will read their own works at a poetry session at 8 p.m. on Aug. 15 at the Mill Valley Library.

All the poets are unpublished, according to Miss Brown, who is organizing the reading which she said is designed to encourage young poets. Other poets also are invited to read their works, she said.

ART REVIEW

Litterscapes Prompt The Question 'Why?'

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Robert Biancalana's current tack is creating "plastic constructions of lost and forgotten objects overgrown by a green plastic world." His exhibit this month at Anima Mundi, 352 Miller Ave., Mill Valley, proves his idea to be unusual and bright. His execution is also technically admirable but the impact, at times, is curiously empty.

The idea of recreating scale models of ground using grim dimestore plastic greenery plus the actual litter we humans have cast upon the earth does have fascination. Admittedly, there is a certain curiousity value in seeing the kind of crud with which we decorate our world. And if your eye for natural beauty says that mangled rubber balls, bottle caps, pencils and rusted junk are appropriate to it, then rocks and greenery might as well be plastic.

Biancalana is scrupulous in his rendering of it. Rock is hard and coarse, dirt is dirty junk is the real thing and the plastic growth which springs from earth or stone makes the same determined effort at obscuring the assorted thrown-aways in the artist's constructions as it does in nature.

Biancalana doesn't limit himself to any terrain. He swings from voluptuous, green contours to bleak rock and junk-strewn mud flats, organizing it all with a designer's eye and laying in areas of contrast to form strong geometric patterns.

Sometimes the results are striking as in one where simulated auto parts are arranged in fat rounded chunks of rust and glazed blue-greens within a dirt-frosted patch of plastic ground cover. And in his one-time use of hot color, a battered red tin can becomes a sharp accent for simple shapes of green and stone.

These, in particular, seem to rise above their medium's plastic interest, having a usage and control of form which is a pleasure to study for the sake of itself. In these, Biancalana has obviously manipulated the landscape to satisfy his own artistic standards.

In a few others, the standards seem happenstance — so literal that the landscape could have been dug up and framed as it is. They are too right, too perfect and because of it an original idea becomes simply a copy of something. For all the polish, there is too much duplication and not enough artist. And for some of Biancalana's depth, the immediate reaction to that is, "Why?"

Prosecution Ordered To Reveal Olompali Informer

The Marin County district attorney's office was warned in Marin Superior Court yesterday that it must reveal the name of a confidential informant or face dismissal of marijuana charges against Donald C. McCoy Jr. and 10 other residents of the Rancho Olompali commune.

After a day-long examination of a sheriff's inspector by defense attorneys, Judge Joseph G. Wilson continued the preliminarty hearing to Sept. 11, at which time, he said, he will dismiss the charges unless the prosecution identifies the informant, whose reports of marijuana and drugs at the ranch led to a June 9 raid which netted the 11 defendents.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino and Inspector Harry E. Bock spent yesterday fighting defense attempts to learn the man's name. Zunino said revealing it would endanger the man's life. Brock cited sections of the evidence code in withholding the name.

Bock also said the informant has provided information in two other narcotics raids. The informant presumably would be useless in future undercover work if his identity becomes known.

Defense lawyers said the entire prosecution case was based on the informant's information, and said they needed to know who he was in order to prepare their defense.

To the defense said the informant would have to testify in the pending trial to link most of the defendants with the marijuana and narcotics seized, because only two defendants reportedly had contraband found on their persons.

The others were linked by officers to contraband found around the ranch, and three defendants were away from the ranch during the raid.

Two persons arrested during the raid are no longer involved in the case. A marijuana possession charge against James Edward Bartee, 23, has been dismissed, and Carol Lee Garret, 30, was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court for probable dismissal of a marijuana possession charge.

Freeway Transit Lane Bill Passes

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to authorize exclusive or preferential use of freeway lanes for buses has cleared the Legislature and gone to the governor for signing into law. (Other Legislature stories on pages 6 and 7.)

This use of freeway lanes long has been advocated by mass transportation advocates in the Marin-San Francisco corridor, but state Department of Public Works attorneys ruled special legislation was needed before the department legally could set aside a lane for buses.

The bill, SB 43 by Sen. Tom Carrell, D-San Fernando, declares that "the investment made in this (freeway) system requires that it be used as effectively as possible to provide an efficient transit method." It provides that both public and private agencies furnishing mass public transportation will be eligible under the bill's provisions.

The Assembly amended the bill to have it expire in 1975, and to require the department then to recommend whether the experiment should be made permanent.

Similar bills by Carrell were defeated in past legislative sessions, but the Department of Public Works supported the measure this year for the first time.

Sausalito Eases Law On Political Handbills

Apparently embarrassed by the arrest 11 days ago of a Corte Madera woman for distributing anti-ABM handbills, the Sausalito City Council last night moved to limit sharply its handbill ordinance so it applies only to advertising or commercial handbills.

Frances Steadman was arrested July 26 for distributing the handbills, but City Atty. Leland H. Jordan appeared in court July 29 and asked dismissal of the complaint because court decisions have held that anti-pamphlet ordinances cannot ban handbills dealing with political or social issues.

Jordan last night gave the council an amendment which would limit the ordinance to banning distribution of advertising or commercial handbills without a city permit.

The council postponed action only because it wanted another limit added — a specific section saying the ordinance will not apply to religious handbills or pamphlets.

Jordan said he will prepare the additional change for the next council meeting Aug. 19.

Irving R. Cohen, chairman of the Marin chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, applauded the council's apparent desire to amend the ordinance and offered to set up an ACLU seminar on the constitution and civil liberties for the police department and any other city employees, at no cost to the city.

The council also received a letter from Gregoire F. Gallipeau of San Francisco, objecting to Mrs. Steadman's arrest and saying he would "spend tourist dollars elsewhere . . . while Naziism exists and is tolerated in your city."

The Sausalito City Council

The Sausalito City Council Also:

WATERFRONT PLAN — Set public hearings on the long-awaited central waterfront plan for 8 p.m. Sept. 18, 23 and 25.

BRIDGEWAY — Awarded a contract for bridgeway widening between Olive Street and the north city limits to Ghilotti Brothers, low bidder among three bids at $39,836. The figure excludes three alternates, construction of a bus stop at Nevada Street, building underground foundations for street lights, and providing topsoil for center islands. Public Works Director Norman Wonischlaeger said the alternates will be handled as separate projects.

MINIBOARD — Accepted the resignation of Jean Fischer from the human rights miniboard. She said the board "seems to have dissolved" and that she "didn't seem to be accomplishing anything" by being a member.

RECREATION — Accepted the resignation of teen recreation director Richard Paris, who cited "personal and financial reasons" for leaving the post.

ELEPHANTS — Referred to the recreation commission a proposal by Anker Enterprises to clean and plastic coat the fountain, elephants, steps and war monument at Vina Del Mar Plaza for $2,500.

PARKING — Authorized a restaurant run by George Hernandez at 300 Valley Street to open at 1 p.m. Sundays instead of 5. The restaurant is limited to opening at 5 p.m. other days to avoid overcrowding parking used by other commercial tenants at the shopping center.

DOG ORDINANCE — Approved a joint powers agreement with Marin County on dog control.

FIRE ENGINE — Agreed to sell the motor and transmission from an old fire truck, used as a children's plaything in a small park near the fire station, to Jack Dupen, owner of the Red Garter Bar in San Francisco, for $50. Dupen said he wants to rebuild the machinery for another antique fire truck he has with no engine. The machinery is unused now since the truck hood is welded shut to prevent injury to children.

PUC — Ordered a letter sent to the Public Utilities Commission backing the League of California Cities proposal that utility companies speed up the schedule for undergrounding utilities throughout the state.

SEWER — Took no action on a request for condemnation on a sewer easement crossing property of Paul B. Meserve and Dale H. Hawkins at 494 Sausalito Boulevard. Attorneys for the two and for Mrs. Bernice Andron argued nearly an hour on the complex case and the council finally told the parties to prepare a list of alternative solutions and the objections to them for the council to consider later.

TRAILER — Told Jordan to write to Carl Marino, operator of the Mohawk Service Station at Gate 5, turning down his request to use a trailer there as a temporary office. Use of trailers is banned in the city, Jordan advised the council.

Convention Prospects In Marin Promise A Healthy Money Tree

Marin's convention business has taken off with a boom — and more is expected as facilities are developed.

"It means a lot of dough for the community that we never had before," said Carroll A. Snyker, manager of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau.

Twelve conventions, with about 1,750 persons expected, are already scheduled in the next nine months at the recently opened Holiday Inn, San Rafael, currently Marin's only large convention facility.

Among the groups scheduled are the Redwood Empire Association, the Golden Gate Dachshund Club, the Northern California Independent Retail Shoe Seminar and the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Holiday Inn is booked almost solid all the time, averaging 97 per cent occupancy, Snyker reported.

Richard Emil, manager of the Holiday Inn reported about 60 banquets and meetings were booked when the facility opened and there has been an average of one group a day since.

He reported plans for the second phase of construction, with 130 more rooms, more conference rooms, enlarged banquet facilities and cocktail lounge, are expected soon, though a definite date has not been set.

Snyker said its success will probably "make it a good precedent for other institutions."

Snyker said the center is planned to serve about 200 persons, with facilities for meeting, eating and sleeping.

He said the center will be geared to scientific, professional and technical conferences since Commerce Clearing House, a publishing firm which is developing the property, concentrates primarily on professional and technical publications.

Snyker said the combination of the Holiday Inn, the Quail Hill project and the Veterans Memorial Auditorium on the Civic Center grounds will provide flexible and complementary facilities.

"This doesn't happen very often," he said.

Snyker said Ben A. Farlatti's Tiburon Lodge handles small meetings of not more than 60 or 70 persons and there is a possibility that the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera and Rancho Rafael in Ignacio, both of which have recently changed hands, could be developed to handle convention business.

Also being sought is a Howard Johnson restaurant and motel at Richardson Bay Bridge.

"After praying and working for this for so many years we're beginning to see results," Snyker said happily.

Rafferty Says Grand Jury Did Not Ask Investigation

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, said today that his office's investigation of the Sausalito public schools was not undertaken at request of the Marin County Grand Jury.

A story yesterday, carried by the Independent-Journal through a series of errors as a "special to the I-J" report, quoted Rafferty as saying he had instituted an investigation of the hiring of William Bradley (also known as Chaka), an uncredentiated teacher, at grand jury request.

Rafferty said his office "has received a lot of complaints from Sausalito."

He said that as results of complaints that the Black Panther Party was propagandizing school children at its free breakfasts, he sent his assitant, James M. Hemphill, to investigate. Hemphill spent two days in Sausalito and reported he found no propagandizing, the state superintendent said.

"We also got complaints about Bradley," said Rafferty. "In this matter, however, I did not send an investigator. We asked the county superintendent, Virgil Hollis, to look into this. Virgil reported he had received assurance from the school district officials that Bradley was serving as a teacher's aide, with a certificated teacher in charge. I also received such assurances in a letter from the district."

Rafferty said the quotation ascribed to him yesterday, "If this is not true, we have been lied to," was "essentially correct."

The state superintendent said a member of the Marin County Grand Jury called at his office several months ago "and asked for a lot of information, all of which we provided." He said, however, that his investigation of the Black Panther breakfasts and his request that Hollis investigate the employment of Bradley did not result from grand jury requests.

Teacher Hearing Set In Red Guard Uproar

San Rafael Board of Education agreed last night to hold a closed session but set no date to hear charges against a San Rafael High School teacher who permitted two Chinese Red Guards to address his classes and distribute Maoist propaganda. (Other San Rafael Board of Education stories on page 10.)

A group of residents formed as the Concerned Parents Association, seeking to have the social studies teacher, Angelo Duovos, fired, asked by letter for the closed session at last night's board meeting.

The association contended that Duovos violated the state education code, has shown disrespect for students and parents, and was deficient in judgment and that the material distributed by the two Red Guards from San Francisco was obscene.

Supt. John F. Plank said the quality of education in Duovos's classes has been "well above average," and aside from the Red Guard incident in May there was no known violation of board policy or education code.

Duovos made a mistake and has apologized and "it seems to me the incident should be closed," Plank said.

Board member Paul L. Jones said that since the protesting group is still concerned, the requested hearing should be held, noting the board has responsibility to the community as well as to teachers, and other board members concurred.

Sausalito Council Backs Patterson

Sausalito City councilmen rapped the Independent-Journal's knuckles last night as they defended City Mgr. George M. Patterson, calling him "a man of unquestionable honesty and integrity."

The council passed a resolution supporting Patterson and objecting to "innuendo" in an I-J editorial Friday about Patterson, the council and an unannounced closed meeting to choose a new councilman.

The editorial took Patterson to task for his role in a dispute over the Ralph M. Brown Act regarding the closed meeting. Patterson had said the city had never received notice from the I-J asking 24 hours notice of closed meetings, and that he had therefore advised the council it did not have to provide such notice for the meeting at which Wyman Hicks was chosen to succeed George C. Hoffman.

The I-J contention was that the letter was sent in 1967. The editorial said "Patterson's device of the missing letter" got the council off the hook as far as prosecution for a Brown Act violation was concerned.

Last night's resolution said the paper has "been unsuccessful in establishing to the satisfaction of anyone, except that of its own editorial staff, that such a letter request was given to the city.

Dist Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Thursday that in the absence of proof the letter was sent, there would be no prosecution under the Brown Act.

Larkspur School Trustees Trim $30,000 Off Budget

Larkspur School District trustees last night adopted a final budget totaling $1,661,186 for fiscal 1969-70, a cut of $29,922 under last year's $1,691,108.

The property tax rate is expected to lop one to four cents off the 1968-69 tax rate of $3.565 per $100 assessed valuation, Asst. Supt. Glibert L. Slusher said today.

The cut in the budget was possible largely because enrollment dropped by about 3 percent, Slusher said.

Slusher said that no major capital outlays are planned by the district.

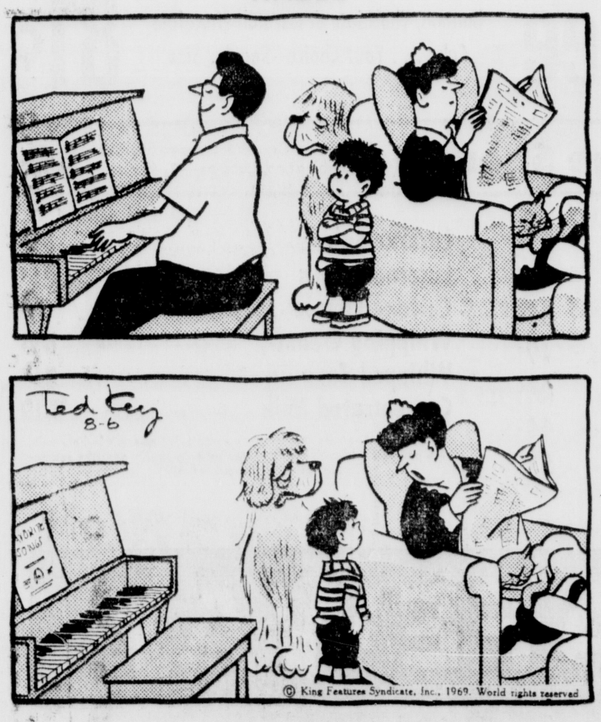
Larkspur School District Trustees also:

ORDINANCE — Passed an ordinance prohibiting golfing, motorcycle riding and driving unauthorized vehicles on school grounds in a routine action to comply with police department requests.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Boyd Welton, custodian at Neil Cummins Elementary School, and hired John Edmands to replace him at $460 per month.

HEALTH PLAN — Granted a request by 12 teachers to switch from the Blue Cross health plan to Kaiser health plan.

HAZEL



"Which is how YOU'LL sound if you don't practice."

Architects To Study Fairfax Park Plans

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night authorized Ribera and Sue landscaping architects of Oakland to begin a study of plans to improve Andy Peri Park.

According to Eleanora Edgar, secretary, the architects will begin their study at Bolinas Road and Elsie Lane and are expected to present a report at the commission's September meeting. The Fairfax Council has appropriated $2,500 in the 1969-70 budget for the initial study.

Personnel Meeting

Tamalpais High School District trustees will meet first in closed session at its 7:30 p.m. adjourned meeting tomorrow in the district office, Larkspur, then reconvene in open session. Both sessions are concerned with the hiring of personnel, Edward J. Neumeier, administrative assistant, reported.

Topic Of Sounding Board — Muir Beach

Future of Muir Beach under state management will be discussed tomorrow at 9 a.m. on the KTIM Sounding Board by Robert B. Hatch, district superintendent of the state Department of Parks and Recreation, two residents of Muir Beach, Mrs. Gordon Mosteller and Dr. Catherine Kirkman Bakhtiar with the fourth panelist to be announced.

Questions may be phoned during the live Thursday broadcast. The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer will be rebroadcast by tape recording, Sunday at 10:05 a.m.

Dixie Budget Likely To Boost Tax Rate

A 1969-70 budget of $3,925,000, up $328,000 from 1968-69, was adopted by trustees of the Dixie School District after a public hearing last night.

Asst. Supt. Joseph B. Goff estimated the new total tax rate in the district at $3.93 per $100 of assessed valuation, up 27 cents, with the general operating levy expected to reach the $3.35 maximum voted in the district three years ago.

District officials have said the budget increase is due to a projected student growth of 153 this fall and a 6 per cent increase in per-pupil costs.

The board said last night that budget reserves may shrink by more than $200,000 because of a small rise in assessed valuation and uncertainty over state aid.

The Dixie School District Board also:

EQUIPMENT — Authorized purchase of a new tractor with loader for nearly $4,500 from low bidder North Bay Tractor Co. of Petaluma and of a copying machine for the district office.

SUIT — Authorized the county counsel's office to file suit against the Marin Title Insurance Co. to claim interest earned on funds held in escrow more than two years for purchase of the Oak View School site.

APPOINTMENTS — Named Mrs. Lois Lucas as part-time library assistant at Nova Albion School at an annual salary of $1,574 and hired five teachers, Patricia Howlett, at an annual salary of $9,160, and Holly Bowen, Susan Schroth and Carol Weisenburg, each at $7,120.

$1,000 In Prizes In Arts Festival

A total of $1,000 in awards will be presented to winners in the juried art show of the Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival to be held Oct. 11 and 12 in Old Mill Park, according to Anne Coggins, publicity chairman.

Prizes $100 for first place, $75 for second place and $50 for third place will be presented to winners in the painting, sculpture, crafts graphic-photography categories.

In addition, special prizes, including purchase awards, will be donated by Mill Valley merchants. The Evans Memorial Award of $100 will be given to the artist whose work most reflects the spirit of Mill Valley.

Small Dillon Beach Area Forms For Sewer Service

An improvement district to furnish sewer service to 48 lots north of Dillon Beach, was approved last night by the North Marin County Water District board, according to Manager Eugene Churchill.

Formation of the district was requested by Bodega Bay Lands Inc.

Last night's action does not preclude the formation of a larger district later to include more of Dillon Beach, if the residents so wish, Churchill said.

The North Marin County Water District board also:

MAINTENANCE AGREEMENT — Approved a joint agreement on the emergency exchange use of equipment and manpower with the Marin Municipal Water District and the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Control District.

CONTRACT — Awarded a $4,231 contract to Loggers and Contractors Machinery Co. of Oakland, lowest of four qualifying bidders, for an air compressor.

AGREEMENTS — Approved construction agreements with Bahia Del Norte Corp. to add 39 services to its Unit 1B and for the extension of 400 feet of main on San Ramon Way in San Marin.

BONDS — Approved having the Bank of America, bond agent for the district, register bonds when requested. The district recently received its first request to have the bonds registered and this was not in the agreement with the bank, Churchill said.

Wife Seeks Divorce From Alto Principal

Dominick Bobbio, principal of Alto School in the Mill Valley School District, has been sued for divorce by his wife of 15 years, Gloria E. Bobbio.

The suit filed in Marin Superior Court asks custody of the couple's one child, Lisa Lynn, 13. Mrs. Bobbio also is seeking $350 a month alimony and $150 a month child support, an equitable division of unspecified community property, and an injunction against Bobbio from disposing of any community property pending settlement of the case.

Mini-Bike, Tools Reported Stolen

Two burglaries involving a loss of power tools and a mini-motorcycle were reported today by Larkspur police.

An impact wrench, air hammers and drills worth $500 and an undetermined amount of cash from an office safe were taken from Roy A. Padget's Philips 66 service station at 2070 Redwood Highway late Monday or early Tuesday, police said.

Burglars striking at approximately the same time a U-Drive Go Carts, 17 E. Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, ransacked a snack bar and stole a $150 mini-motorcycle from a storage garage.

Police did not know if the two burglaries were connected.

Sunbather Charged In Beach Disturbance

Philip H. Weyenberg, 24, of San Francisco, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of disturbing the peace Saturday at Muir Beach.

Weyenberg reportedly was sunbathing nude at the beach when deputies arrived to answer a citizen's complaint. He was ordered to appear Tuesday to plead to the charge.

Panel To Study Communication At State College

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A special committee of the California State College Board of trustees will study the status of communication now between students and administration at once troubled San Francisco State College.

The committee will meet soon with the college president, S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley and representatives of the Academic Senate, college deans and student groups.

Daniel H. Ridder, trustees chairman, said yesterday the committee will "determine the facts regarding and the status of channels of communication on campus" and recommend improvements if appropriate.

Ridder and state college Chancellor Glenn Dumke are ex-officio members of the committee. Other members are Charles Luckman, Los Angeles; Albert J. Ruffo, San Jose, and Theodore Meriam, Chico.

'Dark Of Moon' To Open Friday

A folk drama with music, "The Dark of the Moon," presented by the Homestead Valley Players, will open at 8:30 p.m. Friday at Brown's Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, for a four weekend run.

The drama based on the folk song, "Ballad of Barbara Allen," will be presented Friday and Saturday nights through August.

Charles Smith of Mill Valley and Don Eaton of Sausalito will direct the play about a male witch who wants to marry a human girl. Pat Bebout and Sue Lowry, both of Mill Valley, will produce the show.

Dennis Brown of Corte Madera, Jama Tegeler and John Evans of San Rafael, and Chris Bratt of Homestead Valley will perform the leading roles.

English Teacher To Be Judge Of Contest

Dr. Eugene Soules, chairman of the Sonoma State College English department, has been appointed as a judge of the achievement awards program for the National Council of Teachers of English.

Soules will participate in regional judging committees to evaluate the writing abilities of high school students and to recommend scholarships for winners.

Man Arraigned In Burglary Case

A San Francisco man was arraigned on a charge of burglary yesterday in Marin Municipal Court following his arrest in Corte Madera.

Wells was arrested with two companions after a San Rafael warehouse owner, Kenneth L. Silvestri, reported seeing the men leave his building after midnight. Silvestri described the men's car to police and a Corte Madera officer arrested them on a Highway 101 ramp.

No complaint was filed yesterday against the other two, Daniel K. Chisolm, 21, of South San Francisco, and Richard V. Reverdy, 21, of San Francisco.

Squirrel Causes Electrical Halt

A squirrel that tumbled into an electric power transformer caused 50 customers in the Bret Harte Road area to go without electric power for more than five hours yesterday.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. said the squirrel caused a section of line attached to the transformer to burn out at 8 a.m.

Power was restored to the area, which included sections of San Rafael, Larkspur and Greenbrae, at 1:30 p.m.

Lesser Counts Denied By Assault Suspect

Trial for Walter Christopher Shoemaker, 21, of Inverness, on charges of disturbing the peace and assault was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Shoemaker was jailed Saturday on suspicion of attempted rape of a 13-year-old girl in Inverness but was arraigned on the lesser charges. He pleaded innocent yesterday and was released on his own recognizance.

TREAT THE KIDS TO SHAKESPEARE!

And get in on the act yourself

And what better place to take them than to Forest Meadows Theatre in San Rafael, where Dominican College has built what is regarded as one of the most beautiful outdoor theatres in the world? (There's even a lake in front of the free-form stage!).

Browbeat the youngsters, then, into taking YOU, if you can't take them. You'll both be the better for it.

Cotati School Budget Leaves Tax Rate Same

Cotati School District Trustees last night adopted a budget of $1,051,867, expecting to continue the present tax rate of $2.06 per $100 assessed valuation.

The final budget was $12,186 higher than the publication budget, but nearly $30,000 lower than the 1968-69 budget.

Business Manager James Davidson said the budget anticipates a revenue of $1,064,093, but that state allocations and local assessed valuation figures were not yet known.

The Cotati School District trustees also:

VICE PRINCIPAL — Named Paul Percy as vice principal of the Waldo Rohnert School where he has been a teacher for the past several years. His starting salary will be $11,435.

LIBRARY — Acknowledged the receipt of an additional $100 for the Thomas Page School library from descendants of Thomas Page bringing the total contribution to $600.

REPRESENTATIVE —Named Trustee Bart C. Mitchell as the board representative on the Petaluma High School District citizens advisory committee.

MEETING — Set the next meeting for Aug. 26, at 7:30 p.m.

Auto, Bike Thefts Reported By Police

Police said a bicycle, valued at $50 and owned by Thomas P. Hannen of 216 Mountain View was stolen within the past three weeks from his home.

Pair Injured As Motorcycle Slips

A San Anselmo man and a San Rafael woman were injured when their motorcycle missed a curve on North San Pedro Road near Vendola Drive at 7:15 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Michael Wade Loftin, 22, of 4 Olive Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple cuts of the face, knees, legs and arms.

His passenger, Bonnie Joslyn, 33, of 869 Estancia, San Rafael, was treated for a cut knee and foot.

Mill Valley Panel Opposes Heliport Area Food Plans

A Colonel Sanders Kentucky fried chicken take out food restaurant should not be permitted adjacent to the heliport in Richardson Bay, the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee declared last night, according to Zoning Administrator Howard R. McGill.

The committee recommended that the Marin County planning commission deny the restaurant's application because of traffic, circulation and parking problems.

In addition, the committee criticized the esthetics of the proposed building and the lack of landscaping, McGill said.

The Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee also:

Two Injured In Auto Accident

Gregory Wayne Edwards, 18, of Carmichael, Sacramento County, was injured yesterday when his car collided with another vehicle that failed to yield at the intersection of Highway 37 and Lakeville Highway in Southern Sonoma County, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Edwards was treated at Novato General Hospital for cuts on his lip and broken front teeth. The other driver, Donald Lee Elledge, 23, of 91 Wilmington Drive, Petaluma, went to his own physician.

The patrol said Edwards was westbound on Highway 37 when Elledge pulled across the road in front of him from the Lakeville Road. Elledge was cited for failure to yield to traffic on a thruway.

The accident occurred at 5:20 p.m.

Peace Corps Tests Scheduled Aug. 16

Peace Corps placement tests for Marin residents will be given at 1:30 p.m. Aug. 16 at the Mission branch of the San Rafael Post Office, Third and D streets.

Applications are available at post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. and must be presented to the tester before the test.

Ayala Cove Naming Rites Set For Outing On Sept. 6

Hospital Cove at Angel Island State Park will officially have its name changed to Ayala Cove during Ayala Day ceremonies, sponsored by the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission, Sept. 6 on the island.

Willam Penn Mott Jr., state director of parks and recreation, will officiate at the 2:30 p.m. dedication which will follow a chicken barbecue lunch at 11:30 a.m.

Planned to be a festive civic celebration and family day, Ayala Day will celebrate the fact that Don Juan Manuel de Ayala, lieutenant of a frigate in the royal Spanish navy, anchored in Ayala Cove in 1775 while directing the first known survey of San Francisco Bay. Ayala was the one who named the island Angel Island.

Tickets for the barbecue luncheon must be obtained in advance at Tiburon City Hall.

Car Extensively Damaged In Lot

Extensive damage was done to a car parked in the Crocker-Citizens National Bank lot in the Fair-Anselm Shopping Center, Fairfax police reported yesterday.

Police said Georgia Rosentruter of Box 46, Fairfax, reported the seats of the car were ripped, the carpets torn out, the horn rim broken and wiring damaged while the car was in the lot Thursday night and Friday.

Hearing Set For Attack Suspects

Preliminary hearing for Robert James Walker, 23, and Edward McCullough, 29, on charges of rape, robbery, kidnaping and car theft was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for 9:30 am. Monday.

McCullough pleaded innocent to the charges yesterday. The public defender was assigned to defend him. Judge Peter Allen Smith said he would appoint counsel for Walker, who entered no plea.

The two are accused of raping a San Leandro woman in Muir Beach Saturday taking her to San Francisco for another rape, and taking her purse and car.

Jury Trial Set For Car Theft Suspect

A jury trial for Lester James Skippingday, 23, of San Rafael, on a charge of grand theft was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for 10:30 a.m. Oct. 9.

Skippingday is accused of attempting to start another person's car in San Rafael July 20.

Special Meeting Set

The Gallinas Village Community Services District will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the fireside room of the Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church to discuss the possibility of purchasing that church property, according to Marguerite Clark, secretary.

Junior College Budget Meeting

Marin Junior College trustees will consider adoption of the school's 1969-70 final budget at an 8 p.m. public hearing tomorrow in the Fine Arts Building at the College of Marin.

The proposed $11,412,582 budget includes $6,203,536 in building funds and carries an estimated 8-cent increase in the tax rate over last year's 82.5-cent rate.

Due for approval also is a $43,290 Associated Students budget.

The board will consider an updated version of a policies and procedures manual for students.

If You Could Have Seen

the joy in our eyes, then these words could go unsaid. This is one of the most charming, sturdily built, Bavarian chalet-styled modified "A"-frame homes that we have seen (3 bdrms., 2 bas. plus den). From the quality carpeted liv. rm. a styled staircase rises with a flair to a railinged study-den & to a most generous sized mstr. bdrm. w/adj. large walk-in closet & bath. The view windows are like picture frames encasing the beauty of natural wooded privacy accented by Yosemite-sized boulders and gay splashes of colorful fruit and flowers. The customized all-elec. kitchen is unusual and warm with rdwd. paneling & surprise quality extras. About 12 min. to G.G. toll. Want charming living (?), then please phone now; you'll be glad you did!

SUMMONS
No. 54009

In the Superior Court of the State of California in and for the County of Marin.

ROBERT W. LISLE and RONALD C. MacDONALD
Plaintiffs
vs.
J. BRUCE MOREY, GLORIA MOREY, his wife, and DOES I through V, inclusive
Defendants

Action brought in the Superior Court in and for the County of Marin, State of California, and the Complaint filed in the office of the Clerk of said County.

Thomas J. Keegan
Plaintiff's Attorney
556 Commercial Street
San Francisco, California 94111

THE PEOPLE OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA to the above named Defendants:

You are directed to file with the clerk of this court in which the above entitled action is brought a written pleading in response to the complaint within ten days after the service on you of this summons, if served within the above named county, or within thirty days if served elsewhere (except that if the action is against the state pursuant to Section 738.5 of the Code of Civil Procedure, within 180 days). You are notified that unless you so file a written responsive pleading, the plaintiffs will take judgment for any money or damages demanded in the complaint, as arising upon contract, or will apply to the court for any other relief demanded in the complaint.

You may seek the advice of an attorney on any matter connected with the complaint or this summons. Such attorney should be consulted within the time limit stated in this summons for filing a written pleading to the complaint.

WITNESS MY HAND AND THE SEAL OF THE SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA, IN AND FOR THE COUNTY OF MARIN, this 13th day of June, 1969.

Florida Resorts Coast Hard-Hit By A Blackout

MIAMI (AP) — A baby was ushered into the world by flashlight and exiles in Miami's "Little Havana" joked about a Cuban invasion last night as a power plant explosion left two million South Floridians in darkness.

It was hot and stormy at 6:08 p.m. when lights from Miami to north of Fort Lauderdale—with a solid strip of beach resorts in between—flickered and went out.

The blackout covered Dade and Broward counties for two hours and spotty failures hopscotched along a 200-mile strip from Marathon in the Keys to Fort Pierce until midnight.

At 6:17 p.m. Mrs. Geraldine Frusterie gave birth to a 9-pound, 11-ounce girl under an emergency room spotlight hooked up to an emergency generator at Holy Cross Hospital in Fort Lauderdale.

But the generator failed and at 7:03 p.m. Mrs. Linda Hayes delivered her 8-pound, 6-ounce daughter under a nurse's flashlight.

Cuban exiles crowded into streets of Miami's "Little Havana" as the lights went out. Bus driver Mario Lazaro walked out of a bar and said, "Maybe it's Fidel on his way over."

Herman Sabel of Charleston, S.C., was stuck for more than an hour in an elevator with its operator in the Fontainebleau Hotel on Miami Beach.

"She was scared to death," he said. "There was no emergency telephone, no emergency key and no ventilation."

The power shutoff came after a routine power loss at a generating plant 50 miles to the north, said Fred Brown, assistant manager at the Florida Power and Light Co. plant south of Miami where the blast occurred.

Usually the turbines at his plant automatically shut down, he said. But one didn't because of a malfunction and "took an overload of work and blew," he said.

FP&L officials said it would take a full probe to verify Brown's theory.

Four Children Hurt In Accident

Four San Pablo children were injured yesterday at 3:35 p.m. in an accident on Lakeville Highway, two miles south of Petaluma.

James Haupt, 5, was reported in fair condition at Hillcrest Hospital with a skull fracture and Annette, 3, was reported in good condition with head cuts. Treated for multiple scrapes were John, 4, and Dennis, 1.

The California Highway Patrol said the car driven by their mother, Marianne Haupt, 22, swerved to avoid an oncoming car in the wrong lane, went through a fence and overturned in a hayfield.

TV REVIEW

Series Form May Be On Its Way Out

By ROBERT MUSEL

NEW YORK (UPI)—The television series is safe for the time being as the backbone of network viewing but NBC-TV is injecting more than 100 specials into its programming for the new season in a development that may alter the pattern in future years.

Don Durgin, president of the network, told a press conference it was the most ambitious and diversified schedule of special programs in television history and by the time he was through dropping the names of stars it began to sound like an understatement.

Starting Sept. 2 and continuing through to next summer there will be one-special nights, multi-special nights and even rare all-special nights. For an example of the latter make note of the night of Nov. 12—a Bill Cosby Special, followed by Johnny Carson's only special of the season, followed by a Diana Ross and The Supremes special and winding up with a musical, "Norman Rockwell's America", featuring Jonathan Winters.

This is a venture not without fiscal peril but if there is any insurance in talent NBC has certainly taken it out. Durgin divided the specials into three classes—"star," "drama" and "informational-cultural."

In the "star" special category he recited a list that included Julie Andrews, Jack Benny, Perry Como, Bing Crosby, Tony Curtis, Goldie Hawn, Lena Horne, Rowan and Martin (without the Laugh-in team), Jack Paar, Debbie Reynolds and Bob Hope whose nine contributions will begin Sept. 22.

Durgin promised 14 dramas, more, he said, than any other network and an impressive list of informational-cultural programs including Lowell Thomas's expedition in search of "Stone Age Man."

Another complication that the NBC sales department will have to cope with is that specials are expensive and advertising time on them runs at about $100,000 a minute—double the rate of commercials on a series. It isn't always easy to find that kind of money around even in these inflationary days.

$500 Book Drop For Old Library Approved

San Anselmo library board members agreed Monday night to install a $500 book drop in the side of the 56-year-old library building, board member Col. Reuben Smith Jr. reported yesterday.

Added also will be an office copying machine for public use. A planned expansion of reference books will include new industrial and business indexes, Reuben said.

Six Marin Students Make Dean's List

Six Marin County students have made the dean's list for having at least a 3.5 grade point average for the spring semester at the University of the Pacific at Stockton.

Driving Course

A driver training course for the older motorist will be held four Mondays from 10 a.m. to noon, beginning Aug. 11. Those interested in attending the course, at the First Methodist Church of San Rafael, should call J. C. Uhte at the Marin Senior Coordinating Council.

Rewarding European Golf Experience For Marinite

By GARY TISCHLER

Who says athletics can't be rewarding?

Just check out Ray Leach, world traveler.

Leach, the former Novato junior whiz kid on the golf courses when he was a prep, recently returned from a 17-day mini-European tour as member of the Brigham Young University golf team.

The tour took a goodwill competition route across Scotland, England and a one-tourney shot at St. Germain in Paris.

Also along as another member of the BYU team was former San Rafaelite Don Hawken, who roomed with Leach in his first year at the golf-oriented Mormon School in Salt Lake City.

It was a most impressive tour for Leach, who has been to a few places in his young golfing life, but never to Europe.

He found some things that have dismayed some people, but had no averse affect on him.

For one thing, there's the condition of the courses in Scotland and England.

"If you shoot in the rough there, you might as well forget it," he said. "They don't cut the grass and the courses themselves are rough and sandy."

All of it made for some tough rounds of golf, a situation that Leach rather liked.

"It's a challenge," he said. "You really have to work. Their average course over there compares to maybe one exceptionally tough course in the United States."

He found the British and the Scotsmen genial, friendly, fun-loving and disorganized.

"In the British United School Championships, most of the teams didn't even have a coach," he said. "Their team captain would usually take care of everything."

Leach, incidentally, took medalist honors at the tournament in Southport over some 300 other golfers.

"The British and the Scottish golfers we met have a nice attitude about golf," he said. "They play it for fun. They enjoy it. If they make a bad shot, they shake it off instead of brooding about it. They don't play it for blood, like a lot of us do."

The itinerary shows that the BYU team started off at Prestick, Scotland, then to Old Troon for a match against the University of Glasgow, then to Turnberry, and on to England and Manchester, then to Southport, followed by a stopover in Blackpool and a sneak look at the British Open in action, then London for a quick tour, then to Paris and St. Germain Golf Course, back to Glasgow, then to Edinburgh, from there back to St. Andrews Golf Course and finally back home to the United States.

The team got some time for bus tours, but not too much out of the way of excursions.

Some things seem to have changed for Leach. He is still not satisfied with his game and a little troubled about the way he plays it.

"I'm never satisfied with my game," he said. "I haven't played as well as I'd like to have. My putting is better but not my whole game. And I'm not nervous anymore. Sometimes I think I'm too calm."

Leached walked into a whole new atmosphere when he migrated from Novato High to BYU.

"It's a whole dfferent world," he said. "There isn't a single long hair around. I'm not a Mormon, and that takes some getting used to. I had a little trouble adjusting in the first semester, but I'm fine now."

There also was a matter of adjusting to being a member of a team that had quite a few outstanding golfers on it. Team play counts.

"Before, in a junior tournament, you could play pretty much for yourself," he said. "But on this team, even if you shoot an 80 and you're out of it, your score still counts."

In addition to Hawken, another local on the BYU team is Dan Springer of Rohnert Park, who did not make the big trip.

John Miller of Sa Francisco, a Mormon, started the great Northern California migration of young golfers to BYU. That's a situation that helped Leach.

"Right away, when you get

Moondust And Astros On Baseball Junket

They're not going to the moon — yet — but they will get as close to it as possible.

I refer to the San Francisco Giants Boosters Club of Northern California whose next junket next month promises to be a doozy.

Would you believe Boosters Prexy Allan B. (for Brainstorm) Murray of Kentfield and tour director Paul Hartman of San Rafael at last count had 230 baseball aficionados signed up for the Boosters' trip to Houston Sept. 4-7?

"This," said Murray, "will be the largest organized tour in the history of sports. It's never been done before on such a large scale."

ANNE KELLY

"I thought we hit a peak when we had about 125 on our New York-Montreal tour earlier this season," said Hartman, whose GTS travel bureau in San Rafael handles all accommodations for the Boosters, "but, shucks, we did that with just one plane. This time we've got two jet-loads for Houston. It'll look like a full-scale invasion."

This is the club's second trip to Houston. The main purpose, of course, is to follow the Giants in action, but last year the tour of the famed Astrodome and a special bonus tour of the NASA Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston dwarfed the athletics.

"I just talked to NASA," said Murray, "and we're all set for another VIP tour. Astronaut Frank Borman has promised to greet us if his schedule permits. He's been a Giants fan since he was 10 years old."

Murray and Hartman, who founded the Boosters Club last year and have snowballed it to more than 1,000 members, will be taking their fourth junket of the year, following earlier trips to spring training in Phoenix, the season opener in Atlanta and the New York-Montreal swing.

40 Marinites On The Roster

They report the upcoming trip to the land of imported moon dust and rocks will include at lease 40 Marinites.

They are Messers and Mesdames Charles Bell, F. J. Cranney, Russell Fisher, Lester Lahmann, Harry Lalor, N. J. Taylor and Paul Hartman, Mrs. James McCone, Mrs. Frances Zander, and Misses Anita Thomas and Jerry Buckelew, all of San Rafael; Edgar Donlon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campagna and sons Glen and Mark, of Mill Valley; Christine Cannon, Miss Irma Cunha, Mrs. Alberta Cunha and Mr. and Mrs. William Keplinger, all of Tiburon; Mrs. Letha Jenkins of Fairfax; Harold Kelly of Larkspur; Mrs. Lewis Kerlin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillis of Kentfield; Mrs. Florence Stormes and Ashfield Stow of Corte Madera; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Craig of Ignacio; and Mr. and Mrs. Art Sharman of Greenbrae.

Thus far, the trip has developed only one small hitch. Anne Kelly, an American Airlines stewardess who is Miss Booster, always accompanies the Boosters on their flights. "But now, with TWO planes," said Murray, "we're facing a physical dilemma. I guess we'll put her on one plane going to Houston and the other plane coming home to keep everyone happy."

And that, my friends, is the only way to fly.

Redwood Aces Spark Cagers

Redwood High School gunners Jerry Piro and Roger Smith whipped in 24 points each to lead Schafer's Ice Cream to an 81-75 win over the Cardinals in the semifnal playoffs of the high school division of the Drake Summer Basketball League at Drake High School yesterday.

In the other semifinal game, the Crusaders, behind Ron Nicoletti's 23 points, whipped Pier 15, 72-51.

Schafer's Ice Cream and the Crusaders will meet in the finals at Drake High School at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Sudden Sam Impresses A's Jackson

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sam McDowell convinced Reggie Jackson as he beat the Oakland Athletics 10-4 Tuesday night att he Cleveland Indians lost the opener of a twi-night doubleheader, 8-3. But McDowell's opponent, John "Blue Moon" Odom wasn't impressed.

"I do not believe he can really beat me," Odom (14-5) said after being rocked for seven hits and seven runs in 3 1-3 innings of work. "I cannot believe tonight. He was just lucky.

"Last year, if I had the stuff he has now, I would have won 20 or 25 games," Odom continued. "He doesn't have any kind of brains. He just doesn't know how to pitch. He's got good stuff when he gets on the mound and when he starts fooling around, he doesn't have anything."

In a parting shot at McDowell who has won only 12 of 22 decisions this year, Odom said, "If I had his stuff ,why, I'd make $125,000 a year.

REGGIE IMPRESSED

The Athletics' home run slugger, Reggie Jackson, who struck out twice and hit into a fielder's choice before walking in the eighth and scoring one of two runs in the inning on Sal Bando's double, said:

"He's (McDowell) got good stuff and you have to give credit where credit is due. He's a real good pitcher. I kept looking for the ball to come in on me and Sam kept it away. He made some good pitches on me and it is nothing new to be struck out by McDowell."

McDowell struck out nine, walked three, and gave up six hits in the game.

Rookie Frank Baker continued his impressive hitting for the Indians. He hit a two-run homer in the third inning and Jackson said, "Looks like he's going to be a good ball player. He's not hitting any cheapies and when he makes an out he hits the ball hard. I hope he can weather bad times when they come because it will make him an even better player."

SEVEN TIMES

The Indians got a third run in the third of the nightcap on Lou Klimchock's single, then scored seven more times in the fourth.

In the opener, Chuck Dobson (13-7) worked 8⅔ innings and took the win despite surrendering 12 hits and all three runs. Dick Ellsworth (6-6) took the loss, working 1 2-3 innings and yielding four hits and five runs in the second inning.

McCormick, Bolin Hurl Twin Killing

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — This city showed its brotherly love to the San Francisco Giants last night.

As a result, it was the Giants turn to take over first place by a half a game over Cincinnati and Atlanta in the tightly bunched Western Division of the National League where only four games separate the top five clubs.

Consecutive homers by Dave Marshall, Ron Hunt and Bobby Bonds propelled the Giants to a 6-2 win in the opener and Bob Bolin singled home one run and scored the go-ahead tally while pitching a 5-3 victory over the Phillies in the nightcap of yesterday's twi-night doubleheader.

TWO BAD ONES

Lefty Mike McCormick of the Giants made only two bad pitches—home run balls to Cookie Rojas and Richie Allen —in going the route on a six-hitter to win the opener. He improved his record to 8-5 by fanning six and walking four.

Juan Marichal, who has lost his last three starts , tries to give the Giants a little breathing room tonight when he chases his 14th win against Grant Jackson.

Bolin needed relief help from Frank Linzy before picking up his sixth victory against seven losses. Boiin singled home Ken Henderson in the fourth inning and then singled to start San Francisco's three-run rally in the seventh.

TIE SNAPPED

After advancing on a wild pitch and a passed ball, Bolin scored his team's third run on a single by Ron Hunt to snap a 2-2 tie. Bobby Bonds doubled in Hunt and scored the fifth run on a single by Willie McCovey.

Homers by Larry Hisle and Johnny Callison had tied the game at 2-2 in the fourth.

Marshall drove in four runs with a single and three-run homer in the opener to launch a five-run fifth inning.

The Key Family Of Novato Has Racing Past...Future

This time, it's 10-year-old Billy Ray who holds down the spotlight, as he prepares for a trip to Portland, Ore., and a shot at the Grand National Quarter-Midget Auto Championships Aug. 22-24.

All this is no accident. Mr. Key planned it that way.

Key, who was a professional driver for over seven years racing the Oklahoma and Texas circuits, saw organized quarter-midgets in action in Los Angeles and figured "it was right up my alley."

"The oldest boy wasn't old enough to race then," he said. "But when he turned five we got him started. Same with the other boys."

If all this sounds like a racing show biz saga, it's not. Mr. Key, formerly of Wichita Falls and Lubbock, Tex., as well as Los Angeles, has no interest in steering an Indianapolis-type career for his boys.

"The main purpose of it all is that when the boys get old enough and drive their own cars, they won't have a thing to prove to anybody," he said, referring to highway speed tests which teens sometimes indulge in. "All they have to do is show them the trophies and pictures."

Key isn't too keen on his boys going on to bigger and better things as they mature.

"There's a simple reason for that," he said. "The boys know I don't want them to make a career out of it. You can get killed that way. But when they grow up, that's their decision."

FAVORS BASEBALL

Randy, now 14, has followed that dictum. He shows absolutely no interest in racing, preferring baseball.

Billy Ray earned his ticket to Portland by finishing fifth in a field of 60 at the Western State Championships last month. He'll be going under the sponsorship of Marin Bay Lincoln Mercury in San Rafael.

He'll be driving a fully suspended Pace-Maker, a factory-manufactured car built

McCovey Getting Walks Instead Of Strikeouts

PHILADELPHIA—There was a time when pitchers could tease Willie McCovey into swinging at pitches outside the strike zone. In 1963 McCovey struck out 119 times, a team record for the San Francisco Giants until Bobby Bonds came along.

This year McCovey may wind up with 119 walks at the rate pitchers are issuing him intentional and semi-intentional passes. Scorekeepers log intentional walks in the official records only when such a walk is ordered by a manager and the catcher steps out of the box for four wide pitches.

ACTUALLY, McCOVEY was walked intentionally four times during one game in Chicago the other day by Dick Selma. The first pass was ordered by Leo Durocher. The next three were on consecutive wide throws of the plate by Selma. McCovey was walked four times on 16 pitches.

"He never is going to get anything in the strike zone from me again," says Selma. "I can't get him out. I've faced him nine times now and he has three homers and six walks.

ON APRIL 13 in San Diego when Selma still was with the Padres, McCovey was first man up in the second inning. He hit a homes. In the fourth inning, McCovey again was first man up. Selma walked him. The walk, incidentally led to a run, just as two of the walks by Selma in Chicago led to runs.

On April 19 in Candlestick Park Selma faced McCovey again. McCovey hit a two-run homer in the first inning. In the third inning, Selma walked McCovey on four pitches. In the sixth, Selma decided to give it another try. He put one in the strike zone. Socko. A two-run homer.

SO IT WAS understandable when Selma faced McCovey again, this time as a Cub, and walked him four times, each time on four pitches.

It may have been understandable insofar as Selma was concerned but it was the first time Clyde King ever saw a batter walked four times on consecutive pitches.

"THAT'S GOT to be a record," said the manager of the Giants. "I never heard of (Ted) Williams getting that treatment. They wouldn't give McCovey a ptich he could hit. He was helpless."

"Nothing I can do about it," said McCovey. "If they want to walk me, okay. I'm not going to swing at bad pitches. Other people here get paid to hit. I'm not the only hitter on the club."

Gaylord Perry overheard McCovey's comment. Perry, winner over Selma in the two early season games when Selma was in a Padre uniform, again was the winner for a third time over Selma in the Cub game.

"WE'VE GOT people who can come off the bench," said Perry, "like Bob Burda who came in for McCovey, following the fourth walk to Stretch because his ailing knee was acting up a bit. And what did Bruda do in the ninth? He crashed a two-run double, that's what he did."

From Chicago the Giants moved on to Pittsburgh. In the opener with the Pirates the veteran Jim Bunning had a 1-0 lead when McCovey tagged him for a homer, No. 301 and No. 33 for McCovey. So it was 1-1 when McCovey came to bat as leadoff man in the seventh. Bunning walked him on four semi-official wide ones, McCovey's 72nd walk of the season, 28 of which are officially logged as intentional.

It was a walk that represented the winning run — and it became the winning run when Dick Dietz hit a homer.

END OF A BOYCOTT — Several members of the U.S. men's track and field team in Augsburg, Germany, point to their insignias which they altered by taping over the letters AAU in protest over travel fares. The boycott has been dropped. (AP Wirephoto)

All Quiet As Athletes Drop Boycott

AUGSBURG, Germany (AP) — Hotels housing American track and field athletes were strangely quiet following first night competition against West German men and women teams.

The few athletes remaining in the lobbies were still discussing the unprecedented action by the American men that threatened a boycott of next week's meet in London.

Gary Power, one of the keymen in yesterday's controversy, described his 14 flat timing in the 110 meter hurdles as 'something short of remarkable." He was runner-up to Leon Coleman, who clocked 13.7.

"I lost so much adrenalin because of the controversy that I couldn't get up for the race," he said.

Power confirmed that the AAU has agreed to reimburse his travel expenses. American male athletes threatened a "100 per cent no-show" at the London meet if the AAU refused to repay Power's round trip travel costs from the United States to Europe.

"They will pay my expenses from Miami to Stuttgart and my return flight to Los Angeles," he said. "They have also agreed to reimburse my track club for the plane fare from Los Angeles to Miami."

Power, a member of the Los Angeles Striders, ran in a meet in Miami before flying to Europe. He was added to the American athletes when gold medal winner Willie Davenport did not accept an invitation to join the team.

The American men led West Germany 74-43 after Tuesday's competition.

John Carlos, San Jose, Calif. won the 100-meter in 10.1; Lee Evans, also of San Jose, the 400 meters in 45.6; John Cole, Tempe, Ariz., the discus with a toss of 198 feet, 1.22 inches, and Ron Laird, Pomona, Calif. the 10,000 meter walk.

Bill Toomey, Laguna Beach, Calif. held the lead at the halfway mark of the decathlon with 4,290 points for five events. He won the 100 meters, the long jump and the 400 meters.

SPORTS SHORTS

Maccabiah Gold To U.S. Athletes

TEL AVIV (AP) — American athletes dominated the gold medal column in the Eighth Maccabiah Games that ended last night, but for the first time they were beaten in the sport they invented, basketball.

Israel beat the American hoopsters 74-70 in the final, surviving an American rally that nearly wiped out a 13-point half time deficit at 39-26.

The Americans won a total of 63½ golds, but finished second over-all to Israel in total medals, 151½ to 138½. Israel took 48 golds, 52½ silver and 51 bronze medals. America had 40½ silver and 34½ bronze.

The United States won three golds in the track and field competition that featured the final day of the so-called Jewish Olympics.

MARIN, SONOMA GOLF NOTES

Lazzarini Trails In Bid For Fourth Title In Row

Don Lazzarini, club champion at the Meadow Club in Fairfax for the last three years, seems to be in danger of having his championship streak snapped.

Lazzarini is trailing by three strokes going into next Sunday's 18-hole final round of the 54-hole championship. Al Garcia of San Francisco leads the tournament after 36 holes with a 147 total, five over par, followed by Lazzarini and Dr. Doug Ramsey at 150.

Also in the running are a pair of former Meadow Club champions — George Kerrigan (151) and Cy Donaldson (154). Also grouped in the championship flight are Ken Gelatti, 151, Joe Campbell, 152, Dr. Marv Gilberg, 154, and Bob Parish, 154.

DON LAZZARINI
Three pops back

A HOME TOWN fella took the Sonoma County Men's Amateur Championships at Rohnert Park Sunday.

He is Ron Janney of Rohnert Park, ex-member of the Brigham Young University golf team and Rohnert Park High School grad who shot a 72-70-142, two strokes ahead of Montgomery High School (Santa Rosa) grad Don Hunter, who had a 72-72-144 for the 36-hole medal play over two weekends.

Janney is a business management major at BUY who played on the school's golf team that included Ray Leach of Novato and former San Rafaelite Don Hawken.

TALK ABOUT a severe case of conflicting interest.

Mrs. Blanche Altermatt, a veteran lady golfer in Marin County, bounced in a hole-in-one at Meadow Club last Friday, sinking it on the 133-yard 11th hole.

But she could at least have made the ace on home territory.

Her husband, Darrell Altermatt, is president of Indian Valley Club and both Mr. and Mrs. Altermatt belong to Marin Country Club, Novato.

MR. AND MRS. MORT WEISS and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Bleadon topped the Marin Country Club Mixed Invitational Tournament Sunday with a 123 total.

They were followed by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Majors and Mr. and Mrs. William Cardinal, and Mr. and Mrs. Foster Manning and Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Flower, all at 124.

GEORGE GREENWOOD of Indian Valley, Grant Rogers of Mill Valley and Doug Quinlan of Mill Valley failed to make a dent in the final results of the Northern California Golf Association Publinx Tournamentat Pebble Beach last weekend.

The tournament was won by 20-year-old Forrest Fezler, the California Amateur champ.

FOURTEEN YOUNG Marin Countians will be among some 128 golfers who will tee off Monday at Lake Merced Golf and Country Club in Daly City in the Northern California Golf Association's Junior Amateur Championships.

Marin entries in the tournament are Richard and Steve Goldfien, Dean Rider, Jeff DeVoto, Kevin Hogan and Wayne Smith, all of Mill Valley, Kelly Wolfe, Elliot Powers and Chris Cardinal of San Rafael, Jim Wilhelm and Jeb Harrison of Kentfield, Tom Schaal of San Anselmo, George Carewe of Ross and Russ Gardner of Novato.

VOSS BORETA of Fairfax will be among 19 amateurs set to play in Oaklands Celebrity Golf Classic Sunday at the Willow Park Public Golf Course in Castro Valley.

Mrs. Shapiro, Mrs. May Tie

Mrs. Harry Shapiro and Mrs. William May tied for top honors in the Peacock Gap Women's Golf Club's Guest Day field of 103 golfers yesterday.

Mrs. May and Mrs. Shapiro both shot an 81-12—69.

The results:

PEACOCK GAP

Class A — Mesdames William May and Harry Shapiro, 81-12—69; E. J. Rake, 86-16—70.

Key Battle Tonight In DiMaggio League

To be more exact, 6 o'clock tonight when the Italian Club gets one last chance to get a crack at the Southern Marin Division title in the Marin County Joe DiMaggio League when it meets front-running Toby's Truckers at Marin Catholic High School.

Toby's, composed of Marin Catholic players, has an 11-3 record to the Italian Coub's 10-4-1 mark. A win by the Italian Club would result in a tie and necessitate a playoff, probably on Sunday. The Italian Club is made up of Redwood High School players.

If Toby's Truckers win tonight, they'll join Annex Motors of Novato and four other teams in the Joe DiMaggio District Tournament which will run at San Rafael's Albert Field Aug. 14-17. Winner there will go on to the state tourney in Stockton.

Toby's Truckers will go with Bill Kelly on the mound and the Italian Club will counter with Roger Smith, in a rematch of the teams' first meeting.

The Italian Club won that one, 2-0, when Smith spun a three-hitter. Toby's hasn't lost since then, although the Truckers have been tied. Smith has been nothing short of great, racking up a no-hitter since then.

In other games which will wind up the regular Joe DiMaggio season tonight, Holiday Magic visits the Mill Valley Chiefs at Tamalpais High School, San Anselmo hosts Herb's Pool Service at Drake High School, and Annex Motors, the Northern Division champ, is at Healdsburg.

Marin Junior Grid Teams Set Tryouts

Marin County Pop Warner Football Conference starts the 1969 ball rolling Saturday with the official opening of practices for all six teams in the league — Drake of San Anselmo, Redwood of Larkspur, Tamalpais of Mill Valley, San Rafael Terra Linda and Novato.

More than 600 boys have signed up for the program and a final signup for the Novato Junior Hornets has been scheduled tomorrow, 7-9 p.m., at Western Title Guaranty Co., 945 Front Street, Novato.

Eligible are boys born between June 1, 1955 and Sept. 15, 1959 who will not be past eighth grade at the start of the season. Each boy must present proof of birthdate and be accompanied by a parent to tomorrow night's signup. Registration fee is $20 per family.

Terra Linda boys were reminded that their first practice is set for 10 a.m. Saturady. For information on pre-tryout requirements, Terra Linda boys are invited to contact coach George Carli at 20 Esmeyer Drive, San Rafael.

Drake Junior Pirates coach Tony Barbera has reported a record signup of 115 youngsters from the San Anselmo-Fairfax-San Geronimo areas. Drake won the Marin County championship last season.

This year a junior varsity program for younger boys up to 105 pounds will be presented with teams playing full, four-quarter games. In the past the smaller lads on each team played a "fifth quarter" to the varsity games.

in Los Angeles. Right now, Mr. Keys, who runs his own body and fender repair shop in San Rafael, is working on the engine and getting the car ready for the big race.

The quarter-midgets will go up to 40 miles per hour. To Mr. Key, it's the safest place in the world for a kid to be.

"Midget racing is safer than any sport a boy could take up," he said. "I used to manage a Little League team, and I've seen more boys get hurt that way than in midget racing."

"It's a great education," Key says of the racing circuit which has taken his family to Hayward, Santa Rosa, Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento, Phoenix and Las Vegas. "It costs me maybe around $700 a year, but we make a vacation out of it," he said.

Mota A Father

LOS ANGELES — Outfielder Manny Mota of the Los Angeles Dodgers became a father for the fourth time Tuesday, the Dodgers announced.

Mota's wife, Margarita, gave birth yesterday to a 7 pound, 4 ounce son—Rafael—in the Dominican Republic. It is the third son for the Motas.

The Great Race.. Giants In Lead

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco Giants couldn't score nearly as high in two passes against Philadelphia as the Cincinnati Reds did in one, but they still made their point.

After the Reds tossed the Phillies 19-17 Sunday to move into first place in the National League's West Division, the Giants passed them by rolling only 11 for a twi-night doubleheader sweep over the Phillies, 6-2, and 5-3, yesterday.

The victories sent the Giants into the lead by one percentage point over the Reds, who beat the New York Mets 8-5 and then lost 10-1.

And right behind are the Atlanta Braves, who made their points the hard way, rolling by the Montreal Expos 1-0 and 4-3 to pull within six points of the top.

The Los Angeles Dodgers and Houston Astros, the other two clubs in the cluttered division race, were thrown for a loss as Pittsburgh bombed the Dodgers 11-3 and the Chicago Cubs topped the Astros 5-2. That dropped the Dodgers three games behind and the Astros four back.

In the only other game Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals eased by the San Diego Padres 2-1.

The Reds unloaded homers by Pete Rose, Bobby Tolan and Tony Perez in their victory as Gary Nolan pitched into the eighth inning in his first appearance since May 6 for his first victory since April 12.

But then the Mets rolled, piling up eight runs in the third inning of the second game with Donn Clendenon hitting a three-run homer. Tommie Agee added a two-run shot later as Nolan Ryan, 4-1, breezed with a seven-hitter.

STREAK ENDS

Atlanta ended a five-game losing streak by scoring a run in the ninth inning of its opener on Gary Sutherland's throwing error which decided a duel between winner Jim Britton, 6-2, who allowed six hits, and Gary Waslewski, 2-5, who gave four safeties.

Orlando Cepeda decided the nightcap with one swing, a three-run homer in the seventh inning that wiped out a 3-1 deficit.

Willie Stargell pasted a 480-foot homer onto the right field pavilion roof—believed to be the first ball hit out of Dodger Stadium since it was opened in 1962—breaking a 3-3 tie and sending the Pirates to their victory. Pittsburgh added seven runs in the ninth, three on errors and two on Bill Mazeroski's homer.

LEAD PADDED

Steve Blass, 11-7, who gave seven hits, got the victory despite a three-run homer by Andy Kosco.

The Cubs increased their East Division lead over the Mets to 7½ games as Bill Hands, 13-8, allowed six hits in 6 2-3 innings before Phil Regan saved Hands' fourth straight victory and eighth in nine outings. It was the sixth victory in a row for the Cubs.

Adult Softball C-II Winners

Marin Supply, the Refectory and Savganis Shell were winners in C-II division games of the San Rafael Recreation Department's Adult Softball League at Albert Field yesterday.

The Refectory downed the Bippies, 11-5 behind Don MacArthur's three hits. Marin Supply thumped Hub City, 17-12 as Gary Hines hit a pair of home runs. Sarganis Shell bombed the Patio Club, 26-1 as Barry Weiss collected five hits.

Kwalick Set To End Holdout

SANTA BARBARA (UPI)—Spurred by his outspoken father, it looks like top draft pick Ted Kwalick is about to end his long holdout with the San Francisco Forty Niners.

Thaddeus Kwalick Sr. of Pittsburgh and his All America son, along with agent Bucky Woy, were due into the club's summer training camp today to discuss Kwalick's 1969 contract with general manager Jack White.

From his Pennsylvania home, the elder Kwalick gave notice he was tired of "pussy footing around." And his big, strong son is just itching to play pro football.

At present, Kwalick, who starred at Penn State as a tight end, and flanker Clifton McNeil, the top receiver in the NFL last season, are the lone holdouts of the Forty Niners. McNeil is being fined $200 a day while sitting in his Cupertino home.

"I'm not a part of the team and I want to be," said the younger Kwalick. "I'm ready to go. I've been playing golf in the morning and working out in the afternoon.

"My father is a stern man. He doesn't like this pussy footing around. He wants to get down to brass tacks, especially where his children are concerned."

When Kwalick's father became convinced that contract talks involving his son were stalemated, he telephoned White and the general manager invited the Kwalicks to fly to California at the club's expense. The elder Kwalick accepted.

"My son is not asking for the toll gate on the Golden Gate Bridge," said the father. "My son is a great football player, fast as a deer, and I think he's entitled to a decent wage."

Contract discussions between the club and its top draft choice had been hanging in the air because the Forty Niners refused to talk to Kwalick's agent unless the player also was present.

Forty Niner coach Dick Nolan said he would take his entire squad of 58 players, with the exception of defensive lineman Kevin Hardy who is nursing an injured knee, to Seattle for Sunday's exhibition opener with Cleveland "so I can look at as many people as possible."

'Orange Crate' Derby Scheduled In San Rafael

Boys and girls aged 10-15 are invited to participate in the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce's "Orange Crate Derby Race" to be held Sept. 13 on San Marino Drive at Peacock Gap.

Applications can be obtained from James Baker, 2417 First Street, Apt. 4, San Rafael, and must be returned by Aug. 15.

Each contestant is to build his own car. The cars must have four wheels, dependable brakes, an adequate steering system. It cannot be more than seven feet long and four feet wide. All wheels must be on the outside of the body, with at least six inches clearance. Cars may not be pushed or powered.

Competition will be in the junior and senior division, with winners awarded a $25 U. S. Savings Bond and an opportunity to go on to the State Orange Crate Derby Race.

Indians Land On A Blue Moon

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now the Indians—Cleveland, that is—have landed on the Moon—"Blue Moon" Odom, that is—and the Moon still can't believe it.

"I feel like I can shut out the Indians anytime I take the mound," Odom, ace right-hander of the Oakland Athletics, announced after blanking Cleveland back on May 16.

"Tell him," shot back Ken Harrelson of the Indians, "that the next time he pitches against us he'd better have all his friends come to the park early because he's gonna be gone after three innings."

Professor Harrelson's prediction was almost as accurate as the recent Apollo 11 moon shot. Odom was gone after 3 1-3 innings in the second game of yesterday's twi-night doubleheader and the Indians rolled to a 10-4 victory behind Sam McDowell after Oakland took the opener 8-3.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit nipped Minnesota 4-3 in 13 innings, Baltimore tripped Kansas City 7-5 in 10, the New York Yankees shaded California 3-2 on Bobby Murcer's three-run homer with two out in the ninth, Seattle walloped Boston 9-2 and the Chicago White Sox belted Washington 11-4.

Despite the split, Oakland gained one-half game on Minnesota and trails the Twins by three games in the AL West.

Frank "Home Run" Baker was the first Indian to land on the Moon with a two-run homer in the third

Don Wert smashed a single off second baseman Rod Crew's glove with the bases loaded and two out in the 13th, giving the Tigers their triumph over the Twins. The winning hit came after reliever Dick Woodson had struck out Bill Freehan and Dick Tracewski with the bases loaded and none out.

Ted Uhlaender's homer helped the Twins to a 3-1 lead against Denny McLain but the Tigers tied it in the sixth on Gates Brown's first home run of the season, a walk to Willie Horton, Tom Matchick's single, an error and a wild pitch.

Baltimore's Swish Family Robinson did in Kansas City. Brooks Robinson walloped his 17th homer in the 10th inning with Frank Robinson aboard on a single. Frank also had his 27th homer, a triple and another single among his four hits. Jackie Hernandez and Buck Martinez homered for the Royals.

The Yankees turned an apparent 2-0 setback into a sudden 3-2 victory when Murcer hammered reliever Clyde Wright's first pitch into the lower right field stands for his 14th homer. Wright had been brought in to replace Ken Tatum, who walked Ron Woods to start the inning and Frank Fernandez with two out. Tatum had relieved starter Rudy May in the seventh.

BOWLING TIPS

By DON CARTER

Sometimes a bowler will make a tight little follow-through motion, raising quickly as the ball takes off. If you reach out, however, you will not only improve your accuracy but will have a more powerful ball as well.

Desperate Arnie Tries For A Win

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, desperately seeking some Ryder Cup points and needing a victory in the worst way, is the top attraction in the $100,000 Greater Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer, a non-winner for more than a year and experiencing some major troubles with his game, is running out of time in his quest for a spot on the United States team that play Great Britain Sept. 18-20.

He has only this tournament and next week's PGA championship in which to play his way into the 12-man squad. Right now, he's 15th on the list.

"I'd like to make it, of course," the 39-year-old millionaire said. "There may still be time. But I'm sure going to have to improve a lot to do it."

The presence of Palmer, still the most dynamic player in the game and golf's greatest gallery attraction, virtually assured the sponsors of a successful event.

GRID ROUNDUP

A Family Affair In Jet Exhibition

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Jets-St. Louis Cardinals exhibition football game Saturday night will be a family affair for the rival coaches.

Cardinals Coach Charlie Winner is Jets Coach Weeb Ewbank's son-in-law, as well as his protege.

It all started 20 years ago when Winner played halfback for Ewbank, then coach at Washington University in St. Louis, and dated and eventually married his daughter, Nancy.

He guided the Cardinals to a 9-4-1 record last season in finishing ½ game behind the Cleveland Browns in the National Football League's Century Division.

"My granddaughter, Lisa, says she wants the game to end in a tie," Ewbank said.

TACKLE CUT

The Jets cut offensive tackle Ezell Jones of Minnesota, their fourth round draft choice, yesterday and announced the signing of two more veterans. Ralph Baker, former Penn State linebacker, agreed to terms for his sixth season, and offensive tackle Winston Hill signed for a seventh year.

The Philadelphia Eagles made their third deal of the year with the Los Angeles Rams. The Eagles traded veteran defensive back Algin Raymond to the Rams for defensive back Billy Guy Anderson and a third round draft choice. Raymond led the NFL in punt returns in 1965 and 1966.

New York Giants Coach Allie Sherman indicated defensive end Fred Dryer, the club's top draft choice, will see considerable action in Green Bay against the Packers Saturday in the Giants' first exhibition game. Dryer broke through four times and dumped the quarterback in a scrimmage Tuesday.

FINGERS CROSSED

Tom Boutwell, free agent quarterback from Southern Mississippi, was acquired by the Miami Dolphins. Boutwell, acquired by the Cleveland Browns in the 13th draft round, was put on waivers last week.

The Kansas City Chiefs have their fingers crossed about the future this season of center Jack Rudnay, their No. 4 draft choice. Rudnay, who chipped three vertebrae in practice for the College All-Star game and didn't play, will undergo two days of physical tests at the Chiefs' training camp to determine if he can play.

Running back Tom Barrington of the New Orleans Saints, described by Coach Tom Fears as one of the "best fifth backs in pro football," has been shifted to the injured list. Barrington hurt his back last week.

Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier said defensive tackle Bill Sabatino, who walked out of training camp last Saturday, is coming back. Collier said the big tackle phoned him, and said he'd changed his mind about retiring.

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 6, the 218th day of 1969 with 147 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1890 convicted murderer William Kemmler became the first person in the United States to be electrocuted. He went to the electric chair at Auburn, N. Y.

In 1926 Gertrude Ederle of New York became the first American to swim the English Channel. Her time: 14 hours, 31 minutes.

In 1945 President Harry S. Truman announced that an atomic bomb had been dropped on Hiroshima, Japan.

A thought for the day: Adlai Stevenson said, "A wise man does not try to hurry history."

Dog Population Explosion In N.Y.

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — There are more dogs in New York State than there are humans in some other states.

According to the State Department of Agriculture and Markets, the 1969 dog population is 982,429.

Based on the 1960 census, the dog population of New York outnumbers people in at least 16 states, including New Hampshire, Alaska, Delaware, Montana, North Dakota and Hawaii.

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Value Of Experience Seen In This Three No-Trump Action

When an inexperienced bridge player does something we call it foolishness. When an experienced player does the same thing for the same reason we call it a bad break. What this means is that we all make mistakes, but experience enables us to make them on purpose.

SMALL SPADE

West led the seven of spades, East put up the king, and South had enough experience at the game to refuse the trick. He called this a hold-up play, but you may find another name for it before you're much older.

When East returned the jack of spades South played low again. West overtook with the queen and returned the eight of spades to declarer's unguarded ace.

Now South led a heart to try a finesse with dummy's queen. East took the king of hearts and returned a club. South wasted several minutes and much precious sweat, trying to guess whether the six missing hearts would break 3-3 or whether the club finesse would work. It didn't matter because either line of play would fail. Down one.

EARLY MISTAKE

South made his mistake when he refused the first trick. West clearly had a spade suit consisting of two honors, the eight and the seven because if West's spades were headed by any three honors he would lead one of them. This meant that East had two spade honors and that the suit could be blocked if South took the first trick.

South should take the first spade and lead the low club toward dummy's jack. If West takes the king of clubs, he can take only two spades at most.

IF WEST DUCKS

If West ducks the club, declarer gets to his hand with a diamond to try a heart finesse. The defenders can take two spades, one heart, and one eventual club. South makes game with one spade, two hearts, four diamonds and two clubs.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens the bidding with one club, and the next player passes.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have only five points in high cards, and your doubleton has doubtful value. If partner opened with one spade you would raise to two spades because then the doubleton in hearts would have sure value. Also, there would be sounder prospects since you would be sure of a fine fit in a major suit.

New Diesel Company Sets Up Headquarters In San Rafael

Lyon

Mathias

A new company specializing in the engineering, manufacture and service of diesel-driven, independent power generation sets delivering 500 to 3,000 kilowatts will open headquarters in San Rafael.

Diesel Systems, Inc., with initial capitalization of $500,000, is headed by Halsey H. Lyon of Sleepy Hollow. Lyon was formerly a vice president and director of Schoonmaker and Co., Sausalito. During his many years with this firm he established the West Coast office and plant and at various times headed sales, production and assisted in the development of the company's mobile gas generator concept.

Space for an office has been leased at 1330 Lincoln Avenue. Manufacturing facilities will probably be located in Stockton.

ERIC MATHIAS, known at the Corte Madera Shopping Center for 11 years as The Swiss Watchmaker, will soon be moving his hop from that area.

He has taken a larger space at Red Hill Shopping Center in San Anselmo and will be moving there about the first of next month. He will be between Longs Drug Store and the Safeway Store.

NOT SATISFIED with just remodeling and revitalizing the Brown's Home Furnishers store in Mill Valley, new owner Hal Fenton has opened another outlet in San Rafael.

This one occupies 5,000 square feet, plus another 7,000 square feet of parking space, at 811 Francisco Boulevard, where the S and H Green Stamp Redemption Center used to be. The store has a "sleep shop" and "gourmet shop" and carries the same stocks and brand names as the Mill Valley headquarters. No store manager has yet been appointed for San Rafael.

Grand opening ceremonies for both stores will be held early next month.

GROUND HAS BEEN CLEARED for construction to begin on the $275,000 19,000-square-foot Mayfair Market at Fourth and Ida streets, San Rafael, the property formerly occupied by Lucas Valley Dairy and the Rambler automobile agency. There will be parking for about 100 cars. General contractor is Ernest W. Hahn.

GRANT AVENUE MEATS in Novato has moved from 850 Grant Avenue to 1557-A South Novato Boulevard. Name will remain unchanged.

THE SAN RAFAEL legal firm, Rockwell, Fulkerson and Clarke, has opened a San Francisco office at 300 Montgomery Street, Suite 717.

NOVATO OFFICE of Wells Fargo Bank will introduce the "express line" principle to replace several slow lines to tellers' windows.

AN ART SHOW featuring the works of more than 100 leading western artists will be held at the Northgate Fashion Mall next Wednesday, Aug. 13, through Saturday, Aug. 16. The California Artists Roundup, will show landscapes, still life, seascapes, florals, character studies and California missions.

Qualified artists wishing to enter the competition should write to Don Palmer, 7021 Cerritos Avenue, Stanton, Calif. Local artists wishing to display are invited to bring their works and join the show, provided they bring stands or display racks and can stay with their exhibits. Pre-registration is not required. Artists arriving Aug. 13 will be assigned locations on the mall.

Stocks Slump May Mean More Buyers

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stocks finished on a strong note today.

There is still concern over inflation, commented one analyst, "but you can't overlook the recent protracted decline which has made issues attractive to bargain hunters."

Several electronics tacked on point-sized gains, but many were below their best levels.

McIntyre Porcupine was an impressive gold mining issue. This group had been under considerable pressure in the previous session.

Oils also showed marked strength, although fractional losses cropped up in spots.

Aluminum issues were mostly firm following some price hikes on aluminum products.

Steels traded in fractions. So did motors, rails and most airline issues.

Aircrafts moved in both directions.

Prices also advanced on the American Stock Exchange in moderate turnover.

Home Building Firm Acquired

COSTA MESA (BW) — Standard-Pacific Corp., a diversified Southern California home builder, has completed the acquisition of the business organization and certain assets of William C. Garcia & Co., a Northern California home building company, it has been announced by Arthur E. Svendsen, board chairman and chief executive officer.

Operations in the San Jose area will continue under the direction of William C. Garcia who will head the company's new Bay Area division and supervise all construction projects in the Northern California area. Garcia has been elected to the board of directors and appointed a vice president of Standard-Pacific.

Ford's Maverick Strides Past Mustang Record Pace

DEARBORN, Mich. (BW) — Ford Division's new Maverick set a record for sales during the first quarter following introduction, exceeding even the fast pace of the previous new car record holder — its stablemate, Mustang.

John B. Naughton, Ford Motor Co. vice president and division general manager, announced that Maverick sales since its April 17 introduction through July 31, total 101,210 units. In the last 11 days of July alone, 20,415 Mavericks were sold by Ford dealers.

Ford's Mustang, previously the most successful new car in history, had 97,606 sales in the comparable introductory period in 1964 while Falcon, runner-up to Mustang's title, racked up 92,815 sales in its introductory period in 1959.

Naughton noted that with the Maverick record, Ford Motor Co. can now claim five of the six most successful new car launchings in history. The Fairlane in 1961 and the Mercury Comet in 1960 are the others on the list.

Naughton said he is confident that Maverick sales will continue strong in the months to come but pointed out that August sales will probably fall off due to a two-week vacation shutdown at the St. Thomas, Ont., assembly plant, one of two Maverick supply sources.

"The public is reading the car precisely as we wanted it to — as a high value, economy automobile designed to meet America's driving requirements," Naughton reported.

Through July 30, 61 per cent of the retail orders involved no trade-ins. He said, "This tells us two things — that Maverick is an extremely strong draw to the first time new car buyer and that it's making a definite mark as a second and third car. As a matter of fact, 36 per cent of all Mavericks are being sold as first new cars vs. 28 per cent for Mustang."

Maverick is proving to be a strong conquest car, attracting competitive owners of both foreign and domestic cars. Of the 39 per cent of sales involving a trade-in, 22 per cent are imports and 41 per cent are competitive domestic makes. On 37 per cent of the trades are other Ford Motor Co. cars.

The average Maverick buyer, according to Ford surveys, is 34 years old and earns $10,500 annually. About 30 per cent have some college education and 41 per cent are professional, technical or management personnel. Sixty-eight per cent are male and the same percentage is married, with half of the married group having two or more children, the surveys show. About two-thirds of all Mavericks are being bought as second or third cars.

Naughton pointed out that Maverick buyers are, for the most part, keeping the car the simple machine it is intended to be. He cited "remarkably low option installation rates," such as 56 per cent automatic transmission and 200 CID engines (the larger of two engines available on Maverick), 55 per cent whitewall tire installation and 40 per cent optional trim rate. About 78 per cent of all Mavericks are going out with radios.

Naughton noted that Maverick economy and serviceability reports have been excellent and said that dealer enthusiasm for Maverick "is as strong as ever — as you might expect with results like these."

Airline Asks Fare Drop On Pacific Flights

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — The Civil Aeronautics Board is considering proposals by Pan American World Airways to cut fares from San Francisco to Japan and the Orient by 5 to 40 per cent.

Pan Am's proposals, subject to approvals of governments concerned, has called for a drop of 5 per cent in basic economy class fares from San Francisco to Tokyo, effective Sept. 1, according to Axel Mikkelsen, district traffic and sales manager.

The round trip economy class fare to Tokyo via the Great Circle Route would be cut from $684 to $656. First class would be reduced from $1,216 to $1,155.

Marin Savings And Loan In Merger

Marin County Savings and Loan Association will be merged into San Mateo Mutual Savings and Loan Association.

The combined associations will form an institution with assets of nearly $100 million and will operated under a new name not yet determined.

The merger was announced jointly today by Clyde H. Charlton of San Francisco, president of Pacific Coast Holdings, parent company of San Mateo Mutual, and Jordan L. Martinelli, president of Marin County Financial Corp., of which Marin County Savings is a subsidiary.

The transaction involves an exchange of all the stock of Marin County Savings for Pacific Coast Holdings common stock, subject to the approval of Marin County Financial Corp. stockholders, the California Savings and Loan Commissioner and the Federal Home Loan Bank. Following completion of the merger, Marin County Financial Corp. will be dissolved.

Under the terms of the agreement, Charlton and James W. Derryberry of Tiburon will serve as chairman of the board and president of the combined associations respectively. Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president and managing officer of Marin County Savings, will become executive president and managing officer of the combined associations.

Enemark said he will continue to make his headquarters at 990 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. He said the San Rafael office and staff will continue the full spectrum of service heretofore provided.

Marin County Savings was formed in 1886. At the end of 1968 it showed assests of $49 million, savings of $38 million and loans of $42 million.

San Mateo Mutual was organized in 1896. On Dec. 31 it reported $45 million in assets, savings of $39 million and loans of $39 million. Its headquarters in San Mateo will also become the headquarters of the new corporation. A branch office is located in Burlingame.

Pacific Coast Holdings, which also owns Pacific Coast Holdings Insurance Corp., Pacific Coast Holdings Management Co. and Pacific Coast Holdings Mortgage Co., will have a total of approximately 1,200 stockholders upon completion of the merger. Its common stock is traded over the counter.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Continue To Hold Good Mutual Funds

By ROGER SPEAR

Q. We have $10,000 in Fundamental Investors and Chemical Fund, but they have disappointed us. My husband retires in five to seven years and further investments will stress income. We've been told about Madison Fund. Should we transfer our $10,000 to Madison or invest directly in income stocks? — L. P.

A. I'd hold your two funds to share in the market's recovery and further advance. Chemicals are believed to have strong trunaround potential. Both funds have been operating for over 30 years and have shown good progress under competent managers who have not been tempted to follow the new high-performance cult recently developed by some fund managers.

If your disappointment springs from your funds' rather conservative gains in net asset value during 1968, you can be cheered by their small percentage losses for the first half of 1969. Chemical Fund was down only 4 per cent from its 1968 net asset value and Fundamental Investors 8.6 per cent, compared with a range of 22.7 per cent to 48.7 per cent for the 20 largest losers. Each of your funds offers a withdrawal plan when its total value reaches $10,000.

Madison Fund on the Big Board has been a recognized leader among the closed-end investment companies. It shows a 12 per cent yield from the $3.41 a share (investment income and capital gains) distributed thus far in 1919. Madison's "dividends" may be automatically reinvested in new shares priced at net asset value. As of June 30 the latter figure had dropped sharply year to year to about $8 under the trading level of the shares. The president of Madison Fund recently expressed disappointment in having postponed some portfolio sales when the market was on high ground.

Though Madison's shares have commanded a market premium for several years, I'd wait for the premium to shrink before purchasing. For new buying I recommend the electric utilities for good income and the promise of longer-term capital gains. With five to seven years left to prepare for retirement, further growth of your capital should be your primary objective.

Marin Land Firm Joins Lear Siegler

Trousdale Construction Co., owner of the Marin Country Club and developer of other Novato properties, has been merged into Lear Siegler, Inc., headquartered in Santa Monica.

The merger, under which Trousdale becomes a division of Lear Siegler, was accomplished in an exchange of $10 million of Lear Siegler common stock, with the possibility of an additional $10 million in stock changing hands, depending upon Trousdale future earnings.

Ronald Waranch, executive vice president of Trousdale, which is headquartered in Los Angeles, said there will be no change in the management or operation of the company and membership in Marin Country Club will be unaffected.

He said Trousdale owns approximately 1,000 acres of undeveloped lands in Novato in addition to the club property. The company has holdings in several other areas, he said, the largest of which is a joint venture interest with Amfac, Inc. in 11,000 acres overlooking Pearl Harbor in Honolulu.

Besides its activities in the aircraft equipment industry, Lear Siegler is diversified in about 125 other fields. It has 28,000 employees and operates in 27 states and 16 foreign countries and is listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Stock Cancelled

SOUTH PASADENA (UPI) — Subscription Television, Inc., has cancelled the registration of a proposed offering of 800,000 shares of new common stock accompanied by warrants because of current conditions in the securities markets.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Why Object To Probe By County Grand Jury?

An odd situation is developing regarding investigation by the Marin County Grand Jury of the Sausalito School District.

Several weeks ago, hearing that grand jurors were asking questions about the district, the Sausalito school board asked that the jury meet openly with it and ask questions in public.

Aside from the fact that the Sausalito school trustees have not been noted for their eagerness to discuss everything in public — preferring unannounced breakfast meetings, for instance—this proposal was rather amazing in its naivete. The grand jury is an investigative body. You don't investigate by holding a meeting and asking questions—though that may very properly come after an investigation.

NOW IT HAS BEEN reported that Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney have cautioned the grand jury that it may be outside its jurisdiction in inquiring into affairs in a school district.

Asked about this, Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino told an Independent-Journal reporter: "If you ask me, I don't think they would have a right to such an investigation unless a crime has been committed."

This is a rather strange statement, it seems to us, since a primary duty of the grand jury is to ferret out crime — to find out whether a crime has been committed. An additional duty is to inquire into the spending of public money, for which purpose the grand jury is empowered by law to examine books, records and accounts of all officers of the county and its districts.

THE LEGAL ADVISER to the grand jury, under the law, is the district attorney. The law provides: "The district attorney of the county may at all times appear before the grand jury for the purpose of giving information or advice relative to any matter cognizable by the grand jury."

As to the judge and county counsel, however, the law says: "The grand jury may, at all times, ask the advice of the court, or the judge thereof, or of the district attorney, or of the county counsel. Unless such advice is asked, the judge of the court, or county counsel as to civil matters, shall not be present during the sessions of the grand jury."

The county counsel is in a particularly sensitive position as regards grand jury inquiry into school districts. He is, by law, the legal adviser to the school districts. His attorney-client relationship, therefore, applies with them rather than with the grand jury.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales declines to say whether he has been asked for advice regarding the reported investigation of Sausalito School District. He commented, however: "Grand juries in other parts of the state are looking into school affairs."

WE DON'T KNOW what the grand jury expects to find in Sausalito School District. Maybe it is just on a fishing expedition. But if it needs to be called off, it has a legal adviser who can call it off — the district attorney, who may attend any or all of its meetings and therefore presumably knows much more about what it is doing than, say, the judge or the county counsel.

In the meantime, we really don't know why the Sausalito School District should mind being investigated. A clean bill of health from the grand jury never hurt anybody.

More About Skunks

Skunks are fascinating creatures, despite their malodorous artillery and a tendency to contract rabies. In harsher climates than ours, a skunk may survive for three months without a meal and lose half its weight. Many starve to death. Only about a third of all skunks survive until their first birthdays.

Being a skunk isn't easy because there are always cats, dogs and men that are anxious to attack it, if only to prove how tough they are. To be fair, however, a trigger-happy skunk can make a neighborhood very unpleasant, and they are also a minor nuisance, digging small holes in the lawn and flower beds, looking for grubs and worms.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

When Lawmakers Legislate On Morals, There's A Catch

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — There's an old saying to the effect that you can't legislate morals, no matter how hard you try.

Nevertheless, the saying doesn't keep legislators from trying, the result frequently being the passage of new laws which confuse the public and do little, if anything, to keep public officials and others on a strictly moral basis when dealing with public issues and public money.

Some years ago, the Legislature voted what are supposed to have been strict rules regulating lobbyists, following some startling disclosures of influence over legislation.

The laws went into effect, and still are in effect, yet lobbying continues with practically no restrictions except that lobbyists are required to list their expenses. This they do, every month, limited to the amounts spent in pursuit of the passage or defeat of legislation in Sacramento.

The latest attempt to legislate morals was effected recently when the Legislature adopted AB 325, by former speaker Jess M. Unruh, requiring public officials to disclose certain stock ownerships and political contributions to campaigns of more than $500.

There is no law the Legislatue ever can pass which cannot be circumvented by politicians who do not wish their financial activities disclosed. The uselessness of such legislation is not only apparent, but has been proven in the case of measures purporting to keep lobbying under regulation.

There is another argument against the Unruh measure which is even more far-reaching. It was brought up when the bill was debated in the senate, where it passed 26-5. This argument was to the effect such a financial disclosure would deter many solid citizens from seeking public office, because their financial interests happen to be nobody's business but their own.

This in itself would have the effect of contributing to the trend toward "professional legislators" which was started under the sponsorship of Assemblyman Unruh when he urged, and the people voted, virtually a full-time Legislature to attend to the lawmaking duties in this state.

The experiment has not worked out very well, as witness the length of time the solons have taken this year to "consider" vital issues, and come to no decision.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

State Hospitals Sadly In Need

Jennifer Carder lived in San Rafael until she was nine months old. Since she required full time medical care her parents were encouraged to place her in Sonoma State Hospital at Eldridge.

Jennifer now lives in Tallman Hall. She may receive her meals if the small staff has time.

Sometimes her family can't see her because the attendant doesn't have time to dress her.

If people who do not have a loved one in a state hospital would take an interest also in their state hospitals, maybe Jennifer and her ward friends would have it a little easier. The parents and hospital staff just aren't being listened to in Sacramento. They need help.

You do not let 300 people go from a hospital and run it just the same. The cold fact is, good care costs money. I guess Reagan is thinking we find other ways of taking care of our people if the hospitals get bad enough. Maybe he is right?

Black Panthers Seen As Menace

I am startled to think that Sausalito School Supt. Phillip Schneider is defending the Black Panthers and their breakfast program. Any person that has his feet on the ground and at the same time does not have his head in the sand knows that the Black Panthers are indoctrinating the kids to be cannon fodder in the planned communist attempt to instigate race riots and revolution in the near future. In fact, to quote J. Edgar Hoover, writing in the FBI annual report for 1969: "The Black Panther party, without question, represents the greatest threat to the internal security of this country." These people are revolutionists in no uncertain terms and they mean business. Most of the adult members of the black community will have nothing to do with them, so they pick on the impressionable kids to sell their program of subversion in America.

Therefore, any person on the public payroll that lends these Black Panthers a helping hand does not deserve the support of the community at large and should be fired forthwith.

Compromise Noted In BCDC Bill

On July 25 you ran an editorial on the BCDC legislation expressing the view that those who favored jurisdiction over a narrow band of 100 feet of shoreline were taking an "all or nothing" position.

Your editorial was probably an emotional reaction to some of the things that occurred at the Senate Finance Committee hearing. It is unfortunate that people got so emotional about this matter but it is understandable when the special interests of a relatively few companies and cities were so forcefully attempting to get exemptions or special amendments to take care of their problems.

Actually the shoreline band which was finally included in the bill is insignificant as compared with the recommendations of the BCDC. . . . The final compromise of 100 feet will not be adequate to protect the use of areas which should be reserved for expansion of ports and airports and for use by water-oriented industries, although it will provide some protection of the right of public access to the Bay.

With respect to your "all or nothing" accusation, I call your attention to the . . . list of amendments to the bill to accommodate the desires of various special interests, all of which were concurred in so that the final compromise bill could receive enough votes to pass. These accommodations were for the special interest of such organizations as Leslie Salt, Sante Fe, West Bay Associates, the P.G.&E. and other utilities, Standard Oil and other oil companies and cities which are concerned over their right to expand shoreline facilities. . . .

Except for your July 25 editorial, we believe that the Independent-Journal has been favorable to the viewpoint of those of us who are concerned about protecting the environment in which we live and work and your reporting on the progress of Bay legislation has been accurate and fair. . . .

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Aug. 6, 1959

The North Marin Pony League collected $1,200 to send its all-star baseball team to the Far West regional playoffs in Provo, Utah, as representatives of Northern California.

The Marin County Labor Council reported the county's employment situation was excellent with several unions short of available workers to meet demands.

20 YEARS AGO

Aug. 6, 1949

The Marin Conservation League opposed use of the Deer Park area for a Faifax school site, contending the land should be preserved for recreation.

Marilyn Van Dyke of Mill Valley set a Far Western A.A.U. record for girls' 50-meter freestyle swim at Fleishhacker Pool, San Francisco.

Fine Officers For False Arrests

Save all taxpayers money. A good way to end false arrests in this county, which has a reputation on making them, would be to fine the officer or officers responsible two weeks pay plus pay the innocent party $10 per hour for every hour detained, also to remember (sic) the innocent for any costs he may have occurred (sic) in his defense and bail as well as traveling expenses.

I believe I am the record holder of raise arrest in Marin County.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

ONE DAY, when Mark Twain tired of a chronic croaker's endless complaining, he exclaimed impatiently, "I've had my trials and troubles, too — and so has everybody else. The Lord has given us both vinegar and honey, but He has given us the vinegar with a teaspoon, and the honey with a shovel."

A THEATRICAL group in Alabama recently put on a production of the Russian classic, "The Cherry Orchard." A mean and heartless Birmingham critic dismissed it as "Southern-fried Chekhov."

THE DRUMMONDS

Nixon's New Policy In Asia Contains Some Ambiguities

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — A major turning point in American foreign policy is taking place under President Nixon. Everything the President said and did on his Asian trip adds up to one conclusion: He is not talking about a radically changed Asian policy, but he is carrying it forward with speed and directives.

What Mr. Nixon told the non-Communist Asian officials is that American armed force must not be viewed as their first line of defense and would not be committed automatically, even in the event of outside aggression.

Their response is not surprising. It is to welcome the President's policy, with uneasiness and anxiety.

WHEN MR. NIXON talks about Asia for the Asians and shows he wants to encourage independence, self-reliance and nationalism, they like it. But when he talks about how Asian nations must be ready to defend themselves, and, ideally, each other, most Asian officials wish they could have it both ways, with U.S. forces ready to come in anywhere at a moment's notice.

This is why the Asian reaction is one of both approval and alarm — agreement with the theory that they should defend themselves but hesitance to face the reality.

THE TIMING is deliberate. Obviously, it stems in part from the staged withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam to try to get the Paris peace talks going. But it also rests on the conviction that only by making it firmly clear the United States is reducing its military involvement will the non-Communist Asian nations make the hard decisions necessary for their own defense.

But isn't there ambiguity in what the President said during the course of his trip? The candid answer is: yes, there is.

His repeated goal is "no more Vietnams," but when he got to Bangkok he assured the Thais that the United States stood solidly behind the Southeast Asia Treaty commitment to help defend Thailand's independence. And it was to honor the SEATO treaty that the United States sent troops to the defense of South Vietnam.

There is ambiguity in these statements, but they are not deceptive. Thai officials know that the SEATO commitment, promising American support if aggression occurs, leaves it open to the United States to determine what form that support shall take.

THE SEATO TREATY did not commit the United States to send ground troops to Vietnam. It doesn't require the United States to put any military forces into Thailand.

But a high White House official, speaking for the President in Bangkok, said that when external forces cross a recognized demarcation line "the Nixon policy would not preclude the use of American combat forces."

If President Nixon wants to avoid future Vietnams, isn't this ambiguity? It is, but it is necessary and inevitable in applying a broad concept to unforeseeable developments. The President of the United States simply can't assert that the national interest would never require the sending of U.S. forces to the Asian continent.

MR. NIXON is serving notice that he is radically reducing future U.S. military involvement. That's clear; that's firm; that's significant. But he is wisely avoiding the mistake of pretending that no circumstances could ever develop that would require U.S. combat troops in Asia. That's just being honest.

How substantial a turning point this is in American foreign policy can be measured by comparing it with the Truman Doctrine which Congress approved in 1947 and which stated:

"It must be the policy of the United States to support free people who are resisting attempted subjection by armed minorities or by Asian oppression."

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Bigger Federal Role Seen In Financing Of Education

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Dr. James E. Allen Jr., the U. S. commissioner of education, is biding his time while the Nixon administration focuses on welfare programs, but he has some very ambitious long-range hopes.

Allen, former education boss in New York state, is reconciled to a short "breather" in the federal government's drive to help the nation's schools and colleges. He has been using the interval to make some changes in the organization of the U. S. Office of Education.

Last year the office of education had a $4.1 billion budget. First President Johnson and then President Nixon tried their hands at trimming that total, this year, and they finally proposed cuts which would amount to about 25 per cent.

CONGRESS is now in the process of restoring some of those cuts. Allen, however, has his eyes on the future — on the budget to be submitted next January and on subsequent budgets stretching into the 1970s.

Office of education summaries indicate that about half of the bond issues proposed by school systems were defeated last year and that many school operating budgets were disapproved. Allen takes this to mean that local governments have just about exhausted local resources in financing local school systems.

The federal government, in the commissioner's view, is going to have to help create "a more stable financial pattern for the support of education in the 1970s."

ALLEN THINKS the system of financing education may be in for a change. He is gingerly suggesting to state and local education officials that the federal government's role is going to have to be one of providing a stable base on which state and local funds can be pyramided.

Allen's office of education experts are studying a number of ways to move in that direction — revenue sharing plans, formulas for general education aid, bloc grants, and continued grants for specific categories of educational programs. No conclusion has been reached as yet with respect to the use of any of them.

The question must be faced up to pretty quickly, however, in Allen's view. He estimates that the nation will be spending $180 billion on elementary and secondary education alone by 1980 By that time, he says, the federal government should be providing about 25 per cent of the total.

RED CONSPIRACY — Trotskyite communists are masterminding those grandiose plans of the Student Mobilization Committee for a "nationwide" student strike Nov. 14 and a "giant" anti-war march on Washington the following day.

SMC is an outgrowth of the Spring Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam that sponsored anti-war demonstrations throughout the country in April 1967. Over the 4th of July weekend, SMC held a so-called "national conference" in Cleveland, Ohio.

Approximately 400 "delegates" attended, of whom around 300 were Young Socialist Alliance members. Chief topic discussed was anti-war and anti-military demonstrations, particularly the Nov. 14-15 affairs.

One haranguer boasted the contemplated Nov. 15 march on Washington would by the "biggest and most momentous of its kind the country has ever seen."

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By LARRY D. HATFIELD

Alert Reporter Lays Bare The Perils Of Skinny-dipping

It is a newspaperman's job to present the naked truth, and in line with that, I offer the following item as proof that I'm doing my duty.

Despite all the flap about Muir Beach's nudeniks, one of the great nude stories from that delightful place has never been exposed. It has to do with a young man's first fling at public skinny-dipping and is retold here just as it came from a Stinson Beach man who gave the kid a ride.

It seems the young man, a San Franciscan, was intrigued by the reports of public displays of nudity at Muir Beach and thought he'd give it a try.

So he hitchhiked over (wearing a short T-shirt, Levis and tennies) and took off his clothes, our informant reports. Now lying around in the sun with nothing on makes a body hot, so the young man (17 years old) went for a swim.

WHILE HE WAS frolicking in the surf, one of the beach's herd of friendly canines appeared and decided to chew on the kid's pants. Seeing this, the young man scrambled out of the water and the dog fled — with the pants in tow — right up the road toward Shoreline Highway.

A few yards up the road, a citizen of Muir Beach confronted the youth — still quite unclothed — and demanded he dress. "I will if I can catch that ——— dog," the thoroughly embarrassed young man shouted, and tried to get around the indignant citizen.

"You're not going up there (on the road)," the man insisted, "even if you did have your pants."

According to the story as retold in a Stinson Beach bar, the boy finally was allowed to resume his chase, only to be met by a Marin County sheriff's deputy's car. The youth jumped in the bushes and the deputy passed, apparently without seeing him.

By this time, the dog — apparently curious about where his pursuer had gone — came wandering back with the Levis still firmly held in his teeth.

THE BOY lunged. The dog jumped. The pants ripped. The rip ran neatly from the botton of the fly zipper clear around the seam, so the boy ended up with a pair of not-yet-fashionalbe backside peek-aboo pants.

"He was sitting down when I stopped to pick him up," our story-teller said, "and he walked kind of funny when he came up to get in the car.

The Stinson Beach man said he felt so sorry for the boy that he took him all the way to San Francisco. "I thought I'd do my part to bridge the generation gap," he chuckled in a neat double entendre.

And so ends the story of, as the story-teller described him, "The barefoot boy with cheek."

THE PEOPLE'S SCHOOLS

Court Hits Monopoly Role Of Accrediting Groups

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The regional associations which accredit American colleges and high schools have been declared in violation of the anti-trust laws by a District of Columbia federal court.

The ruling has brought alarm in the associations and prompt notice of appeal. It undoubtedly will be fought all the way to the U. S. Supreme Court.

It was handed down by Judge John Lewis Smith Jr. of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, in a suit brought by Marjorie Webster Junior College.

This is a privately owned school in the nation's capital, which is operated as a profit-making institution. Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools —one of six regional accrediting agencies which blanket the United States — refused to accept Webster Junior College as a member because of its proprietary status. As membership is a pre-requisite to evaluation for accreditation purposes, this means the school cannot be accredited.

THIS, HELD JUDGE Smith, constitutes illegal restraint of trade, since lack of accreditation "stigmatizes the school as being of inferior quality and thereby discourages applicants."

He pointed out that there are three college-level schools — all in California — which are operated as profit-making institutions yet are accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, the regional association accrediting Pacific Coast schools. These are Armstrong College in Berkeley, Woodbury College in Los Angeles, and Brooks Institute of Photography in Santa Barbara.

The three were admitted before the six regional associations created an over-all body called the Federation of Regional Accrediting Commissions, which in 1964 adoped a rule that no more proprietary schools would be admitted.

MOST PARENTS probably are unaware of the role of the accrediting associations. When they see that a high school or college is "fully accredited," they probably assume this means it has been accredited by the state. Not so, however, Although some states have their own apparatus for accrediting schools, it is the extra-legal associations, spawned by teacher-training colleges, whose accreditation is accepted in the education field.

James D. Koerner, in his book, "Who Controls American Education?" had this to say about them:

"Collectively and individually they can dictate educational policy. In higher education the accredited label of the regional associations is coveted by our institutions and is in fact indispensable to most of them; it is the minimum criterion, wisely or not, used by parents in choosing a college, by employers in hiring the school's graduates, by government departments and by foundations in dispenisng grants and contracts, and by the general public in assessing the institution."

JUDGE SMITH recognized this situation in his ruling that the associations cannot arbitrarily deny membership to an indsitution because they do not like its corporate set-up.

The implications of his ruling are hinted by a memorandum which was promptly circulated to member institutions. It warned that, if Judge Smith's decision stands, a school or college denied membership or accreditation can go to court charging conspiracy, and perhaps collect triple damages under the anti-trust laws.

THE ASSOCIATIONS based their arguments against admitting Webster Junior College on the contention that for a school to be operated for profit is contrry to the principles of education (Armstrong, Woodbury, and Brooks Institute notwithstanding).

Judge Smith dismissed this with the terse comment: "Educational excellence is determined not by the method of financing but by the quality of the program." He called the rule barring proprietary schools "arbitrary, discriminatory and unreasonable."

Besides its direct implications, Judge Smith's ruling gives rise to some interesting speculations. For instance, might not the National Education Association's imposition of "sanctions" to whip a school district into line also be a violation of the anti-trust laws?

Budget Control Meeting For School District

A method of budget control to reduce expenditures of the Bolinas-Stinson Beach Union School District will be considered by the district board at its 8 p.m. meeting Monday at Bolinas School.

The board is aiming at ways to hold down expenses in several items of its 1969-70 budget passed Monday night which it considered too high.

The board also will study the "Time of Your Life" sex education program, use and purchase of playground equipment and supplies, summer recreation programs and the district's liability in cases of unauthorized use of school property.

A closed session will follow the regular meeting to reconsider the resignation of Erika Zettl who taught last year in Bolinas, changing it to a one-year leave of absence instead.

Insurance Burglary

Burglars Monday night took $150 from the State Farm Insurance Co. 410 Petaluma Boulevard South, Petaluma, police reported. All insurance offices had been looted.

Man Arraigned For Marijuana

I-J Special Report

CLEAR LAKE — Robert G. Vogel, 24, of 1151 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, was arraigned yesterday in Lakeport Justice Court on a charge of marijuana possession and ordered to appear Aug. 19 to plead to the charge.

Vogel was arrested Sunday near Konocti Harbor Inn by Lake County sheriff's deputies along with two 17-year-old youths from Fairfax and San Anselmo who were charged with possession of alcohol and later released to the custody of their parents.

Vogel made $1250 bail yesterday. His attorney is Bruce B. Bruchler of Lakeport.

Officials To Inspect Community Workshop

National officials of United Cerebral Palsy will visit the Marin Community Workshop, 70 K Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, at 10 a.m. Friday.

James Black, national executive director, and Robert McDonald, national president, will visit to assess the program which the national organization has supported with $2,500 a year for the past two years.

Closed Session

The San Rafael Fire Commission will meet in closed session at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall to hear charges against a fireman, according to John T. Goodale, recording secretary of the commission.

Three Counties Are Targets For Antismog Board

Solano, Napa, Sonoma Face District's Use Of 'Muscle'

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — A two-pronged attack to force Sonoma Napa and Solano Counties to join the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District was ordered today by district directors.

Directors, noting they had waited patiently for 14 years for the three counties to join voluntarily, agreed to seek both legislative and legal action to force them into the district.

The state law that created the district 14 years ago provided that the nine counties in the Bay Area would join the district only if they wished. Six counties, including Marin joined.

However, all nine Bay Area counties are part of an interci rculating system of air which moves it from county to county.

The district's chief administrative officer, D. J. Callaghan, was requested to outline legal steps the district can take and to report to the board at its September meeting.

Director Victor Calvo, a Santa Clara County supervisor, said, "The rest of us in the district have enough muscle to get legislation next year putting those three counties in our district." The boards of supervisors in the three counties, he said, "are controlled by supervisors from agricultural areas who don't want air pollution control. .. . Unless you put the pressure on, they'll never come in,"

Legislation would merely delete the optional facet of joining the district.

San Francisco Supervisor William C. Blake suggested legal action could be taken by having the district's technical experts find that there were grounds for declaring the three counties nuisances.

The matter came up after Contra Costa County Supervisor James P. Kenny complained that residents of his county, facing a ban on backyard burning, could look across the Sacramento River and see open burning polluting the sky over Solano County.

Green Beret Killing Plot Rocks Army

Colonel, Aides Accused Of Viet National's Murder

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Army uncorked a military mystery today by charging the former commander of Green Beret forces in Vietnam and seven of his staff — including three intelligence officers — with murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

The eight are charged in the shooting of a Vietnamese man June 20 near Nha Trang, headquarters of the 5th Special Forces 200 miles northeast of Saigon. But the U.S. Command gave no details.

Charged in the slaying are Col. Robert B. Rheault, 43, a West Pointer from Vineyard Haven, Mass., who commanded the 5th Special Forces until relieved last month; two majors, three captains, a chief warrant officer and a sergeant first class.

INTELLIGENCE AIDES

Associated Press photographer Rick Merron reported from Nha Trang that three of those charged were intelligence officers.

They were identified as Maj. Thomas C. Middleton Jr., Jefferson, S.C., group intelligence officer; Maj. David E. Crew of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, commander of a military intelligence detachment, and CWO2 Edward M. Boyle of New York City, a member of Crew's unit.

UNIT SHOCKED

Merron reported that the Green Berets received the news of the charges with shock and dismay.

Most Special Forces troopers said they were completely in the dark about the charges.

U.S. military officials would not disclose the identity of the dead man or any other details of the case. They claimed such a disclosure would prejudice the case.

The Army dropped the bombshell in an offhand manner. There was no news conference. A communique announcing the charges was quietly placed among routine press releases in

Warheads Secrets Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-eight of the nation's 41 nuclear-powered Polaris submarines already have missiles capable of carrying three warheads each, Pentagon sources report.

With 16 missiles aboard each sub, this means two-thirds of the Polaris fleet could attack an enemy with 1,344 warheads — that is more than the 1,054 land-based Minuteman missiles.

Key members of congressional committees have known about the multiheaded nature of the Polaris A3 missile for years and it has been a rather open secret in military circles.

But some critics of the Pentagon may choose now to use the A3 as an argument against the administration's proposal for a new generation of weapons called MIRV—multiple individu-

ABM Backers Hit Critics As Scoffers

WASHINGTON (UPI) —The Senate, heading for a late-afternoon vote on President Richard M. Nixon's proposed missile defense plan, was told today that critics who say the Safeguard system won't work sound like those who scoffed "when the first automobile chugged down the street."

Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., one of the leading advocates of the proposal to deploy an antiballistic missile (ABM) system, also said Congress would be foolishly throwing away a chance on agreement with Russia on limiting ABM defenses if it rejected the Safeguard proposal.

PLEADING

Jackson pleaded with his colleagues to approve ABM deployment. Responding to allegations by many foes of the plan that the Safeguard would not work, Jackson said:

"This is not the first time we have heard this argument against a new development.

"When the first automobile chugged down the street there were loud cries of 'the darn thing will never work. Get a horse.' When the first pair of pajamas was put on sale a man looked at it and predicted it would never replace the old fashioned night shirt."

NEGOTIATIONS

Jackson said: "I am confident President Nixon is going to be in a better position to negotiate with the Soviets on nuclear arms control, when the

Returned Prisoners See Apollo Films

BANGKOK, Thailand (AP) — Three U.S. war prisoners freed by North Vietnam flew to Bangkok toay and caught up on history—America's moon landing.

They had, of course, never seen the live television of Apollo 11 and they said they had not been told about it in their prison camp.

Lt. Robert F. Frishman of Santee, (San Diego County), Capt. Wesley Rumble of Oroville, and Seaman Douglas Brent Hegdahl of Watertown, S.D., sat in an air-conditioned guest house of the U.S. ambassador and watched the film.

"It was great," said Hegdahl. "We saw both the Apollo 11 movie and a movie about the space program. It was great to catch up on things."

The moon movie was one of the highlights of the first full day of freedom for the three Americans. The day also brought them their first set of civilian clothes, their first can of beer and their first chance to look at a newspaper in years.

They flew from Hanoi to Vientiane last night then came on to Bangkok today to catch a Trans World Airlines flight home to the United States where they are due Thursday.

"It's great to be back," Frishman said on his arrival in Bangkok.

Although thin and pale as a result of their months in the prison camp, all three men appeared healthy.

Rennie Davis, leader of the four-member pacifist group escorting the three men, was carrying home a package of 50 letters to deliver to the families of other prisoners in Hanoi. An estimated 400 Americans are held prisoner in North Vietnam.

GOP Pledges Tax Reform Next Year

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Republican leadership in the Legislature launched today a new tax reform study program aimed at overhauling the state's massive and complex taxing structure next year.

The tax reform drive was announced by Assembly Speaker Robert T. Monagan, R-Tracy, as the legislature pushed for adjournment by the end of the week with Republican Gov. Reagan's own tax reform program dead.

Monagan, in a joint news conference with Senate President pro tem Howard Way, R-Exeter, announced a three-pronged program:

1. Plans for a series of between-session hearings by the joint tax committees of the Assembly and Senate under the chairmanship of Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, head of the lower house committee.

EXPERTS PANEL

2. Activation of a 30-member tax reform committee composed of technical experts from all corners of state government. Its first meeting was scheduled today.

3. Creation of a joint committee to study the effects of federal tax reform now under consideration in Congress.

Although Reagan failed two years in a row to get tax reform, "it is not a dead issue," Monagan said.

"And it is certainly not impossible. Tax reform is coming," he said.

NOT THIS YEAR

Monagan doubted, however, that action could be taken in a special legislative session later this year, a possibility raised by Reagan. The state has to see what Congress does before revising its own tax program, he said.

"We want to be prepared for early action on tax reform next year," the GOP speaker said.

Six Hurt In Head-On Stolen Car Collision

Six persons were injured, one of them seriously, in a head-on collision in Sausalito last night which also resulted in the arrest of a 19-year-old youth on suspicion of driving a stolen car and possession of dangerous drugs.

Three others also were arrested on drug counts, Sausalito police said.

Held in Marin County Jail to appear this afternoon in municipal court was Timothy Joseph Deuser, 19, of Pensacola, Fla. and San Francisco. Deuser's injuries were minor and did not require hospitalization.

Listed in poor condition in Marin General Hospital's intensive care unit today was Herman Sahata, 24, of San Francisco (listed by Sausalito police as a John Doe). He was being treated for broken teeth, a cut chin and possible head injury.

Also hospitalized and reported in fair condition today at Marin General, were two other passengers in the car driven by Deuser. John Brewer, 22, of San Francisco, suffered extensive scalp cuts and Irwin Lee Maxwell, 35, also of San Francisco, was being treated for a cut scalp and a possible head injuries.

Elizabeth Waddell, 49, and Shera Eisenberger, 55, both of San Francisco and both passengers in the second car, were treated for multiple bruises at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in San Francisco.

Jack Leon Eisenberger, of San Francisco, the driver of the second car, apparently was not injured.

Sausalito Police Chief James D. Wright said Deuser was driving on South Street where it curves into Alexander Street and swerved into the path of Eisenberger's car in the northbound lane at about 8 p.m.

It was later discovered that the car Deuser was driving was stolen from Glendale, Los Angeles County, Wright said. He added that a green and white capsule, suspected of being a dangerous drug, was found in Deuser's shirt pocket. Still incomplete reports did not indicate if any other narcotics were found.

Wright said Sahata, Brewer and Maxwell also were arrested on suspicion of drug possession, but none of the three had been booked yet because they were still hospitalized.

Tax Reform Faction Asks More Relief

WASHINGTON (AP) — House tax reformers set the stage for today's debate on their massive bill by adding an extra $2.4 billion of tax relief, mainly for low and moderate income recipients.

A vote on the reform measure is expected tomorrow.

Sponsors estimate the bill ultimately would bring in $6.8 billion in extra revenue by tightening down on tax preferences in 27 areas.

It would ultimately pay out $9.2 billion in tax relief. Principal beneficiaries would be the poor, low and moderate income recipients, widows, widowers and mature single persons maintaining households.

Next year, however, the bill would serve the government's objective of fiscal restraint to cool inflation by stepping up collections $4.1 billion against a $1.6 billion payout. Most of the relief provision said reductions take effect in 1971 and 1972.

The measure also provides for extension of the income surtax,

Committee Agrees On School Aid Bill

SACRAMENTO (AP) — A Senate-Assembly conference committee agreed today on a school finance bill that would send up to $133.7 million in new state aid to local schools in the coming year. (Other Legislature stories pages 6, 7 and 23.)

The compromise bill was expected to be ratified by the Legislature within a day or so and sent to Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The figure represents a compromise between the $188.9 million advocated by the Assembly and the $95 million passed by the Senate.

There is no guarantee, however, that local school officials will have the full $133.7 million to work with. The budget signed by Reagan last month allocates only $120.5 million in definite new money.

The extra amount will come from whatever surplus turns up in the budget during the year. State officials will provide a firm estimate on what that amount will be by Nov. 1.

The legislative conferees said they think at least a $13 million surplus will be found, and perhaps more.

They also provided for spending any money that is available above the $133.7 million. The first $5 million extra would go for special reading programs in 27 counties which have so-called "disadvantaged" students, usually meaning poor Negroes and Mexican-Americans from urban or rural slums.

In addition, anything above the $5 million would be used for junior college construction, with a limit of $30 million on that.

Reagan administration officials have estimated that the eventual figure for new school aid will be no higher than $140

Kiesinger Asks Better Relations With East Bloc

NEW YORK (AP) — Chancellor Kurt Georg Kiesinger said today that West Germany would "sacrifice unification" and other national goals regarding East Germany "to get better relations" with the nations of Eastern Europe.

The West German chancellor said his nation's relations with East Europe would "parallel" those of the United States, depending upon whether or not the Soviet Union contributed something of substance to these hoped-for developments.

Kiesinger replied to questions regarding the effect of President Richard M. Nixon's recent Romanian visit upon West German relations with the Eastern European Communist bloc.

He spoke in front of the Waldorf Towers as he was preparing to go to the United Nations for talks with U.N. Secretary-General U Thant and then fly to Washington for talks with Nixon.

Judge Denies Request — Probe Still Slated

NEW BEDFORD, Mass. (AP) — Edgartown District Court Judge James A. Boyle today tentatively denied Dist. Atty. Edmund Dinis' request for an inquest into Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's July 18 auto accident.

But Dinis said through a spokesman that he would go ahead with plans for the inquest anyway, moving under provisions of the state's inquest law.

Mariner 7 Snaps Close-Up Of Mars South Polar Cap

PASADENA (UPI) — Man got his first close look at the dazzling white south polar cap of Mars last night in television photos taken by Mariner 7 as it flashed by 3,000 miles away.

The cap looked like a snowy fringe of white over the south pole of the mysterious planet. In some pictures it seemed to spill over into surrounding dark craters, and in others it had the appearance of a hazy cloud.

Although "snowy" seemed the most apt description of the polar cap, scientists leaned toward the theory it is composed of frozen carbon dioxide, dry ice, and perhaps is only one yard thick.

One of the objectives of Mariner 7 was to find out if it is dry ice or water ice. If it is composed of water, deemed unlikely, the possibility some form of life could exist or has existed on Mars would be significantly increased. The answer may come at a special briefing tomorrow when scientists have had a chance to examine readings from the instruments aboard Mariner 7.

FBI, Two States Search In Slayings

ANDREW MANUEL
Sought by FBI

YPSILANTI, Mich. (UPI)—California and Michigan police today sought further links in a chain they believe could tie together a series of murders in both states.

Monterey County sheriff's deputies said yesterday there was a definite connection between seven slayings of young women in the Ann Arbor-Ypsilanti area and the killing near Salinas of Roxie Ann Phillips, 17, of Milwaukie, Ore.

The key to the killing, police believe, is John Norman Collins, a senior in elementary education at Eastern Michigan University.

Collins, 22, faces examination Thursday on first-degree murder charges in the sex slaying of 18-year-old EMU coed Karen Sue Beineman, who was last seen alive two weeks ago today leaving a downtown wig shop with a young man on a motorcycle.

Two Michigan detectives went to Salinas earlier this week to investigate a trailer allegedly stolen and hauled to California by Collins and a missing friend, Andrew Julian Manuel, 25. Manuel is being sought by the FBI on a federal fugitive warrant.

Michigan state police Sgt. Ken Christiansen told newsmen earlier there was "a strong inference that Collins is involved" in the killing of Miss Phillips, wto disappeared June 30 while visiting friends in Salinas.

Monterey County sheriff's officials said yesterday they have found a girl who knew both Miss Phillips and Collins.

Nancy Albrecht, 17, Fort Worth, Tex., reportedly told police she allowed Collins to drive her home one day in Salinas, where she was visiting her sister, Mrs. Francis Gauthier. Miss Albrecht said the youth told her he was studying to be a teacher at Eastern Michigan University, and made a date to return to the home the following night, June 30, but broke it.

Miss Phillips disappeared the next day on the way to mail a letter. Her nude, decomposed body was found at an illegal dump in nearby Carmel nearly two weeks later. Police said the method of her savage killing resembled the Michigan slayings.

Police here said Arnold Davis, a close friend of Collins, told them he was with Collins and another man in the car that picked up Miss Joan Schell, 20, on the last night she was seen alive one year ago.

Police said Davis told them Collins dropped him and the other man off, and was to have picked up Miss Schell later. Her nude, sexually molested body was found a week later in a lovers lane area. Her throat had been slashed and she had been stabbed five times.

Coroner Calls Killer Of Two 'Psychopath'

SAN JOSE (UPI) — Two young girls slain while picnicking were the victims of a sexual psychopath and died in a "frenzied flurry of knife-wounds" inflicted so swiftly that neither could even struggle against their attacker.

This is the opinion of Dr. John E. Hauser, Santa Clara County Coroner, who was so shaken by the brutal crime he groped for words to express his thoughts.

"You know, I've been in this profession a long time and sometimes I think I'm rather callous, but when I saw these girls, believe me it was terrifying," Hauser said yesterday.

Hauser said the body of Kathy Snoozy, 15, had 150 stab wounds on her back, 50 on the front and a "storm" of punctures on her neck. The body of Deborah Gay Furlong, 14, had 100 wounds on her back and upper front and an uncounted number on her neck.

The bodies of the two girls were discovered Sunday on a grassy knoll not more than six blocks from their parents' homes in San Jose's suburban Almaden area.

Chief of detectives Barton L. Collins said his men have talked to 200 people so far searching for clues to the slayings, but have yet to turn up any substantial information.

"We don't have a thing," he told newsmen.

He said he would like to talk in "the worst way" with Andrew J. Manuel, being sought by the FBI in the investigation of seven coed murders in Michigan and five similar slayings in California.

Manuel is known to have been in Salinas, 35 miles south of San Jose, as recently as last Thursday. However, Collins said he had no direct clues linking Manuel with the San Jose slayings.

Collins' men were looking for a white mini-bus parked in the area at the time of the slayings. No blood was found on the ground near the bodies, indicating the girls were slain elsewhere, possibly inside the vehicle.

Hauser said he was puzzled by numerous aspects of the slayings. He said neither girl had been sexually molested, neither had suffered any wounds below the waist and neither showed evidence of struggling to escape.

Glen Furlong, father of Deborah, was close to tears as he told newsmen he was allowing interviews in the hope that publicity "would trigger something in someone's mind and we can solve this crime."

Wife Divorces Hearst Publisher

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—George Randolph Hearst Jr., 41, was divorced yesterday by his wife of 17 years who testified his "selfish attitude" made her a "polo widow."

Mrs. Mary Thompson Hearst, 37, said her husband "wanted to do what he wanted to do."

Anderson's Manager Out Over Police

Nine striking members of this Sacramento Valley lumber town's 12-man force agreed to return to work today and to continue wage-benefits negotiations that broke off yesterday.

Their walkout last Friday came after Oberholtzer fired Police Chief Christopher Bell, who had opposed a council decision cutting four dispatchers from his staff to balance the budget.

The council set an Aug. 18 hearing to determine whether Bell will be rehired.

Oberholtzer claimed in a letter to Bell that the chief had failed to resolve interdepartmental disputes and had brought grievances to the public in a newspaper article without Oberholtzer's approval.

After speakers from an audience of 600 voiced strong support for Bell, the city manager said, "The walkout was illegal so reinstating them was illegal and ill advised."

"The action of the council with the support of persons here tonight indicates that the people of Anderson ... would prefer to have an errand boy rather than a city manager," he said.

Silent Vigil Protests Nuclear Weapon Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 40 pacifists held a quiet vigil in front of the White House last night to mark the 24th anniversary of the dropping of the atomic bomb on Hiroshima, Japan.

Many were part of a Quaker action group that in 1967 sent $10,000 worth of medical supplies to North Vietnam. Several were veterans of an earlier around-the-world cruise protesting the American H-bomb testing.

Atom Bomb's Anniversary Remembered

TOKYO (UPI)—Prime Minister Cisaku Sato marked the 24th anniversary of the U.S. atom bomb attack on Hiroshima today by predicting the United States will return Okinawa to Japan within three years.

Sato said he was certain Okinawa and the rest of the Ryukyu Islands would be returned to Japanese control by 1972 but did not explain why he selected that year.

The conservative, pro-American prime minister is scheduled to visit Washington in November for talks with President Nixon on Okinawa, which was captured from Japan in the last stages of World War II.

Sato commented during a nationally televised news conference, one of the few he holds annually. Before the news conference, Sato said he offered one minute of silent prayer to the estimated 250,000 victims of history's first atom bomb raid, 75,000 of whom were killed outright on that day 24 years ago.

In Hiroshima, about 50,000 persons offered silent prayers at the Peace Memorial Park, near the target of the Aug. 6, 1945 attack.

Mideast Guns Blaze Across Suez Canal

TEL AVIV (AP) — Artillery and small arms duels continued along the Suez Canal during the night, and three Israeli soldiers were slightly wounded, the army said today.

It was the third straight day of fighting along the 103-mile waterway separating the armies of Egypt and Israel.

Auto Makers Facing More Cost Increases

DETROIT (AP) — The 1970 car models will hardly have gone on display before the cost of building autos takes three more fast jumps.

Industry sources who decline to be named view a price increase as "inevitable," with some forecasting $100 to $150 as the range.

The industry got the news July 30 that prices would be $6 to $8 a ton higher for most of the steel products it uses.

Next comes a series of hikes in labor costs.

Under current contracts with the United Auto Workers Union, a new fringe benefit is effective Oct. 1 for hourly rated workers at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler: The companies assume the cost of prescription drugs and refills beyond a charge of $2 each.

This new fringe benefit, estimated to cost 1.5 cents hourly per worker, goes on top of a company-paid hospital-medical-surgical insurance plan good for up to 365 days of semi-private accommodations for an employee and his dependents.

A cost-of-living escalator, on with the index of the Bureau of Labor Statistics, will add nine cents an hour on Oct. 27.

On Nov. 24 an automatic so-called annual improvement factor increase of 3 per cent takes effect.

The current hourly straight-time wage in Big Three factories is $3.83.

With the 9-cent cost-of-living increase and the 3 per cent annual improvement factor the straight-time hourly wage will go to $4.04 for the final year of current three-year contracts.

Contracts, negotiated in 1967, run out together on Sept. 14, 1970 for Chrysler Corp., Ford Motor Co., and General Motors Corp. Bargaining on new ones will begin next summer.

Some hint of what may be in the wind could show up later this month when the UAW and American Motors Corp. open negotiations to replace a two-year pact expiring Oct. 16.

Right-Wing Cabinet Takes Italian Posts

ROME (AP) — Premier Mariano Rumor and a new all-Christian Democrat minority cabinet took office today, providing a stopgap solution to a month-long Italian government crisis.

Reed Budget Down But Tax Rate Up

A 1969-70 tax rate of $3.689 per $100 assessed valuation, an increase of 15.9 cents over last year's rate, was approved last night by the Reed School District Board, chairman Leo Souza reported.

Trustees also approved a final budget of $2,000,990 down $73,878 from last year's budget of $2,074,868, Souza said.

The seeming conflict of an increase in taxes to finance a budget which is less than last year's is because last year's budget was out of balance with revenues raised by the approved tax rate of $3.53 per $100 assessed valuation and the budget total was later slashed by $227,868 to bring the budget in balance.

This year's final budget is up $40,193 from the publication budget approved July 15 with increases due mainly to carryovers from closing accounts at the end of the fiscal year.

According to Souza, the tax rate hike was caused by increases in three override tax categories: Building loan payments to the state, financing of the educationally handicapped program by override taxes for the first time and increased health and welfare benefits for teachers, approved earlier this year.

A motion by trustee James Richwagen to finance the educationally handicapped program with general purpose funds, rather than override funds, was defeated 3-2 with trustee Kenneth G. Wells supporting Richwagen.

The tax rate includes a $2.25 general purpose levy and $1.439 in override taxes.

The Reed School District Board also:

LEASE — Approved a lease agreement with the City of Tiburon for joint use of a corporation yard adjacent to Reed School.

NAME — Postponed to Oct. 7 discussion of renaming Reed School to allow student and teacher discussion.

RESIGNATIONS — Accepted the resignations of custodians Kenneth Brooks and Roy Fisher.

EMPLOYMENT — Authorized the hiring of Frederick M. Cardoza as a gardener-custodian at a monthly salary of $485; Robert Hardison as part time custodian at $304; and Naomi Mills as a teacher at the Reed complex for $11,175 a year.

Youth Hurt As Car Strikes Tree

A Novato youth was injured last night when his car skidded into property in front of a home on Peacock Drive in San Rafael.

The car driven by David A. Nolt, 18, of 395 Alameda de la Loma, Novato, was going west on Lagoon Road east of Peacock Drive at 11:05 p.m. according to Police, when it hit a mailbox, fence, outdoor light and tree in front of the home owned by Jorgen V. Lunding at 4 Peacock Drive.

Nolt suffered a cut arm and back pains, it was reported by Marin General Hospital. A passenger, Richard M. Scheid, was uninjured.

Hub Tax Rate Raised By New School Costs

San Anselmo School District trustees last night adopted a $1,917,971 budget for 1969-70, a hike of $81,620 over last year's $1,836,350 budget, and estimated the tax rate would be set at $3.425 per $100 assessed valuation.

That rate would be 13 cents higher than last year's $3.295 rate, Supt. Stephen L. Parodi reported.

He said the reason for the budget increase is partly a newly authorized dental care program for all employees in the district expected to cost about $10,500 by next July.

Last night the board approved an agreement for the dental care at $6.00 per month per employee with the California Dental Service.

The dental program will include teachers, staff and employees at all levels in the district, Parodi said.

In other action, the board approved plans to hire a landscape architect to check soil erosion that Parodi said had occurred beneath Sleepy Hollow School, which is built on a large concrete and reinforced steel slab.

San Anselmo School District Trustees also:

RECOMMENDATION—Agreed to send a second letter to the San Anselmo City Council recommending Terra Linda Recreation Supervisor Larry Husband be appointed to the San Anselmo Recreation Commission. An earlier letter has not yet been acted on, Parodi reported to the board.

TEACHERS — Hired two teachers at Isabel Cook School, Betsy Harnett at $8,006 to teach 4th grade and Louise Weston at $7,585 who will teach 1st grade.

a rack at the U.S. press center.

Rheault, whose wife and three children live in Vineyard Haven, was second in command of the 5th Special Forces Group in 1964-65 and returned to Vietnam to take command of the elite Green Berets last May 29, three weeks before the killing. He was relieved of command on July 21.

He is an expert on counterinsurgency and guerrilla warfare, having served as a special assistant in special operations for the Joint Chiefs of Staff in Washington in 1966. A West Point graduate in 1946, he served in Germany with the 6th Armored Cavalry Regiment and in Korea with the 3rd Infantry Division, and has won three Legions of Merit, the Bronze Star and the Air Medal.

Suspect Youths Cornered By Gun

Two Novato youths were arrested today on suspicion of burglary after an off-duty San Francisco policeman held them at gunpoint at his Loma Verde home, sheriff's deputies reported.

Glenn Michael Anthony Richardson, 18, of 7060 Redwood Highway, Apt. 45, was booked into Marin County Jail. Kim Richard Adams, 17, of the same address, was booked into juvenile hall.

Deputies said Robert L. Lenzio of 1060 Calle Empinado heard noises in his garage at 12:30 a.m., took his service revolver and got the drop on the two youths in the garage.

They reportedly were taking food and beer from a freezer when Lenzio leveled his .38 pistol at them.

No bail was set for Richardson pending arraignment today in Marin Municipal Court.

Police Report Two Burglaries

Two burglaries were reported today by San Rafael police.

An electric typewriter and adding machine, valued at $339, were reported stolen betweeen Monday and yesterday from the A to Z Rentals, 116 Jacoby Street Police said entry was made by breaking a rear window.

Police also reported lumber, valued at $25, was stolen Tuesday from a home under construction by Galli Homes at Main Drive and San Pedro Road.

Meeting Postponed

A scheduled meeting of the Larkspur Library Board last night was postponed until Sept. 2 because of vacation absences, Mrs. Frederic L. Brenlin, chairman, reported.

Volunteer Work Day For Pioneer Park Sprinklers

Final plans for a volunteer work day to install the sprinkler system in Pioneer Memorial Park were made last night by the Novato Civic Foundation Board, according to president David Price Jones.

Work will start at 7 a.m., Aug. 16 and last all day, he said. The Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is furnishing the trenching machinery, Jones said. Indian Valley Landscaping Co. under the direction of Jack J. Burgi will furnish five men to work on the project.

The Novato Public Works Department will furnish supervisor's and members of the parks and recreation advisory commission will donate their labor. The civic foundation will provide lunch and cold drinks for the workers.

The Novato Junior Women's Club told the foundation board that it would make raising money for the foundation their project for the coming year, Jones said.

The board called for eliminating the spray pool and having just a small sail boat lagoon, Jones said.

Woman Hurt In Two-Car Crash

A Novato woman received minor injuries in a two car accident at 3:25 p.m., yesterday in front of 902 Grant Avenue, Novato, police reported.

Treated at the Hamilton Air Force Base Hospital for chest pains and a skinned right knee and elbow was Hertha M. Bretz, 48, of 2004 Feliz Road.

Police reported that her westbound car collided with one backing out of an angle parking place. Driver of the other car, James A. Kidder, 20, of 583 Louis Drive, was cited for unsafe backing, according to police.

at 5 per cent, for the first six months of 1970.

Democratic liberals who wanted a chance to offer an amendment to knock out the surtax extension were rebuffed yesterday when the House Rules Committee cleared the measure for House action under no-amendment procedures.

Liberals scored, however, when the Ways and Means Committee in a special session rejuggled the tax rate tables to provide more relief, especially for low and moderate income recipients.

Committee spokesmen said the action guarantees every ordinary taxpayer with income under $100,000 at least a 5 per cent reduction in his tax bill.

Ways and Means Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., said this had been the intention of the committee all along. He said the tables as originally drafted for the bill were faulty because of misunderstandings with staff and Treasury technicians.

Among its many provisions, the bill would cut the oil depletion allowance from 27.5 to 20 per cent and trim other advantages for the oil industry; narrow special depreciation rules for real estate; repeal the investment credit for business purchase of equipment; tighten rules on large donations of appreciated property and the claiming of farm losses against non-farm income.

On the benefit side, the bill includes a low-income allowance to take 2 million poor families off the tax rolls and afford relief to others well above the poverty line; a general rate reduction in 1971 and 1972; special benefits for surviving spouses and for mature single persons maintaining their own households and a 50 per cent tax limit on earned income, however large.

million. State school aid now totals about $1.5 billion a year.

The basic $133.7 million would be divided this way: $84.2 million in basic aid for all schools; $41.2 million in additional funds for districts which still need more aid to provide adequate programs; $8 million in new money for the statewide program emphasizing specialized reading instruction in elementary grades; and $300,000 for a study on how schools can spend their money to get the most out of each dollar.

The bill also seeks to end double sessions in kindergarten classes within two years. And it would continue until at least July 1, 1973, the current law requiring a vote of the people to raise most school taxes. Present law provides that these voter override elections would not be required starting in 1971.

Final County Rabies Clinic

Final rabies vaccination clinics for dogs will be held tomorrow and next Tuesday by the Marin County Health Department.

Thursday's clinic will be at the San Rafael schools administration building, Third and E streets; Tuesday's at Marion School, 1705 Marion Avenue, Novato; both sessions from 6 to 8 p.m.

The law requires dogs 4 months and older to be vaccinated and tagged, unless so treated since Jan. 1.

$100 Burglary

Currency totaling $100 has been stolen from her apartment, Kathy Marie Kidd of 503 Pineo Avenue, Apt. 2, Tamalpais Valley, reported to sheriff's deputies. She said the theft took place Sunday.

Panel Studies Gnoss Field Runway Use

The Marin County Aviation Commission took steps last night to determine whether a portion of the old runway at Gnoss Field could be rehabiliated for crosswind use.

Francis E. Torr, airport manager, said a large group of pilots appeared at the commission meeting to urge a crosswind runway.

Commissioner Melville Dickson was named to work with Torr and the base operators to study reopening of part of the old runway. Torr said he told the audience that the present county budget contained no funds for rehabilitation work.

The state Aeronautics Board has allocated $44,700 to help build a new crosswind runway at the field, but that money will not be available until the 1971 fiscal year. Federal and county funds will be needed as well.

In other matters last night, the commission discussed possible annexation of the airport to the City of Novato and what steps could be taken to merge the aims of the County of Marin and its cities on airport development.

Commissioner William W. Schwarzer was chosen to provide liaison between the cities and county.

Another ABM supporter, Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr., D-Va., agreed.

"President Nixon believes it will strengthen his hand in negotiations with the Russians," Byrd said. "I agree."

The public galleries filled slowly as the debate began. But the Senate families took over one of the galleries normally open to tourists.

Just after the session started a woman in the visitors' gallery screamed: "I prophesy against the ABM in the name of the Lord! Listen! Listen! Listen!"

She was escorted out of the chamber by two men.

Record Power Drain During Heat Wave

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The current hot spell has air conditioners and refrigerators humming in northern and central California at a record rate.

Pacific Gas & Electric Company reports that at 3 p.m. Monday, PG&E was turning out 8.4 million kilowatts of energy in northern and central California. This was about 100,000 kilowatts more than the previous record set July 19, 1968.

Man Booked In Abuse Of 7-Year-Old Youth

Booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of performing an unnatural sex act with bail set at $6,250, was Charles E. Lawder, 42, of Houston. He was scheduled to appear this afternoon in Marin Municipal Court.

Another Workday For Church Playground

Another workday to complete the playground at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church in Marin City will begin at 9 a.m. Saturday, according to Rev. James Symons.

Workers are needed to build a foundation for 90 cubic yards of tanbark. Lunch for workers will be provided by the women of the church.

studies in the past but Monagan disagreed that it had been "studied to death."

He acknowledged, however, that politics has been the main problem.

"I hope we can put aside all political considerations ... It's going to take a relatively strong bipartisan effort to do this," Monagan said.

The speaker said, in reply to a question, that he had not consulted Democrats in planning the new study.

Monagan said portions of Reagan's own plan would not necessarily be abandoned. "They will be given full consideration" during the study, he said.

Earlier, Assembly Democratic Leader Jesse M. Unruh challenged Reagan to bring his dormant tax program up for a vote before the regular legislative session ends.

ally targeted re-entry vehicles.

Dr. John S. Foster Jr., the Pentagon's chief scientist, officially confirmed for the first time yesterday, before a Congressional committee, that the A3 carries more than one bomb, He did not say how many.

Foster contrasted the A3's MRV—multiple re-entry vehicles—with today's new MIRV by indicating the MRV system has very little guidance capability. MRV can hurl warheads in a pattern to one target; MIRV can send bombs to targets separated by hundreds of miles.

Foster said the United States turned to development of the MRV system and other missile penetration aids such as dummy warheads early in this decade to counter potential Soviet missile defenses.

Foster said the United States received indications in 1964 that the Soviets were deploying a powerful new missile interceptor, called Galosh, around Moscow. He said it appeared to carry a multiple-megaton warhead and "raised the possibility that one defensive explosive burst could destroy" an incoming cluster of A3 warheads.

Defending the newer MIRV concept, Foster declared:

"We need a more reliable method of delivering our deception devices and our warheads. We need, essentially, to be able to spread them out in space so that one Soviet defensive nuclear burst cannot destroy several American warheads or a whole cloud of decoys."

Police Car Attacked At Manzanita Center

The window of a patrol car carrying two sheriff's deputies was shattered by a rock last night as the deputies were patroling the parking lot at the Manzanita Center in Marin City, deputies reported today.

Neither deputy — Wyman Tong or Sgt. Robert Gaddini — was injured. Deputies said several juveniles were seen running from the parking lot after the rock was thrown by no one was caught.

$500 Puppy Reported Stolen By Youngsters

A German shepherd puppy valued at $500 has been stolen in Tamalpais Valley, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Deputies said Ronald B. Johnson of 35 Villa Garden Drive reported two boys about 12 years old unleashed the puppy, who was tied outside the residence, at 3:35 p.m., picked him up and ran over the hill toward Marin City.

MOUNT TAMALPAIS CEMETERY in the Heart of our County

Marin pioneers chose a site in the heart of our county as a final resting place for their families. Today this location—at the west end of Fifth Avenue in San Rafael—is still convenient to all Marin points.

Marinites who choose Mount Tamalpais do so with the assurance that its beauty will grow with the years. The interest from a quarter-million dollar endowment fund—twice the legal requirement—is dedicated to the constant care and improvement of this 57-acre site.

Perhaps—like many Marin families—you wish to make your own final arrangements to spare others difficult decisions. If so, we invite your inquiry or a personal visit.

Marin City Pullout Talks Not Yet Set

No date has been set yet for negotiations between the Marin County Redevelopment Agency and Marin Development Co. on the firm's withdrawal from developing Marin City, agency Executive Director Donald O. Stutsman told agency directors last night.

Stutsman said he has discussed negotiations with Mark Thieman, a New Yorker representing Marin Development, but "no positions have yet been stated so I can't predict" when negotiations will start or how long they will take.

He said he hoped the first session could be held in Marin City no later than next week.

Marin Development (formerly the California Development Corp.) last week announced it would pull out of its exclusive contract with the agency for the development of Marin City. The New York-based firm has held the contract since 1961 and has been under heavy fire from Marin City residents for failing to move enough developing the city.

When details of Marin Development's withdrawal are finally worked out, the way will be open for other interests to negotiate with the agency for handling the city's development.

In another action connected with the future development of Marin City, the Marin County Housing Authority last night authorized an appraisal on the value of the ridgeland above Marin City which also is held by Marin Development.

Stutsman said the appraisal is designed to give him background information for negotiating with Marin Development which has paid a total of $441,900 for the ridgeland, with the final payment in April of something over $140,000 being put in escrow.

In addition, the firm's representatives said, it has spent about $200,000 more on other costs relating to the property. The firm has not indicated how much it will demand to give up the land.

The appraisal will be done by Edwin Jordan of Napa at an estimated cost of $1,250. Stutsman said he expected it to be finished in two or three weeks.

Stutsman also provided a report summarizing costs so far of the Marin City redevelopment project and will provide more detailed information at later meetings, he said.

The Marin County Housing Authority Also:

AUTO — Approved the purchase for $2,500 of a staff car to be used primarily by Stutsman on authority business. Stutsman's personal car was extensively damaged by vandals during last week's meeting at which Marin City residents scolded him for his handling of the Marin Development contract.

HILARITA — Granted a request of the Ecumenical Housing Association to enter a six-month option agreement to provide moderate income housing development at Hilarita.

TURKEY — Authorized a letter of intent to Richard Bale of Tiburon indicating the authority's willingness to enter a lease agreement for about 30 apartments under the Turnkey leasing program, pending approval of location and specific plans.

Political Patronage Bill Withers Again

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to abolish the last political patronage plum, the job of state inheritance tax appraiser, died its annual legislative death yesterday in a Senate committee. (Other Legislative story's on pages 7 and 23.)

But the author, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, was optimistic it would pass next year because the Senate Judiciary Committee promised "an in-depth study" of the measure — which Bagley has introduced annually since 1963.

In past years, it was killed summarily by the Senate Governmental Efficiency Committee, traditionally the graveyard of controversial bills. This year, it was sent to judiciary, but it died there because committee members "were not familiar with it," Bagley said.

The bill would eliminate the practice of having the appraisers appointed by the state controller. Instead, appraising would be done by civil servants.

The present controller, Houston I. Flournoy, has fought alongside Bagley for the measure year after year. Flournoy, who instituted a program to test applicants for the appointments, has maintained the patronage was subject to abuses by his predecessors.

Bagley Outlines Budget Of Tax Committee Studies

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A big shopping list of special interim studies by his revenue and taxation committee has been outlined by Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael.

Assembly committees in past years have tended to be pretty mum about what they were doing between legislative sessions, but the new speaker, Assemblyman Robert Monagan, R-Tracy, this year said committees must spell out by resolution the matters they will study.

Listed by Bagley were studies of utility service taxes, business license taxes, income tax reform, funding capital outlay from nonbond sources, taxation of publicly owned utilities, property taxation assessment practices, exemption of intangible property from taxation, tax appeals procedures including a court procedure for tax appeals and a procedure to handle small amounts of taxes, major tax reform, allowing the assessed value of improvements to real property as a credit against the total assessed value, substituting a tax on personal net wealth for the property tax, and the problem of city-county tax equity.

Oakland Girl Hurt As Car Speeds Off Ramp

Dolores Aguirre, 17, of Oakland, was treated at Marin General Hospital last night after the car in which she was riding went off a Highway 101 off-ramp in Larkspur.

The California Highway Patrol said Miss Aguirre was a passenger in a car driven by her sister, Roberta Louise Aguirre, 19, of Oakland. The patrol said she apparently was going too fast to make the turn and went off the road. The mishap occurred at 8:15 p.m.

Hospital Aid Proposal Dies

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill ordering large ward-level staffing increases in state mental retardation hospitals was killed yesterday by the Assembly Ways and Means Committee without a hearing.

But the author of the measure, Assemblyman William T. Bagley, R-San Rafael, said he was encouraged because the committee made a commitment to study the level of staffing during the interim before the 1970 Legislature convenes in January.

Originally, Bagley's bill would have added 47 ward-level technicians at Sonoma State Hospital, but the health and welfare committee last week amended it to order all four state hospitals for the mentally retarded to reduce ward staff shortages by 10 per cent during the next year.

Joining the controversy over hospital staffing was Sen. Randolph Collier, D-Yreka, whose district includes Sonoma County. He introduced a resolution requesting an increase in the number of ward-level employees and that "top priority be given to ensuring the patients' personal care, including food, clothing and physical and mental well-being.

Lawyers Get $20,000 Work Room

The Marin County Board of Supervisors unanimously consented yesterday to spend $20,000 to provide a work room for attorneys in the new Hall of Justice.

County Administrator Alan Bruce had written in opposition to the request for funds by the Marin County Bar Association, while representatives of the bar association and Joseph G. Wilson, presiding judge of Marin Superior Court, appeared before the board to fight for the work room.

In his three-page letter, Bruce recommended that the board take no action on the bar association's request but agreed to spend the $20,000, after County Auditor-Controller Michael Mitchell confirmed that the funds were available from the Hall of Justice contingency account of $29,000.

The $20,000 is to finish the storage room and purchase carpeting, drapes, two tables and 16 chairs.

Burglars Raid Home, San Rafael Car Lot

San Rafael police yesterday reported two burglaries.

A man's gold ring, valued at $500, and a checkbook were stolen between Friday and yesterday from the apartment of Randolph W. McCarley at 119 Nova Albion Way.

Police also said chrome wheels and two tiers valued at $100 were stolen Saturday from a car parked on the sales lot of DeLong's Cherolet at 550 Francisco Boulevard.

The average South Korean farm measures only 1.3 acres.

Supervisors Adopt New Sign Standards

After six months of review, a new sign ordinance was approved yesterday for the unincorporated area of Marin County.

As it was, the measure took four hours to clear the final hurdle — a hearing before the board of supervisors.

The board spent most of the time on the ordinance's most controversial features — size and height of free-standing freeway signs and the authority of Planning Director Paul C. Zucker over sign approval.

Recommendations by the county planning commission were scrubbed in both cases. The commission had proposed a maximum sign area of 100 square feet for freeway-oriented businesses which it identified as service stations, restaurants, motels and shopping centers, with Zucker holding sole power of approval.

The board, however, yielding to pleas by chamber of commerce officials and businessmen, raised the square-footage to 150 feet for all but the service stations and included the right of an applicant to appeal beyond Zucker to the planning commission and, if necessary, to the board of supervisors.

Service stations along freeways were held to 100-square-foot signs under review by Zucker because of previously established standards.

For businesses along highways designated as other than freeway-oriented, the board set a sign area of 75-square-feet, also subject to appeal. A height of 30 feet was established for signs for highway-designated businesses, and 25 feet for others, also with appeal provisions.

Ben A. Farlatti, president of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau; Richard P. Nave of Nave Lanes in Ignacio and Norman Traverson, manager of the Marin Property Owners Association, urged more relaxed standards, with Nave also pleading that a grandfather clause be written into the ordinance to exempt existing signs from being removed or altered as nonconforming under the new standards.

The board refused that, but did lengthen the time under which present signs must comply from five to 10 years from the time notice is served, including extensions.

Other provisions of the measure allow nonfreeway signs of 100-square-feet and 25 feet above the road, bans new billboards and limits to 25 per cent a portion of a sign carrying a trade name, except in the case of dairy farms.

Under the old ordinance, signs were approved under use permits with no criteria for size.

The Marin County Board of Supervisors also:

APPOINTMENT — Named Barbara L. O'Hay as development program director in the community mental health services department at $960 a month.

DAMAGES — Rejected a claim by Sam A. Rush of San Jose for $56,250 in damages as a result of alleged failure by county jailers to summon medical aid for Rush's injured foot while he was a prisoner.

CHANGES — Approved $1,684 worth of construction changes on a cafeteria dishwasher and jail serving trays at the Hall of Justice.

LANDSCAPE — Voted to relandscape the cafeteria terrace at the administration building, drawing $1,600 from reserves to add to $10,000 already budgeted for the work. The project is part of site development in connection with completion of the Hall of Justice.

REDEVELOPMENT — Authorized the county planning staff to apply for federal funds for neighborhood development at Kentifeld Corners and to continue analysis of a similar program at Lomita Park.

SAN PEDRO — Asked county and city staff from San Rafael for recommendations on an architect for landscaping of the second and third phases of the South San Pedro Road widening project, together with an idea of the scope of the work.

BICYCLES — Asked staff to write to the state Division of Highways seeking reconsideration of its opposition to a barrier between a proposed bicycle path and Highway 101 at Richardson Bay.

WORKSHOPS — Set workshops for Aug. 12 with data processing director Joseph Leach and Oct. 14 with the planning commission.

SUPERINTENDENT — Authorized a monthly salary of $1,195 for Erick F. Yarchin, program administrator at the State Medical Facility, Vacaville, who will become Juvenile Hall superintendent Sept. 1. The position has been vacant for 18 months.

ADDED NURSE — Approved deletion of two part-time physicians from the Juvenile Hall medical program and the hiring of one added registered nurse at a cost of $5,252. One nurse is now on duty six hours a day, Monday through Friday.

MENTAL HEALTH — Asked the staff to form a committee to make recommendations on the mechanics of establishing procedures to implement a conservatorship — a form of guardianship to aid the older and, particularly, confused elderly people — to the fullest extent of the Lanterman-Petris-Short Act.

IN MEMORIAM — Adjourned in memory of Dan E. Andersen, late San Rafael city manager.

Revisions Voted For Petaluma Area Plan

The Petaluma Planning Commission last night approved six revisions to the Petaluma area general plan.

The first change deletes the plan for the extension of Mountain View Avenue and instead shows a four lane extension of Lakeville Highway to Hopper Street and the connection of Caulfield Lane to the west side.

Another change realigns Sonoma Mountain Road to cross Highway 101 on the northeast side of the Northwestern Pacific Railroad overcrossing and extended to cross Petaluma Boulevard North to connect with the future Bodega expressway now known as Skillman Lane.

The revision shows an expansion of the community shopping zone at East Washington Street and McDowell Boulevard to include the area of East Washington Street between Highway 101 and North McDowell Boulevard where a shopping center is now being built.

The revision also show expanded highway commercial and service zones adjacent to the east side of old Redwood Highway North and the northeast side of Highway 101 at the Denman interchange.

In another revision in the Denman area, the commission changed the plan to show medium density residential development at the northwest end of the city in the area lying north of the highway commercial zone at old Redwood Highway where it is now designated at limited industrial and low density residential on the northeast side of Highway 101. The revision also expands the commercial area on the northwest side of old Redwood Highway.

The recommended revisions will go to the city council for study.

The Petaluma Planning Commission also:

REVOCATION — Reviewed use permit conditions on businesses on Lakeville highway and voted to revoke the use permit of Scrappy Jim's auto wrecking yard. The commission said various conditions had been violated including stacking cars above the fence line.

VARIANCE — Granted a variance to Walter Baker to allow no sideyard setback and a four foot space between an existing residence and a proposed commercial development at 320 Petaluma Boulevard South.

GAS STATION — Granted a use permit to the Phillips Petroleum Co. to rehabiliate an existing station at 201 South McDowell Boulevard.

ADDITION — Granted a variance to Ray Alietti to improve an existing family room at his home without converting one half to garage use.

PRINT SHOP — Granted a use permit to John Churchill to operate a printing shop at his home at 49 Wilmington Drive.

SUBDIVISIONS — Approved final maps for the Sonoma Vista subdivision at Lakeville Highway and Casa Grande Road and for the Valley Green Subdivision off South McDowell Boulevard.

CHERRY VALLEY — Granted the rezoning request of Cherry Valley Estates, Inc. to reduce lot sizes off Schuman Lane from 10,000 to 6,000 square feet.

HEARING — Heard protests at a public hearing on rezoning a lot at 651 Central Street from single family residential to multiple family. The rezoning request of James Scott was denied due to the protests.

PREZONING — Granted the request of Andrew Condiotti to prezone 48 acres on Ely road from agricultural to single family residential.

STUDY SESSION — Set a study session for Aug. 26 at 7:30 p.m. to review sign regulations.

No Complaint Over See-Through Blouse

Miss Meinkey was arrested Saturday in San Anselmo by an off-duty Larkspur policeman on suspicion of indecent exposure for wearing a see-through blouse.

Engineer's Report Due On Sewer Lines

The Cotati City Council will meet at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Cotati Fire Hall to receive an engineering report and cost estimates on the planned sewage connection with Rohnert Park.

The council will also hold a public hearing on the weed abatement program and award bids for a booster pump.

Reagan Tells What Bills He'll Sign

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Gov. Ronald Reagan broke his own precedent to indicate what major legislation on his desk today will be signed and what will be vetoed.

The governor at his weekly news conference yesterday said he probably would sign bills for shoreline and fill controls for San Francisco Bay, reform of divorce law and local control of topless entertainers.

But he also indicated he would veto for the second consecutive year a bill that would establish the open primary in California.

The performance by Reagan was a departure from his usual refusal to say what he'll do about a specific bill until he actually does it.

The governor said he probably would sign this week a bill by Assemblyman John T. Knox, D-Richmond, extending the life of the Bay area Conservation and Development Commission.

"I don't think there's anything wrong with the bill," Reagan said.

'Deficit Financing' Program Adopted For San Rafael Schools

San Rafael Board of Education last night adopted budgets for 1969-70 totaling $9,729,708, expected to carry tax rate hikes in the elementary and high school districts. (Another San Rafael Board of Education story on page 23.)

Approved were the high school district budget of $4,937,617, up $166,259 from last year, and an elementary district budget of $4,792,047, down $37,250.

Supt. John F. Plank described the budgets as "deficit financing" with expenditures slated to exceed income by about $150,000 to $200,000.

However, he explained, both districts will have larger beginning balances than expected, $643,123 in the elementary and $503,419 in the high school district.

Plank said that without knowing exactly how much state financing will be available it was impossible to estimate tax rates.

There will be a seventh-eighth grade override tax rate in the elementary district, which wasn't levied last year, possibly up to 22 cents.

There also is expected to be an override tax rate increase in both districts to cover increased employee fringe benefits.

The total tax rates for the past year, including overrides and bond redemption, were $3.06 per $100 assessed valuation in the elementary district and $2.265 in the high school district.

Plank reported that the undistributed reserve in the elementary district budget will be $379,966, and in the high school district $154,000.

The San Rafael Board Of Education Also:

ADULT EDUCATION FEES — Raised the registration fee for adult education courses from $5 to $6 and the driver training fee from $22 and $25, but made no change in the $6.50 hourly pay rate for adult education instructors, pending further study.

HIRING — Approved the hiring of Shirley Barden, part-time home economics teacher, high school district, at $3,900 a year; Marilyn Bier, French-English teacher, elementary district, $7,208 a year; Kenneth Duzich, teacher of educable mentally retarded, high school district, $9,964; Martha Stillinger, Spanish teacher, elementary district, $9,572; Julia Strong, primary grades teacher, $6,500; Marshall Tsuruda, crafts teacher, high school district, $6,678; and Dorothy Serio, account clerk II, $6,060 a year.

READING TESTS — Heard a report from Jack Kirby, director of administrative services, on results of reading tests administered in October, 1968, which showed first, second, third, sixth and 10th grade students in San Rafael City Schools ranking higher than state and national medians.

ASSOCIATION DUES — Voted to remain in the California School Boards Association and pay the yearly dues of $1,100.

SUBSTITUTE TEACHERS — Took under study a request from the Marin County Substitute Teachers Association to raise the daily pay for substitute teachers from $27.50 to $35.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION — Approved application for $9,000 in federal funds for vocational education programs including vocational counseling services for disadvantaged and handicapped students.

TEXTBOOKS — Adopted as high school textbooks "Discovering American History, Vols I and II," by Allan O. Kownsier and Donald B. Frizzle, and "Engineering Drawing" by Frank Zozzora.

OVERPASS NEEDS — Heard a report from Mrs. Wesley W. Page of 49 Corrillo Drive of the need for a pedestrian overpass, which would serve students, crossing Highway 101 in the vicinity of Wiltshire Towers, and an overpass at the new Highway 101 off ramp at North San Pedro Road.

YOUTH RECREATION — In response to a letter from Chris Harris, summer coordinator, Marin County Youth Commission, gave support to the commission's proposed youth recreation program.

LOAN — Authorized borrowing $1,928,477 for the elementary school district and $2,592,221 for the high school district to operate until tax revenues come into the districts.

ADJOURNAMENT — Adjourned until 7:30 p.m., Sept. 9 at the Administration Building, Third and E Streets, San Rafael, with the regularly scheduled meeting of Aug. 26 canceled.

Board member Lawrence I. Kramer, on a business trip to Japan, was absent.

Granted Stay

Robert Douglas Hill, 25, on San Quentin's death row for the murder of a Los Angeles housewife, was granted a stay of execution Monday. Yesterday's Independent-Journal omitted Hill's first two names in reporting the stay.

School Bus Service Will Be Trimmed In San Rafael

San Rafael Board of Education held fast last night to its decision to reduce school bus runs despite pleas from parents to delay putting the new bus schedule into effect.

About 1,000 students are expected to be affected by the bus service cut approved by the board in June as an economy measure, expected to bring a net savings of $30,000.

Raymond J. Haas of 41 Galleon Way presented a petition signed by parents of 46 students in outlying areas near Terra Linda protesting the cutback.

There were about 15 persons in the audience seeking some way of providing the bus service to upper Lucas Valley and Marinwood.

The high school pickup limit, temporarily at two miles, was extended to the former limit, three miles, and the limit for junior high and middle schools was extended from a mile-and-a-half to two miles.

Keith Lanning of 222 Blackstone Drive, Marinwood, suggested there be a committee including parents and school officials to study ways of meeting busing needs. He asked that the service cut be postponed until the committee offers a plan.

Among the possibilities mentioned were the leasing of buses by the San Rafael City Schools, leasing of buses by parents or forming of car pools by parents.

Board Member John C. Pfeiffer said the board couldn't restore the former bus service since it has budgeted only for the reduced program.

Board members approved the idea of forming a committee and asked John A. Thomson Jr., superintendent of maintenance and transportation, to meet with parents.

Thomson explained that this year, eligible students will be issued bus passes, and "no pass, no ride."

Store Burglary Suspects Booked

Two San Rafael youths have been booked at Marin County Jail on suspicion of conspiracy and burglary in San Rafael.

Mohamaid T. Kia, 24, and Iraj Jahangiri, 22, both of 19-A Warner Court, were arrested Friday on suspicion of taking clothing, a billfold and a watchband valued at a total of $90 from the Emporium in Northgate Shopping Center.

Each was released on his own recognizance to appear at 2 p.m. Friday in Marin Municipal Court.

Marin City Meeting

The Marin City Community Services District will discuss which members will run for re-election in the November elections at a meeting at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Manzanita Center.

San Francisco Trash May Find A Home Yet

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The city's garbage disposal problems may find a temporary solution in a 544-acre plot which Mountain View wants to fill to build a park.

A joint Health and Finance Committee Hearing heard speaker after speaker yesterday back the proposal to fill in land between Bayshore Freeway and the Leslie Salt Co. ponds in Mountain View 32 miles south of here.

San Francisco School Costs Top $115 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —The city's Board of Education approved a $116.5 million budget last night for the 1969-70 school year.

The budget, a record one, is $18.5 million greater than the this past year's.

Novato Panel To Study Creeks And Land Uses

The Novato Beautification Committee will compile an inventory and analysis of the creeks and land uses adjacent to them, members have decided, according to secretary Peggy Lehigh.

The study of the creeks and their possible use will be done with the help of the city's planning department and public works department.

Elizabeth Moody of 1261 Cambridge Street and Joan Grosser of 1249 Cambridge Street, are organizing a citizens committee to develop a creek plan. They want interested citizens to meet with them at 8 p.m., Aug. 28 at the Novato Community House to form a Citizens Committee on Creeks, Mrs. Moody said.

Edward W. Adams, parks and recreation director, reported that plans for the child's play lot on Novato Sanitary District land on Joyce Street east of South Novato Boulevard, would not be completed until September, Mrs. Lehigh said.

Probation For Pot

Thomas Duane Smith, 20, of San Francisco, was given a 60-day suspended jail sentence and placed on a year's probation Monday in Marin Superior Court for possession of marijuana Feb. 27 on Shoreline Highway.

Seminary Gets Classroom Nod

San Anselmo planning commissioners have approved a variance requested by San Francisco Theological Seminary for a new classroom and communications center set for construction at the corner of Austin Avenue and Kensington Road.

The center will house audio visual equipment, seat 40 in a classroom and hold smaller counseling rooms.

In other action Monday night, planner approved an application of Mrs. Sydney Alexander and Edwin Wicander Jr. to rezone a lot at 58 Magnolia Avenue from single family residential to neighborhood apartment to construct retirement apartments.

The Eiffel Tower, made of bolted iron girders and standing 984 feet high, plus a 20-foot TV antenna, grows seven inches on a sunny summer day.

Mink Cape Valued At $500 Stolen

A mink cape valued at $500, was taken when she was moving from one residence to the guest house at Hamilton Air Force Base, Lenora Sandefur of Harrington, Maine, reported to Novato police.

She moved from her house at 309 Bolling Drive on July 28 to the guest house at 114 Marin Road until Aug. 1, she said. The cape disappeared during these moves, she reported.

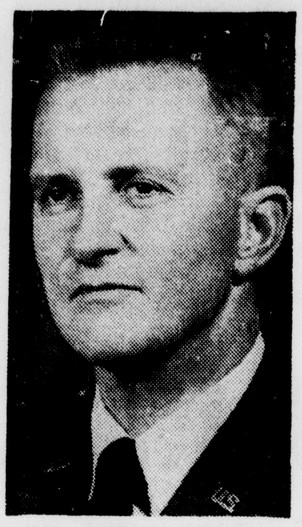
Ducey New Fort Baker Staff Chief

COL. DONALD L. DUCEY
New Chief



COL. JOHN M. HINMAN
Retiring chief

Col. Donald L. Ducey has been assigned chief of staff, Sixth Region, Army Air Defense Command, at Fort Baker succeeding Col. John M. Hinman of Sausalito who has retired after 30 years service.

Colonel Hinman, of 16 Glen Drive, had served as chief of staff since April, 1968, and had been assigned to Fort Baker since 1964. At retirement ceremonies at Fort Baker he was presented with the Legion of Merit medal.

Colonel Ducey had been region assistant chief of staff since March, 1967 after serving in Korea.

A native of Ohio, he entered the army as an enlsited man in 1941 and was commissioned a second lieutenant in 1942 at Camp Davis, N.C. He and his family live in quarters at Fort Baker.

Storms rage beneath the surface of the ocean as well as above. Violent "weather fronts," maelstroms, currents and mudslides are blamed for some submarine disasters.

Property Tax Relief Checks

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — State Controller Houston I. Flurnoy has announced that the third group of $70 homeowners' property tax relief checks will be mailed statewide Friday.

About 70,000 checks will be sent to homeowners throughout California as county assessors continue certifying applicants not covered in the first two mailings in June and July, which totaled over 2,378,000 checks.

Los Angeles County will again lead the distribution with over 44,000 checks, Flournoy said.

Checks mailed to Marin County and other counties will vary according to local conditions.

Dishwasher Stolen

A dishwasher valued at $110 in a home under construction in the Casa Grande Mano subdivision, South McDowell Boulevard, Petaluma, was stolen Monday night, police reported yesterday.

Muir Beach Citizens Plan Clean-Up Drive

A clean-up of Muir Beach's 15-acre state-owned beach will be held this Saturday by residents of the shore community in a move designed to cool the beach's newest controversy over leveling of a cluster of sand dunes.

Nancy Knox, an opponent of the destruction of the dunes which was started and stopped by the state Department of Parks and Recreation last week, said the work party would begin cleaning the beach at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Meanwhile, in a letter to Robert Hatch, district superintendent of the state Parks and Recreation Department, Pierre W. Joske, county parks and recreation director, said a delay in state work at the beach would give Supervisor Michael Wornum, in whose district the beach lies, a chance to talk to area residents.

The state was blocked from bulldozing the dunes at the south end of the public beach last Thursday when Mrs. Knox and several other women and children stood in front of the bulldozer.

State officials contended that hippies and others were using the dunes as a shelter for illegal camping, drinking and other activities. The resulting litter provided one of the state's reasons for flattening the dunes. Officials said the action was necessary for a mechanical beach cleaner to clear the beach of debris.

The exact schedule for the beach clearing operation by the state is still uncertain.

The state, in attempting to eliminate the cluster of squat dunes, had the active backing of some Muir Beach residents who want the beach people driven out.

Mrs. Knox said the citizens' beach clean-up was decided on in a meeting of permanent residents Saturday. She said 20 to 30 residents were expected to participate.

Silver Star Recommended

Pfc. Thomas Cincotta, a San Rafael Marine killed in combat on June 28, has been recommended for the Silver Star for Heroism in Vietnam. The Silver Star is the third highest military award bestowed by the United States.

Cincotta's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Serge L. Cincotta of 531 Fairhills Drive, learned of the recommended decoration in a letter from their son's Vietnam commander. The recommendation was made for Cincotta's heroic action against the enemy in an assault near Quan Tri.

Cincotta, a 1968 graduate of Marin Catholic High School, was killed shortly before his 19th birthday.

Marin Probation Officer Has Charge Dropped

I-J Special Report

OAKLAND — Charges of felony assault against a Marin County probation officer have been dismissed in Alameda County Superior Court, on a motion by the district attorney's office.

Byron Conrad Walters, 31, of Albany, had been charged following a domestic quarrel in which he allegedly slashed his wife on the face.

He was suspended from the probation department Feb. 19 but on March 13 was ordered reinstated by the Marin County Personnel Commission, if a medical examination found him suitable for continued employment.

County personnel records show he was reinstated April 9, cleared by a physician to return to work.

Personnel commissioners, following a hearing, ruled Walters should be reinstated if a medical examination found him suitable to continue as group counselor because he "had competently performed his job."

Police Distributing Marijuana Pamphlet

A booklet entitled "Parents' Guide to Marijuana" is now available to the public at the San Rafael Police Department.

The eight-page booklet explains marijuana, its effects, uses and the legal codes concerning it.

CORPS CHIEF—Col. Charles R. Roberts began work today as district engineer for the Army Corps of Engineers in San Francisco, replacing Col. Frank C. Boerger of San Anselmo who retired after 27 years in the Army. Marin and Sonoma counties are included in the district.

Mexican Income Up

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Despite the burgeoning birth rate, the per capita income in Mexico rose from $394.20 in 1964 to $550 in 1968, according to Francisco Cano Escalante, president of the National Chamber of Commerce.

Fairfax Teacher Pay Hope Left Undecided

Fairfax School District trustees last night adopted a 1969-70 budget of $868,091 — but left an opening to change it to give higher salaries if the state comes through with more money.

The budget, down $24,909 from last year's $893,000, would make no change in the district's tax rate of $3.015 per $100 assessed valuation, according to Supt. H. Reginald Hammond.

Of the total, $568,169 is expected from property taxes, compared to $555,704 last year, Hammond said. The rise in property tax revenue however was accompanied by a decrease in state aid.

The board has promised teachers a 4.5 per cent raise and more if the state provides more money. Teachers asked a 7 per cent increase. Hammond said the board will reconsider salaries as late as next month if money appears.

The Fairfax School District board also:

TRUSTEE — Set a closed meeting for 8 p.m. tomorrow to discuss six candidates for the board vacancy created by the resignation of Leonard A. Weiss. Hammond said the decision probably will be made at the next regular meeting at 7:45 p.m. Aug. 26, a week later than the usual meeting time with the change due to vacations.

PLAYFIELD — Learned the Army Corps of Engineers has offered to level the playfield at White Hill School as a training exercise, but decided to wait until funds are available to develop the field.

SCHOOL SITE — Approved an agreement with the county schools office to permit two portable buildings on the White Hill School site for educationally handicapped, junior high age children, with no money to change hands.

PERSONNEL — Hired Maureen Finn as a second grade teacher at $6,400; and Barbara Brown as a seventh and eighth grade teacher at $8,600.

ATTENDANCE — Approved interdistrict attendance agreements for Ruth Ann Folsom to Mill Valley and Roger Kibbe to Novato. Both are kindergarteners.

FINANCE — Delayed forming a citizens committee on finance until the next meeting.

MEETING — Set a special meeting for 9:30 a.m. Sept. 13 to inspect the schools.

Trolleys To Go

COPENHAGEN (UPI)—The last trolley lines in Denmark's capital are on their way out. Only four lines were left after May 1 and traffic authorities said they'll reach the end of the line by 1972.

Breakfast Nets Firemen Profits

The Marinwood Firemen's Association learned last night from treasurer Rinaldo Emini that it made a profit of $140 on the annual July 4 community pancake breakfast.

President Irving L. Schwartz said that curb painting of house numbers had been completed in Lucas Valley and Upper Lucas Valley, with the next area to be Casa Marinwood.

He also said the firemen are planning a community chicken barbecue — second this year — at 3 p.m. Aug. 31 in the firemen's picnic area between Miller Creek School and Quietwood Drive.

39 Strep Cases Are Reported In Marin

Thirty-nine cases of streptococcus infection in Marin last week have been reported by the Marin County Health Department.

Other communicable diseases reported were gonorrhea, 20 cases; tuberculosis, three cases and infectious hepatitis, seven cases.

There are 22 producers of synthetic rubber in the U.S. today. Approximately 61 per cent of the synthetic rubber produced is consumed by auto tires with the other 39 per cent going into such major rubber uses as conveyor belting, hosing and cushioning, according to the International Institute of Synthetic Rubber Producers.

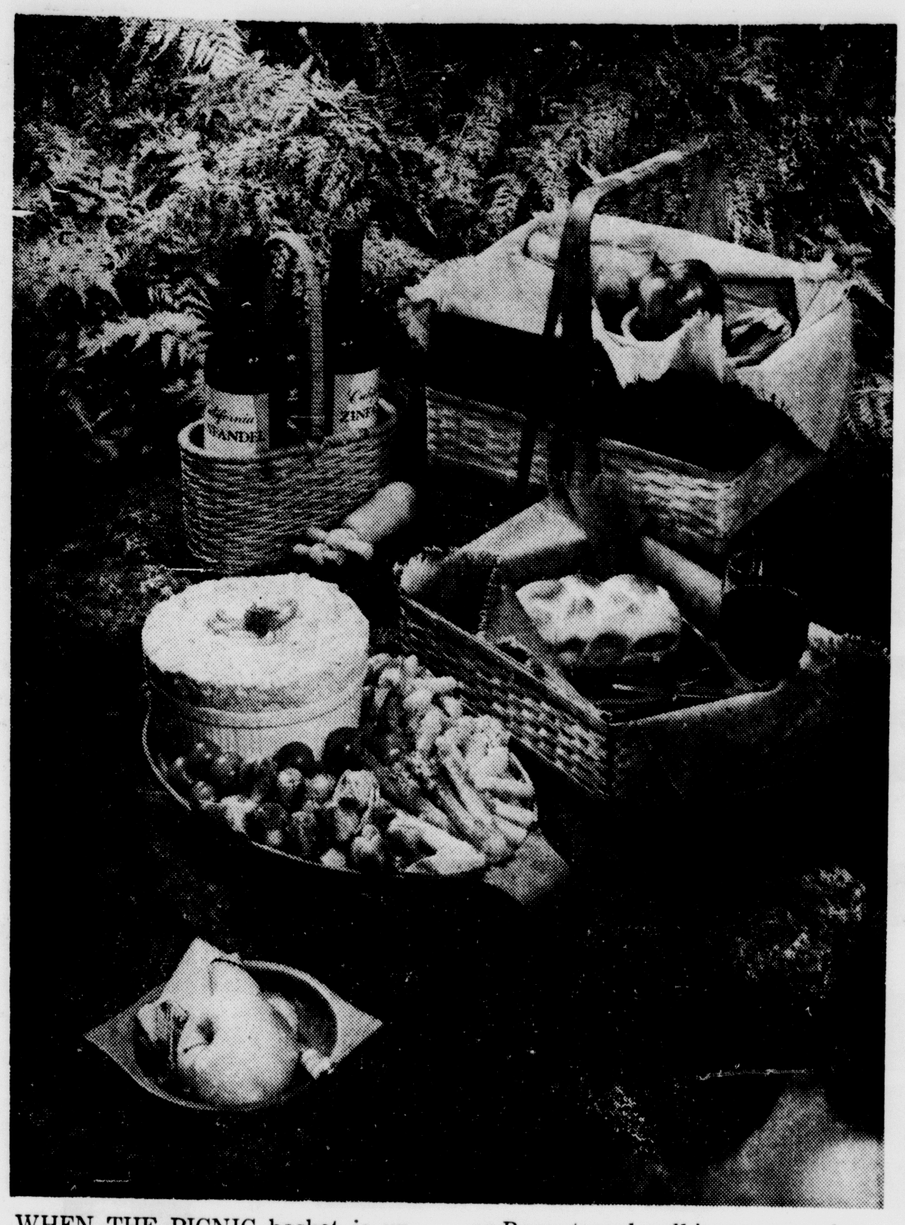
Packing The Elegant Picnic Is Fun



WHEN THE PICNIC basket is unpacked, a bottle of wine adds the elegant touch. If the day is hot, chill the wine two or three hours in the refrigerator before unpacking it. Then wrap it well in several layers of newspapers and carry it in an insulated hamper. White dinner wines or Roses travel well in a vacuum bottle if the wine and the vacuum bottle both are well chilled before leaving home. Cheese and ham spreads are excellent for dainty sandwiches, and fruit punches also are good accompaniment, also well chilled at home.

The upcoming Concours d'Elegance to be staged Sunday as a benefit for the Marin Chapter, National Foundation-March of Dimes at Peacock Gap Country Club in San Rafael is a perfect time for an elegant picnic before touring the rows of vintage and special automobiles.

The requirements for a romantic picnic were proclaimed long ago by the Persian poet, Omar Khayyam, when he listed the simple menu—a jug of wine, a loaf of bread. Things haven't changed very much in the last 800 years. Nowadays, the food may be a little fancier; ice makes the beverage more refreshing; and the "wilderness" of the poem is likely to be a city or state park. But the charm and excitement of a meal out of doors is the same.

The simplest plan of all is to take along a loaf of bread, a chunk of cheese, some fresh fruit and a bottle of wine. It all packs easily, carries well, and seems like a feast when cut, spread and poured at the picnic site. From a practical standpoint, it is well to wrap the bread in foil or transparent film to keep it from drying out. The cheese, similarly wrapped, can be mild or sharp as taste dictates. The wine is most often a dry red one.

Burgundy, Claret and Chianti are usual choices, but within the past few years, many California vintners have produced a soft red wine, slightly sweeter and lighter than a Burgundy — great for picnics. This type of wine has found ready acceptance in the United States where tastes are accustomed to so many sweet beverages in the soft drink classification. Each winery has its own name for this type of wine, but it can generally be identified by such descriptive terms on the label as "mellow red wine" or "vino rosso" or by their Italian-type names and their California origin.

Most wines are available in bottle sizes to suit any group, from the small "tenth" bottle that holds 12 ounces to the gallon jug containing 128 ounces. The small bottle allows six-ounce servings for two — a moderate amount — and on the same basis the gallon would serve about 20 persons.

A picnic that involves a little more preparation, but is still essentially simple, may include a cheese mixture to be spread on sliced bread at the picnic site, and an easy punch kept icy in a vacuum jug.

GADABOUT PICNIC COOLER
(Makes 1¼ quarts)

- 2 cups crushed ice or 1 tray ice cubes
- 1 (4/5-qt.) bottle California red dinner wine or Rose
- 1 (6-oz.) can frozen pineapple juice concentrate
- ¼ cup syrup from spiced peaches, watermelon rind or other sweet pickled or spiced fruits
- Rind of 1 small cucumber

Turn ice into large container. Pour in wine. Add pineapple juice concentrate and spiced syrup. Cut rind from cucumber in long strip and add to contents of bottle. Seal container and carry off to picnic.

DEVILED HAM SPREAD
(Makes 1 cup)

- 1 (3-oz.) package cream cheese
- 1 (4½-oz.) can deviled ham
- 2 tablespoons California sherry
- ¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ⅛ teaspoon garlic powder

Mash cream cheese with a fork; add deviled ham, wine, Worcestershire, and garlic powder; beat well. Chill well. Use as spread for sandwiches or crackers.

BLUE CHEESE SPREAD
(Makes 1 cup)

- ½ pound blue cheese
- 1 (3-oz.) package cream cheese
- ½ cup California sauterne or other white dinner wine
- 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
- ⅛ tablespoon minced parsley

Mash blue cheese with a fork; blend in cream cheese. Gradually beat in wine, whipping until mixture is light and fluffy. Add Worcestershire sauce, garlic powder, and parsley. Refrigerate. Use as a sandwich spread or on crackers.

Try A Gelatin Banana Pizza For Dessert On That Picnic

Pizzas of many varieties have proven their popularity and taken a firm place in current American eating patterns. Now here comes a dessert variety of pizza in an easy to fix, "anyone can do it" kind of recipe. It's made with bananas, gelatin dessert and packaged cake mix.

This is a dessert which will appeal especially to the young folks in the family and is an easy one for them to prepare themselves.

Before spooning the partially set gelatin over the top of a thin, cooled cake layer, arrange sliced bananas on top of the cake. Here is a chance to set the imagination loose and make a pattern picture with the banana slices and maybe a few other fruits.

This is an ideal dessert to make ahead on the day before serving, and it's an easy one to carry for the beach or roadside picnic.

BANANA DESSERT PIZZA

Heat oven to 350 degrees F. Grease and flour one 13-inch pizza pan.

Cake

- ½ package (18½-ounce) yellow cake mix
- ½ cup mashed banana
- 3 tablespoons water
- 1 egg

Measure one-half package of cake mix into bowl. There should be 2 cups plus 2 tablespoons. Add mashed banana, 3 tablespoons water and egg. Blend and beat 2 minutes, medium speed on electric mixer or 300 strokes by hand. Spread batter in Pizza pan. Bake 15 minutes or until cake springs back when touched with finger. Cool in pan.

Topping

- 1 package (3 ounce) fruit flavored gelatin
- 1 cup boiling water
- ¾ cup ice cubes and water
- 2 to 3 bananas
- 1 cup whipped topping

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Measure cubes and water to make ¾ cup and stir into gelatin mix. Chill until mixture is thickened but not stiff. Slice bananas onto top of cooled cake leaving a border of about one inch around outer edge of cake.

Carefully spoon thickened gelatin over bananas. Chill for several hours. When ready to serve, spoon whipped topping around outside edge of cake or spray from pressurized topping can. Cut into wedges to serve. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

ANOTHER GOOD IDEA for that picnic under the trees or out on a grassy slope is a banana dessert pizza. It's easy to make with gelatin dessert, a half package of cake mix and a few bananas. The "pizza" dessert will travel well in its flat pan and be served quickly on paper plates. Make it early on the day of the picnic and carry it along.

Special Dishes To Make With Summer Peaches

Most of us are faced with the problem of satisfying appetites without wrecking the food budget. One way to cut costs is to make our own special dishes to use in special ways.

It is a rare family that won't forgive a meat, vegetable, or what-not casserole dinner if ended with tender pancakes, each folded over a spoonful of delectable peach marmalade, then lightly drizzled with butter and dusted with powdered sugar. Warm, easy, and inexpensive to bake gingerbread topped with a spicy peach is another happy ending for an economy meal.

Elegant for parties are delicate meringues — each centered with a luscious brandied peach. Meringues cost little to make. Brandied peaches are not cheap, but you can save a lot by putting up your own.

BRANDIED PEACHES

For each quart fruit jar to be filled you will need: 8 or 9 medium-sized peaches, 1½ to 1¾ cups syrup, and 3 or 4 tablespoons of peach brandy. Use more if you like. The peaches should be freestones, fully ripe, but very firm. Clings may be used but are more trouble to peel and eat. The actual amount of syrup needed depends upon the size of the fruit and tightness of pack. Make syrup by pouring equal measures of sugar and water into wide pan or saucepot and boiling for 3 or 4 minutes; keep hot until needed. Wash and drain peaches. Put 8 or 9 in wire basket or in center of large square of cheesecloth, lower into boiling water to loosen skins. Let stay ½ to 1 minute (½ minute is usually enough), then quickly dip peaches into cold water. To prevent darkening, have ready a container of cold water with 1 tablespoon each of salt and vinegar to 2 quarts of water. Remove skin and drop peaches into the salt-vinegar water.

Bring syrup to boiling, add one layer of peaches, and let boil gently for 5 minutes. Transfer peaches to jar, leaving ¾ inch headspace. When all peaches have been pre-cooked and put into jars, add brandy and fill jars to ⅛ inch of top with boiling hot syrup in which the peaches were heated.

Wipe off anything spilled on top or threads of jar. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight. Process 20 minutes in boiling water.

PEACH MARMALADE

When cooking is stopped at the right point, this marmalade is neither stiff nor runny. It is not advisable to increase recipe. That would require longer cooking and result in a darker product. Cook up an extra batch of this pretty good-tasting marmalade, put it in those ½ pint jelly jars of the quilted crystal design, and you will be well fixed when in need of a small gift.

For about 3 pints you will need:

- 1 large seedless orange
- 7 cups prepared peaches — takes about 3 pounds
- 5½ to 6 cups sugar — use 6 if extra sweet product is liked
- 2 tablespoons juice from the maraschino cherries
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- ½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ cup chopped maraschino cherries

Use sharp knife to remove thin, yellow part of orange rind — discard yellow. Chop or thinky slice rest of orange and cook with 1½ cups water until soft. Then, press it through an ordinary wire strainer — do not drain off liquid.

Wash, rinse, drain and scald peaches to loosen skins. Discard skins and pits. Cut peach halves in about ¼-inch slices; cut slices in 3 or 4 pieces before measuring. Shake measure to settle peaches.

Pour all ingredients, except cherries, into kettle. Boil rapidly, stirring often, for 15 minutes. Add cherries and continue boiling almost to jellying point or until syrup spreads very little when spoonful of hot marmalade is dropped onto a cold saucer. Quickly skim off foam and pour hot marmalade to about ⅛ inch of top of pint or half-pint jar.

Wipe off anything spilled on top or threads of jar. Put dome lid on jar; screw band tight. Invert jars 2 or 3 minutes; then, stand them upright to cool. If fruit rises from bottom, let cool for 30 or 40 minutes; then, shake jars to redistribute fruit through syrup.

TODAY'S NEW LAMB

When the fire glows just right, place tender, young lamb on the grill. Hear that sizzle. Smell that appetizing aroma. It's just a hint of the good lamb taste to come!

LAMB 'N CORN OUTDOOR GRILL
(makes 2 to 4 servings)

- ¼ cup melted butter
- ⅓ cup chili sauce
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 4 ears corn
- 4 loin lamb chops, ¾-inch thick

Combine butter, chili sauce, sugar and vinegar and brush the mixture over corn, saving some of it. Wrap each ear individually in heavy duty aluminum foil. Cook corn on outdoor grill 4 inches over coals 30 minutes or until kernels are tender, turning occasionally. Ten or 15 minutes before corn is ready, brush lamb with some of the chili sauce mixture. Broil chops beside the corn 5 to 7 minutes on each side or until as done as you like them. As the lamb cooks, brush it frequently with remaining chili sauce mixture. Serve with corn.

Always ask your meat cutter . . . be sure you are buying only top quality American lamb . . . full of flavor . . . always tender . . . and always fresh. Delicious American lamb reaches you in a matter of days direct from American farms and ranches at the peak of freshness.

A Tour Of European Nursery Schools

By BETTY FROST

A well known Marin nursery school educator, Mrs. Robert Bastian of Belvedere, has just finished a tour of England and the Scandinavian countries with a group to study methods of education of young children. And she found that the children's programs were often "innovative in approach and equipment."

She said that programs for children 3 to 7 years old were not confined to a school situation but also used parks, playgrounds, institutions such as hospitals, and some involved community living situations.

The traditional European education often nostalgically honored in this country as a criterion of excellence may have to be reviewed, Mrs. Bastian indicated.

"There seem to be many misconceptions about traditional European methods. They have a well-established policy and have been teaching for years the same innovative programs that we have been trying to introduce in Marin County, such as the one in the Reed School District, emphasizing individual progress in ungraded classes which has been criticized so severely by the public," she stated.

THE SIX UNIT postgraduate course in Comparative Education of Young Children presented by the University of California at Santa Barbara gave the 25 qualified students a month tour. Two weeks were spent in England, and two in Norway, Sweden and Denmark. Lectures by educational experts in those countries supplemented the visits to facilities.

Mrs. Bastian is executive director of the Belvedere Nursery School, Inc., which includes the Belvedere Nursery School, Tiburon Peninsula Nursery School, Hawthorne Nursery School, and the founder of the Marin Child Development Center in Tiburon. She also assisted with the establishment of Tamalpais and Maringate Nursery Schools and serves as executive director of both.

The summer travel course gave Mrs. Bastian the last required units for an M.A. degree in nursery education at San Francisco State College which will be completed when she finishes her thesis.

In the London area the class observed programs for young children of economically deprived families, programs for handicapped children and use of playgrounds for children and adult education. Of special interest was the "One o'clock Club," where mothers with youngest children, from infants through 3 years of age, meet for discussions, craft programs and other supervised activities while their children play. These programs are sponsored by the government department of education.

"It is designed to strengthen family life and give mothers a chance for some social activity, and provide one excellent answer to the isolation of an urban setting," Beverly Bastian noted.

OTHER PLAYGROUND programs, set outdoors in good weather and in field houses in bad weather, are Play Parks and an Adventure Play program. "The equipment is not all set in concrete or sand," Mrs. Bastian explained, and the children, under guidance, set their own pace, using the materials at hand and creating an imaginary world out of such simple equipment as ropes and ladders.

In London the modern programs are often held in old buildings. The Americans also visited the suburban community of Oxfordshire, which reminded Mrs. Bastian of Marin. Here they found modern, well built schools with all-purpose rooms, patios, bright, wide hallways used as art galleries and libraries with reading corners. Each classroom was self-sustaining, with its own bathroom facilities, work benches, craft centers, and sinks. They practice what they call "family grouping" with children 5, 6 and 7 years old in the same room. The classes are often as large as 40, with one master teacher and one or two trained aides assisting.

Aides, called "nursery nurses" in England, receive a two-year technical training course in child development and are employed at schools, nursery schools, playgrounds, hospitals, and sometimes as governesses. Although Birmingham and Nottingham are industrial cities, "they are not as pressed with slum-urban problems as London," Mrs. Bastian said.

INTERPRETERS WERE assigned to the group of students in the Scandinavian countries. In these countries formal schooling does not begin until age 7. However there is great emphasis on child care. There is a creche, giving care for children from six weeks to 2 years, a nursery for

"It all began on the steps of the Marin County Court House . . . no, it was actually in Idora Park in Oakland," Mrs. Walter Diss reminisces.

On Aug. 27, 1919, she was wed to Walter Diss in a ceremony performed at the court house in the chambers of Judge Herbert de la Montanya. The couple were introduced just six weeks before in the skating rink at Idora Park by a mutual friend.

Fifty years later the couple returned to visit the court house with their only daughter, Mrs. John Friend of Corte Madera. The exterior of the court house has not changed since their marriage, and the years have been good to the couple; he appears younger than his 72 years, and she is a youthful looking 71-year-old.

At the time of their marriage Mr. Diss was in the Navy, stationed at Mare Island. His bride-to-be lived in San Francisco, but they decided to be married in San Rafael because they wanted to keep it a secret.

"He was in the Navy, and I didn't think my family would approve of my marrying a sailor," she says.

"But she couldn't keep it a secret and told her sister a week later," he comments.

They took the train from San Francisco to San Rafael for the wedding.

"It cost 40 cents," Mrs. Diss recalls. "And we got the last train back to the city because they called a railroad strike that day."

Mrs. Diss was born in Mission San Jose (now Freemont) and reared in San Francisco. Walter Diss is a native of Horton, Kans., but moved to Salida, Colo., with his family when he was nine years old.

On a trip in 1965 the Disses returned to find the home where he was born was still standing. The six-week-trip took them to 17 states, where they toured national parks and historical monuments, stopping along the way to visit old friends.

The couple have lived in San Francisco all of their married life except for a year from 1924-25 when Mr. Diss had a plumbing and heating business on Fourth Street in San Rafael, Marin County Gas and Appliance Company. With the closing of the business, the family moved back to San Francisco, where he was able to find work as a plumber, his occupation until seven years ago when he retired.

Mrs. Diss enjoys church activities, knitting and sewing. She makes many of her granddaughter's clothes, including the dress Denise wore when she was married recently to William Moore. The other Diss grandchildren are Dale, who is in Vietnam, and Stephen, Michael and Kevin Friend, all students at Redwood High School.

"Eight or 10 weeks before I got married I told my father I was never going to get married," says Mr. Diss. Fifty years later he's glad he did. "I always told the truth to my wife. When we got married I told her I had a trade, and I did."

Reflecting on the 50 years, Mrs. Diss comments, "He always kissed me good night, and he has a sense of humor. When we were first married we had nothing, nothing but we had fun. We went to friends' homes and played cards, ate doughnuts and drank coffee and enjoyed the simple pleasures of life."

The couple has not quite decided how they will spend their anniversary day.

"We are just glad to be healthy enough to enjoy it," Mrs. Diss says.

MR. AND MRS. Walter Diss of San Francisco will celebrate their 50th anniversary Aug. 27. They recently visited the Marin County Court House, where their marriage took place, and were amazed to see how little the structure has changed in 50 years. Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

FOLLOWING THEIR marriage 50 years ago this month Mr. and Mrs. Walter Diss posed for a photographer on the steps of the Marin County Court House.

Kenyon Spaldings Vacation While Son Is On Study Trip Abroad

By MOLLY MARIN

The Kenyon Spaldings of Mill Valley took an extensive vacation themselves after seeing their son Peter, 15, off in New York City on a study trip to Russia and other countries.

Especially interested in languages, Peter, who is a sophomore at Drew School in San Francisco, studied some Russian and German in school. After visiting Paris, Stockholm, Copenhagen and Helsinki, he will study Russian in Leningrad three weeks and then go on to Moscow, Warsaw, Yalta, Vilanus and Kiev, before returning home.

The Spaldings visited relatives in New York and Vermont and friends in Colorado. In the Performing Arts Center at Saratoga Springs near Schnectady, N.Y., they saw ballets in which Conrad Ludlow, formerly of Mill Valley and now an internationally known dancer, performed.

In Burlington, Vt., they were surprised to find everyone familiar with the "Save-the-Bay" battle and saw Joe Bodovitz and Peter Behr on television.

Their only unfortunate experience was getting caught in the flood at Philadelphia, Pa. Before returning they visited in Colorado Springs with the Robert Randolphs, formerly of Mill Valley.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA was the vacation spot for Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan and Mrs. Wilma Anderson of the Marin Country Club Estates in Novato and the three granddaughters of Mrs. Anderson, April Achen of Lincoln, Neb., and Leslie and Laurie Clayton of Omaha. Hearst Castle and Disneyland were among the points of interest visited.

AFTER A WEDDING trip to Lake Tahoe Lt. and Mrs. Donald Leo Ducey (Virginia Slattery) are en route to Germany, where Lieutenant Ducey will be stationed with the U.S. Army. They were married at Mission San Rafael Arcangel in San Rafael in July. Virginia is the daughter of the William J. Slatterys of San Rafael and her husband is the son of Col. and Mrs. Donald L. Ducey of Ft. Baker. He was graduated from Albuquerque University and she from the College of Marin.

A SAN FRANCISCO Yacht Club women's crew will represent California in Adams Cup finals at the Fort Worth Boat Club in Fort Worth, Tex., Aug. 25-28.

Skipper Martha McDougle, who took three out of four races in the semi-finals at Seal Beach Yacht Club in Long Beach last week will go on to Texas for the Women's North American Sailing Championships. Martha, who first came to Belvedere as an Adams Contestant from Rochester, N.Y. Yacht Club in 1966, and decided to remain in California, also was the area representative a year ago at Bay Head, N.J., finishing a strong second.

Crewing for Martha will be Ann Elder of San Francisco and Connie Strong of Tiburon, with Mrs. Edwin Green of San Francisco as alternate.

Rhodes 19 class yachts will be used on the lake at Fort Worth. The SFYC lady captain regularly races her own Rhodes 19 in bay competition with an all girl crew dressed alike in pink slacks and jackets.

HELEN HELP US!

Husband Who Reads Constantly May Be Hiding From Life

DEAR HELEN:

My husband can't keep his nose out of a book. He has an addiction to reading that won't quit and he'll read anything, even to the new mail order catalog — cover to cover.

He reads the cereal boxes at the breakfast table, after he finishes the newspaper; takes a book to work, reads timetables, and bulletin boards. He carries his lunch and reads while he's eating his sandwiches.

As soon as he gets home, he plunks down on the couch and — instead of going to sleep like normal husbands — he reads He can't resist the current book or magazine, so his bedside lamp is on half the night. He even reads books in his dreams, as he talks about them while sleeping.

I'm getting tired of seeing only a book where there once was a face, and I'm sure our five children would like to become better acquainted with their Dad.

Is there such a thing as Readers Anonymous?—WIFE OF A READING ADDICT.

DEAR WIFE:

Sorry, I've never heard of Readers Anonymous.

I'd guess your husband's addiction is as much a cover-up as love of words. When people don't want to face life, they often hide behind reading matter — or television — or a solitary hobby which keeps them apart. A partial cure might be in getting him to discuss his books with you.

On the other hand: Better a book worm than a pub crawler. Right? — H.

P.S. Buy several books on "how to make the most out of marriage" — aimed at men — and spot them around his easy chair. An avid reader should assimilate ideas!

DEAR HELEN:

Earlier this summer a writer complained about the rough fine he got for driving while drunk. It could have been worse. Tom Arden, in the Sacramento Bee says:

So you were stopped by the highway patrol. So you were arrested, put in jail and had to spend the night there. So the judge fined you $289 plus costs. So the boss gave you a good chewing out. Well pal, you never had it so good . . .

In San Salvador, you would be executed by a firing squad.

In Turkey, you would be taken 20 miles away by the police and forced to walk back — under escort.

In Malaya, you would be jailed and, if you are married, your wife would be too.

In South Africa, you would be jailed for 10 years or fined $2,800, or both.

In Sweden, one drink would get you three weeks in jail. — READER.

Vinyl Placemats

Wash both sides of a foam-backed vinyl placemat. A stain which appears to be on the vinyl side may be imbedded in the foam. A vegetable brush dipped in soap or detergent suds makes an effective scrubber for this purpose.

VIVID VEGETABLES

FINBAR O'DRISCOLL

Finbar O'Driscoll of Tiburon a member of the group three years, is the new president of the Marin Whirlaways.

As most folk dance groups, the Whirlaways' main objectives are the promotion of cultural and recreational enjoyment through folk dancing.

Their special activity is in connection with weekly classes held at 8 p.m. Wednesdays at Carpenters Hall in San Rafael, and high points of the year are the President's Ball, the Marin Folk Dance Festival and the Karlstad Ball.

Born and educated in Ireland, O'Driscoll is also active in the All Ireland Club and the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

He is employed as an electrician and he and his family, which includes three daughters, Margaret Mary, Anne Elizabeth and Maureen Agnes, have lived in Marin three years.

The new president's other interests are tennis, sport fishing and Irish cooking.

Serving with his as officers will be Frank Corno of Tiburon, vice president; and Mrs. George Robertson of Mill Valley, secretary-treasurer.

Marriage Trends

MANILA (UPI)—Filipinos generally marry at an early age, according to marriage trends gathered by the Bureau of Census and Statistics. Between the ages of 15 and 24, more than seven out of 10 females and more than five out of 10 males get married.

Doudiet-Stevenson Rite Held

Janet Carol Stevenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roger B. Stevenson of San Anselmo, became the bride of James T. Doudiet of San Francisco in an afternoon ceremony Saturday at the Sleepy Hollow Presbyterian Church in San Anselmo.

A reception at Deer Park Villa in Fairfax followed the ceremony.

The bride's sister, Mrs. A. Robert Taylor of Neward, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. Allen Cristofani of San Francisco; Mrs. James Streets of Riverside; Florence Kuhl of Pennington, N. J.; and Patricia Young of Pasadena.

Thomas Doudiet was his brother's best man, and Allen Cristofani, Michael Stern of San Francisco, Phil M. Bitter of Fresno and Ronald Himes of Walnut Creek ushered guests to their seats.

The couple will live in San Francisco following a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe and Reno.

The bride was graduated from Central Regional High School of Hopewell Township in Pennington, Contra Costa Junior College and Kaiser Foundation School of Nursing in Oakland.

James is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Doudiet of San Francisco. He was graduated from George Washington High School in San Francisco and received a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering and a master's degree in business administration from the University of California. Mrs. Eva Parks of Felton and Mrs. Yvonne Doudiet of San Francisco are his grandmothers. He is employed by Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in San Francisco.

SCHOOLS

3 to 5 year olds and a kindergarten for 5 to 7 year olds. Day care for working parents is provided through the Ministry of Family and Consumer affairs in these countries.

Playgrounds sponsored by the local government and supervised by recreational specialists are available for children up to 14 years old. They build their "own towns" and have the opportunity to make their own little retreats, which they may keep for as long as six months. In some of the parks the children raise vegetables and there are farm animals.

"Every kind of creative play is available — art, drama, carpentry," the Belvedere woman said. "There is no litter in the parks. The children police themselves. The people take a healthy pride in their parks."

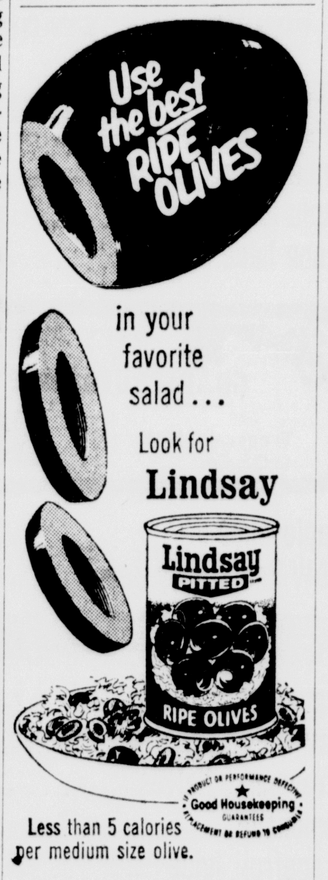
Mrs. Bastian was particularly impressed with a facility for single women with young children in Norway. The mothers, unmarried, widowed or divorced, were assigned flats where they and their children could live from one to three years. Each had a small bedroom for the child, a kitchen and a studio room for the mother. The women shared common rooms, including laundry, dining room, large kitchen for cooking for social occasions, lobby for meeting and television room. The women were taught to become self-sufficient, and child care was available for them while they trained for future careers. After 10 years of operation the program was assessed and it was found that 70 per cent of the women were still following the careers they had trained for while staying at this institution. In the Scandinavian countries there are few adoptions, so the mother's preparation for a good future gives family stability.

"These were model facilities," Mrs. Bastian said, "with trained teachers or nurses caring for the children."

"THE WHOLE program, facilities, goals, training and family involvement, reflected great concern for the human values of childhood. Both in England and Scandinavia adults really appreciated children. They seemed to respect them; they did not use them or exploit them," Mrs. Bastian summed up. "It is an atmosphere in which everyone is thriving."

Bread Sticks

Serve herb corn bread sticks with spring salads. To a 10-ounce package of corn bread mix, add 1 egg, ½ cup of milk, 2 tablespoons of grated parmesan cheese and ½ teaspoon of oregano. Mix as label directs. Bake in preheated 425-degree oven about 20 minutes; cool. Cut in 16 strips, each about 2½ by 1-inch. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with chopped parsley. Broil several minutes or until golden brown. Serve hot.



Less than 5 calories per medium size olive.

ART REVIEW

Litterscapes Prompt The Question 'Why?'

By LAURA DEVENDORF

Robert Biancalana's current tack is creating "plastic constructions of lost and forgotten objects overgrown by a green plastic world." His exhibit this month at Anima Mundi, 352 Miller Ave., Mill Valley, proves his idea to be unusual and bright. His execution is also technically admirable but the impact, at times, is curiously empty.

The idea of recreating scale models of ground using grim dimestore plastic greenery plus the actual litter we humans have cast upon the earth does have fascination. Admittedly, there is a certain curiousity value in seeing the kind of crud with which we decorate our world. And if your eye for natural beauty says that mangled rubber balls, bottle caps, pencils and rusted junk are appropriate to it, then rocks and greenery might as well be plastic.

Biancalana is scrupulous in his rendering of it. Rock is hard and coarse, dirt is dirty junk is the real thing and the plastic growth which springs from earth or stone makes the same determined effort at obscuring the assorted thrown-aways in the artist's constructions as it does in nature.

Biancalana doesn't limit himself to any terrain. He swings from voluptuous, green contours to bleak rock and junk-strewn mud flats, organizing it all with a designer's eye and laying in areas of contrast to form strong geometric patterns.

Sometimes the results are striking as in one where simulated auto parts are arranged in fat rounded chunks of rust and glazed blue-greens within a dirt-frosted patch of plastic ground cover. And in his one-time use of hot color, a battered red tin can becomes a sharp accent for simple shapes of green and stone.

These, in particular, seem to rise above their medium's plastic interest, having a usage and control of form which is a pleasure to study for the sake of itself. In these, Biancalana has obviously manipulated the landscape to satisfy his own artistic standards.

In a few others, the standards seem happenstance — so literal that the landscape could have been dug up and framed as it is. They are too right, too perfect and because of it an original idea becomes simply a copy of something. For all the polish, there is too much duplication and not enough artist. And for some of Biancalana's depth, the immediate reaction to that is, "Why?"

Petaluma Education Costs Hike Tax Rate

The Petaluma Board of Education last night adopted budgets for the high school and elementary districts that will probably raise taxes rates by 28 and 31 cents per $100 assessed valuation.

The high school budget of $4,554,900 was unchanged from the publication budget but $626,581 higher than the 1968-69 budget. George W. Castleberry, business manager, said the present total tax rate for the district will probably climb by 28 cents from $2.33 per $100 assessed valuation to $2.61.

The elementary district budget of $2,333,728 was $20,900 higher than the publication budget. Castleberry said the additional cost related to making provisions for displaced students at the Penngrove School which had been declared unsafe under state earthquake regulations.

The budget represents an increase of $212,813 over the 1968-69 budget. Castleberry estimated the elementary district tax rate would increase by 31 cents from $2.11 to $2.42 per assessed valuation.

Castleberry said the tax rate was still not firm because the Sonoma County assessor's office had not yet provided school district and cities with new assessed valuation figures. Noting that figures are usually known more in advance, he said that data processing problems had caused the delay.

The Petaluma Board of Education also:

PENNGROVE — Heard a report from Superintendent Lesly H. Meyer that four classes from the unsafe Penngrove School will be transferred to extra rooms and the multi-use room at the Cherry Valley School and that additional space is being sought for the fifth class.

BUS AID — Awarded a contract for the purchase of a 67 passenger diesel engine bus to the Sanderson Ford Motor Co. Petaluma at $12,747.

FIELD LIGHTS — Awarded a contract for the renovation of lighting on the Webster Street side of Durst Field at Petaluma Senior High School to Reliance Enterprises at a low bid of $12,774.

INSURANCE — Awarded the contract for district fire insurance to the Continental Insurance Co. through the Carpenter Agency at an annual cost of $15,864 and liability insurance to the United Pacific Insurance Co. Through the John J. King Agency at an annual cost of $13,063.

EMPLOYED — Hired teachers Sylvia Benn at $9,249; Pattie Jo Tower at $9,620; Michael Severson at $7,290 and Shirley Spina as a temporary part-time teacher at $914.

Festival Theater Slates Foreign Cartoon, Drama

Drama, songs and foreign cartooning will be presented by the San Anselmo Festival Theater during a three-day event beginning Friday.

Friday at 9 p.m. at the theater, Gerry Hiken and Paul Richards will present "Freeway," a mixture of various theatrical elements blended by the two Broadway and Hollywood veterans.

Saturday, the Magic Theater of Berkeley will present the Marin premiere of three one-act plays. Two of these are by playwright Michael McClure.

The Berkeley Theater presentation will be held in Alexander Hall, 30 Kensington Road, San Anselmo, and will begin at 9 p.m. A 7:30 p.m. dinner will precede the plays. Tickets must be reserved one day in advance.

A Japanese cartoon will also be shown Saturday at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. as part of the children's film series. The feature length film, titled "The Littlest Warrior," deals with 11th Century noblemen and their families.

The annual excess inventory costume sale will be held Sunday at the festival theater between 2 and 10 p.m.

Hundreds of costumes, medieval to modern, and countless accessories will be offered.

The theater is located at 27 Kensington Road in San Anselmo.

Young Poets To Read At Library

Five young poets from Santa Barbara and Marin County will read their own works at a poetry session at 8 p.m. on Aug. 15 at the Mill Valley Library.

All the poets are unpublished, according to Miss Brown, who is organizing the reading which she said is designed to encourage young poets. Other poets also are invited to read their works, she said.

Prosecution Ordered To Reveal Olompali Informer

The Marin County district attorney's office was warned in Marin Superior Court yesterday that it must reveal the name of a confidential informant or face dismissal of marijuana charges against Donald C. McCoy Jr. and 10 other residents of the Rancho Olompali commune.

After a day-long examination of a sheriff's inspector by defense attorneys, Judge Joseph G. Wilson continued the preliminarty hearing to Sept. 11, at which time, he said, he will dismiss the charges unless the prosecution identifies the informant, whose reports of marijuana and drugs at the ranch led to a June 9 raid which netted the 11 defendents.

Deputy Dist. Atty. Ernest C. Zunino and Inspector Harry E. Bock spent yesterday fighting defense attempts to learn the man's name. Zunino said revealing it would endanger the man's life. Brock cited sections of the evidence code in withholding the name.

Bock also said the informant has provided information in two other narcotics raids. The informant presumably would be useless in future undercover work if his identity becomes known.

Defense lawyers said the entire prosecution case was based on the informant's information, and said they needed to know who he was in order to prepare their defense.

To the defense said the informant would have to testify in the pending trial to link most of the defendants with the marijuana and narcotics seized, because only two defendants reportedly had contraband found on their persons.

The others were linked by officers to contraband found around the ranch, and three defendants were away from the ranch during the raid.

Two persons arrested during the raid are no longer involved in the case. A marijuana possession charge against James Edward Bartee, 23, has been dismissed, and Carol Lee Garret, 30, was to appear today in Marin Municipal Court for probable dismissal of a marijuana possession charge.

Freeway Transit Lane Bill Passes

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — A bill to authorize exclusive or preferential use of freeway lanes for buses has cleared the Legislature and gone to the governor for signing into law. (Other Legislature stories on pages 6 and 7.)

This use of freeway lanes long has been advocated by mass transportation advocates in the Marin-San Francisco corridor, but state Department of Public Works attorneys ruled special legislation was needed before the department legally could set aside a lane for buses.

The bill, SB 43 by Sen. Tom Carrell, D-San Fernando, declares that "the investment made in this (freeway) system requires that it be used as effectively as possible to provide an efficient transit method." It provides that both public and private agencies furnishing mass public transportation will be eligible under the bill's provisions.

The Assembly amended the bill to have it expire in 1975, and to require the department then to recommend whether the experiment should be made permanent.

Similar bills by Carrell were defeated in past legislative sessions, but the Department of Public Works supported the measure this year for the first time.

Sausalito Eases Law On Political Handbills

Apparently embarrassed by the arrest 11 days ago of a Corte Madera woman for distributing anti-ABM handbills, the Sausalito City Council last night moved to limit sharply its handbill ordinance so it applies only to advertising or commercial handbills.

Frances Steadman was arrested July 26 for distributing the handbills, but City Atty. Leland H. Jordan appeared in court July 29 and asked dismissal of the complaint because court decisions have held that anti-pamphlet ordinances cannot ban handbills dealing with political or social issues.

Jordan last night gave the council an amendment which would limit the ordinance to banning distribution of advertising or commercial handbills without a city permit.

The council postponed action only because it wanted another limit added — a specific section saying the ordinance will not apply to religious handbills or pamphlets.

Jordan said he will prepare the additional change for the next council meeting Aug. 19.

Irving R. Cohen, chairman of the Marin chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union, applauded the council's apparent desire to amend the ordinance and offered to set up an ACLU seminar on the constitution and civil liberties for the police department and any other city employees, at no cost to the city.

The council also received a letter from Gregoire F. Gallipeau of San Francisco, objecting to Mrs. Steadman's arrest and saying he would "spend tourist dollars elsewhere . . . while Naziism exists and is tolerated in your city."

The Sausalito City Council Also:

WATERFRONT PLAN — Set public hearings on the long-awaited central waterfront plan for 8 p.m. Sept. 18, 23 and 25.

BRIDGEWAY — Awarded a contract for bridgeway widening between Olive Street and the north city limits to Ghilotti Brothers, low bidder among three bids at $39,836. The figure excludes three alternates, construction of a bus stop at Nevada Street, building underground foundations for street lights, and providing topsoil for center islands. Public Works Director Norman Wonischlaeger said the alternates will be handled as separate projects.

MINIBOARD — Accepted the resignation of Jean Fischer from the human rights miniboard. She said the board "seems to have dissolved" and that she "didn't seem to be accomplishing anything" by being a member.

RECREATION — Accepted the resignation of teen recreation director Richard Paris, who cited "personal and financial reasons" for leaving the post.

ELEPHANTS — Referred to the recreation commission a proposal by Anker Enterprises to clean and plastic coat the fountain, elephants, steps and war monument at Vina Del Mar Plaza for $2,500.

PARKING — Authorized a restaurant run by George Hernandez at 500 Valley Street to open at 1 p.m. Sundays instead of 5. The restaurant is limited to opening at 5 p.m. other days to avoid overcrowding parking used by other commercial tenants at the shopping center.

DOG ORDINANCE — Approved a joint powers agreement with Marin County on dog control.

FIRE ENGINE — Agreed to sell the motor and transmission from an old fire truck, used as a children's plaything in a small park near the fire station, to Jack Dupen, owner of the Red Garter Bar in San Francisco, for $50. Dupen said he wants to rebuild the machinery for another antique fire truck he has with no engine. The machinery is unused now since the truck hood is welded shut to prevent injury to children.

PUC — Ordered a letter sent to the Public Utilities Commission backing the League of California Cities proposal that utility companies speed up the schedule for undergrounding utilities throughout the state.

SEWER — Took no action on a request for condemnation on a sewer easement crossing property of Paul B. Meserve and Dale H. Hawkins at 494 Sausalito Boulevard. Attorneys for the two and for Mrs. Bernice Andron argued nearly an hour on the complex case and the council finally told the parties to prepare a list of alternative solutions and the objections to them for the council to consider later.

TRAILER — Told Jordan to write to Carl Marino, operator of the Mohawk Service Station at Gate 5, turning down his request to use a trailer there as a temporary office. Use of trailers is banned in the city, Jordan advised the council.

Convention Prospects In Marin Promise A Healthy Money Tree

Marin's convention business has taken off with a boom — and more is expected as facilities are developed.

"It means a lot of dough for the community that we never had before," said Carroli A. Snyker, manager of the Marin County Chamber of Commerce and Visitors Bureau.

Twelve conventions, with about 1,750 persons expected, are already scheduled in the next nine months at the recently opened Holiday Inn, San Rafael, currently Marin's only large convention facility.

Among the groups scheduled are the Redwood Empire Association, the Golden Gate Dachshund Club, the Northern California Independent Retail Shoe Seminar and the California Federation of Women's Clubs.

The Holiday Inn is booked almost solid all the time, averaging 97 per cent occupancy, Snyker reported.

Richard Emil, manager of the Holiday Inn reported about 60 banquets and meetings were booked when the facility opened and there has been an average of one group a day since.

He reported plans for the second phase of construction, with 130 more rooms, more conference rooms, enlarged banquet facilities and cocktail lounge, are expected soon, though a definite date has not been set.

Snyker said its success will probably "make it a good precedent for other institutions."

Snyker said the center is planned to serve about 200 persons, with facilities for meeting, eating and sleeping.

He said the center will be geared to scientific, professional and technical conferences since Commerce Clearing House, a publishing firm which is developing the property, concentrates primarily on professional and technical publications.

Snyker said the combination of the Holiday Inn, the Quail Hill project and the Veterans Memorial Auditorium on the Civic Center grounds will provide flexible and complementary facilities.

"This doesn't happen very often," he said.

Snyker said Ben A. Farlatti's Tiburon Lodge handles small meetings of not more than 60 or 70 persons and there is a possibility that the Edgewater Inn in Corte Madera and Rancho Rafael in Ignacio, both of which have recently changed hands, could be developed to handle convention business.

Also being sought is a Howard Johnson restaurant and motel at Richardson Bay Bridge.

"After praying and working for this for so many years we're beginning to see results," Snyker said happily.

Rafferty Says Grand Jury Did Not Ask Investigation

I-J Special Report

SACRAMENTO — Max Rafferty, state superintendent of public instruction, said today that his office's investigation of the Sausalito public schools was not undertaken at request of the Marin County Grand Jury.

A story yesterday, carried by the Independent-Journal through a series of errors as a "special to the I-J" report, quoted Rafferty as saying he had instituted an investigation of the hiring of William Bradley (also known as Chaka), an uncredentiated teacher, at grand jury request.

Rafferty said his office "has received a lot of complaints from Sausalito."

He said that as results of complaints that the Black Panther Party was propagandizing school children at its free breakfasts, he sent his assitant, James M. Hemphill, to investigate. Hemphill spent two days in Sausalito and reported he found no propagandizing, the state superintendent said.

"We also got complaints about Bradley," said Rafferty. "In this matter, however, I did not send an investigator. We asked the county superintendent, Virgil Hollis, to look into this. Virgil reported he had received assurance from the school district officials that Bradley was serving as a teacher's aide, with a certificated teacher in charge. I also received such assurances in a letter from the district."

Rafferty said the quotation ascribed to him yesterday, "If this is not true, we have been lied to," was "essentially correct."

The state superintendent said a member of the Marin County Grand Jury called at his office several months ago "and asked for a lot of information, all of which we provided." He said, however, that his investigation of the Black Panther breakfasts and his request that Hollis investigate the employment of Bradley did not result from grand jury requests.

Teacher Hearing Set In Red Guard Uproar

San Rafael Board of Education agreed last night to hold a closed session but set no date to hear charges against a San Rafael High School teacher who permitted two Chinese Red Guards to address his classes and distribute Maoist propaganda. (Other San Rafael Board of Education stories on page 10.)

A group of residents formed as the Concerned Parents Association, seeking to have the social studies teacher, Angelo Duovos, fired, asked by letter for the closed session at last night's board meeting.

The association contended that Duovos violated the state education code, has shown disrespect for students and parents, and was deficient in judgment and that the material distributed by the two Red Guards from San Francisco was obscene.

Supt. John F. Plank said the quality of education in Duovos's classes has been "well above average," and aside from the Red Guard incident in May there was no known violation of board policy or education code.

Duovos made a mistake and has apologized and "it seems to me the incident should be closed," Plank said.

Board member Paul L. Jones said that since the protesting group is still concerned, the requested hearing should be held, noting the board has responsibility to the community as well as to teachers, and other board members concurred.

Sausalito Council Backs Patterson

Sausalito City councilmen rapped the Independent-Journal's knuckles last night as they defended City Mgr. George M. Patterson, calling him "a man of unquestionable honesty and integrity."

The council passed a resolution supporting Patterson and objecting to "innuendo" in an I-J editorial Friday about Patterson, the council and an unannounced closed meeting to choose a new councilman.

The editorial took Patterson to task for his role in a dispute over the Ralph M. Brown Act regarding the closed meeting. Patterson had said the city had never received notice from the I-J asking 24 hours notice of closed meetings, and that he had therefore advised the council it did not have to provide such notice for the meeting at which Wyman Hicks was chosen to succeed George C. Hoffman.

The I-J contention was that the letter was sent in 1967. The editorial said "Patterson's device of the missing letter" got the council off the hook as far as prosecution for a Brown Act violation was concerned.

Last night's resolution said the paper has "been unsuccessful in establishing to the satisfaction of anyone, except that of its own editorial staff, that such a letter request was given to the city.

Dist Atty. Bruce B. Bales said Thursday that in the absence of proof the letter was sent, there would be no prosecution under the Brown Act.

Larkspur School Trustees Trim $30,000 Off Budget

Larkspur School District trustees last night adopted a final budget totaling $1,661,186 for fiscal 1969-70, a cut of $29,922 under last year's $1,691,108.

The property tax rate is expected to lop one to four cents off the 1968-69 tax rate of $3.565 per $100 assessed valuation, Asst. Supt. Glibert L. Slusher said today.

The cut in the budget was possible largely because enrollment dropped by about 3 percent, Slusher said.

Slusher said that no major capital outlays are planned by the district.

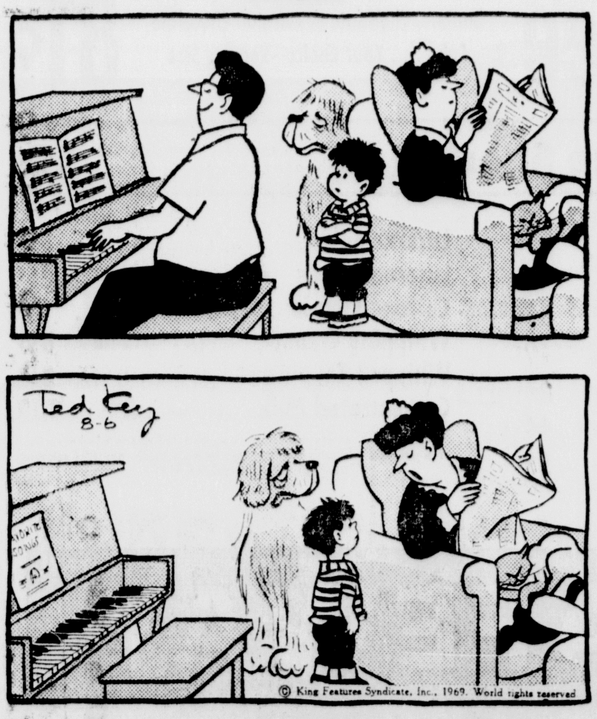
Larkspur School District Trustees also:

ORDINANCE — Passed an ordinance prohibiting golfing, motorcycle riding and driving unauthorized vehicles on school grounds in a routine action to comply with police department requests.

RESIGNATION — Accepted the resignation of Boyd Welton, custodian at Neil Cummins Elementary School, and hired John Edmands to replace him at $460 per month.

HEALTH PLAN — Granted a request by 12 teachers to switch from the Blue Cross health plan to Kaiser health plan.

HAZEL



"Which is how YOU'LL sound if you don't practice."

Architects To Study Fairfax Park Plans

The Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission last night authorized Ribera and Sue landscaping architects of Oakland to begin a study of plans to improve Andy Peri Park.

According to Eleanora Edgar, secretary, the architects will begin their study at Bolinas Road and Elsie Lane and are expected to present a report at the commission's September meeting. The Fairfax Council has appropriated $2,500 in the 1969-70 budget for the initial study.

Personnel Meeting

Tamalpais High School District trustees will meet first in closed session at its 7:30 p.m. adjourned meeting tomorrow in the district office, Larkspur, then reconvene in open session. Both sessions are concerned with the hiring of personnel, Edward J. Neumeier, administrative assistant, reported.

Topic Of Sounding Board — Muir Beach

Future of Muir Beach under state management will be discussed tomorrow at 9 a.m. on the KTIM Sounding Board by Robert B. Hatch, district superintendent of the state Department of Parks and Recreation, two residents of Muir Beach, Mrs. Gordon Mosteller and Dr. Catherine Kirkman Bakhtiar with the fourth panelist to be announced.

Questions may be phoned during the live Thursday broadcast. The program, moderated by Kitty Oppenheimer will be rebroadcast by tape recording, Sunday at 10:05 a.m.

Dixie Budget Likely To Boost Tax Rate

A 1969-70 budget of $3,925,000, up $328,000 from 1968-69, was adopted by trustees of the Dixie School District after a public hearing last night.

Asst. Supt. Joseph B. Goff estimated the new total tax rate in the district at $3.93 per $100 of assessed valuation, up 27 cents, with the general operating levy expected to reach the $3.35 maximum voted in the district three years ago.

District officials have said the budget increase is due to a projected student growth of 153 this fall and a 6 per cent increase in per-pupil costs.

The board said last night that budget reserves may shrink by more than $200,000 because of a small rise in assessed valuation and uncertainty over state aid.

The Dixie School District Board also:

EQUIPMENT — Authorized purchase of a new tractor with loader for nearly $4,500 from low bidder North Bay Tractor Co. of Petaluma and of a copying machine for the district office.

SUIT — Authorized the county counsel's office to file suit against the Marin Title Insurance Co. to claim interest earned on funds held in escrow more than two years for purchase of the Oak View School site.

APPOINTMENTS — Named Mrs. Lois Lucas as part-time library assistant at Nova Albion School at an annual salary of $1,574 and hired five teachers, Patricia Howlett, at an annual salary of $9,160, and Holly Bowen, Susan Schroth and Carol Weisenburg, each at $7,120.

$1,000 In Prizes In Arts Festival

A total of $1,000 in awards will be presented to winners in the juried art show of the Mill Valley Fall Arts Festival to be held Oct. 11 and 12 in Old Mill Park, according to Anne Coggins, publicity chairman.

Prizes $100 for first place, $75 for second place and $50 for third place will be presented to winners in the painting, sculpture, crafts graphic-photography categories.

In addition, special prizes, including purchase awards, will be donated by Mill Valley merchants. The Evans Memorial Award of $100 will be given to the artist whose work most reflects the spirit of Mill Valley.

Small Dillon Beach Area Forms For Sewer Service

An improvement district to furnish sewer service to 48 lots north of Dillon Beach, was approved last night by the North Marin County Water District board, according to Manager Eugene Churchill.

Formation of the district was requested by Bodega Bay Lands Inc.

Last night's action does not preclude the formation of a larger district later to include more of Dillon Beach, if the residents so wish, Churchill said.

The North Marin County Water District board also:

MAINTENANCE AGREEMENT — Approved a joint agreement on the emergency exchange use of equipment and manpower with the Marin Municipal Water District and the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Control District.

CONTRACT — Awarded a $4,231 contract to Loggers and Contractors Machinery Co. of Oakland, lowest of four qualifying bidders, for an air compressor.

AGREEMENTS — Approved construction agreements with Bahia Del Norte Corp. to add 39 services to its Unit 1B and for the extension of 400 feet of main on San Ramon Way in San Marin.

BONDS — Approved having the Bank of America, bond agent for the district, register bonds when requested. The district recently received its first request to have the bonds registered and this was not in the agreement with the bank, Churchill said.

Wife Seeks Divorce From Alto Principal

Dominick Bobbio, principal of Alto School in the Mill Valley School District, has been sued for divorce by his wife of 15 years, Gloria E. Bobbio.

The suit filed in Marin Superior Court asks custody of the couple's one child, Lisa Lynn, 13. Mrs. Bobbio also is seeking $350 a month alimony and $150 a month child support, an equitable division of unspecified community property, and an injunction against Bobbio from disposing of any community property pending settlement of the case.

Mini-Bike, Tools Reported Stolen

Two burglaries involving a loss of power tools and a mini-motorcycle were reported today by Larkspur police.

An impact wrench, air hammers and drills worth $500 and an undetermined amount of cash from an office safe were taken from Roy A. Padget's Philips 66 service station at 2070 Redwood Highway late Monday or early Tuesday, police said.

The burglars entered by smashing a lubrication room window.

Burglars striking at approximately the same time a U-Drive Go Carts, 17 E. Sir Francis Drake Boulevard, ransacked a snack bar and stole a $150 mini-motorcycle from a storage garage.

Police did not know if the two burglaries were connected.

Sunbather Charged In Beach Disturbance

Philip H. Weyenberg, 24, of San Francisco, was arraigned yesterday in Marin Municipal Court on a charge of disturbing the peace Saturday at Muir Beach.

Weyenberg reportedly was sunbathing nude at the beach when deputies arrived to answer a citizen's complaint. He was ordered to appear Tuesday to plead to the charge.

Panel To Study Communication At State College

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A special committee of the California State College Board of trustees will study the status of communication now between students and administration at once troubled San Francisco State College.

The committee will meet soon with the college president, S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley and representatives of the Academic Senate, college deans and student groups.

Daniel H. Ridder, trustees chairman, said yesterday the committee will "determine the facts regarding and the status of channels of communication on campus" and recommend improvements if appropriate.

Ridder and state college Chancellor Glenn Dumke are ex-officio members of the committee. Other members are Charles Luckman, Los Angeles; Albert J. Ruffo, San Jose, and Theodore Meriam, Chico.

'Dark Of Moon' To Open Friday

A folk drama with music, "The Dark of the Moon," presented by the Homestead Valley Players, will open at 8:30 p.m. Friday at Brown's Hall, 390 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley, for a four weekend run.

The drama based on the folk song, "Ballad of Barbara Allen," will be presented Friday and Saturday nights through August.

Charles Smith of Mill Valley and Don Eaton of Sausalito will direct the play about a male witch who wants to marry a human girl. Pat Bebout and Sue Lowry, both of Mill Valley, will produce the show.

Dennis Brown of Corte Madera, Jama Tegeler and John Evans of San Rafael, and Chris Bratt of Homestead Valley will perform the leading roles.

English Teacher To Be Judge Of Contest

Dr. Eugene Soules, chairman of the Sonoma State College English department, has been appointed as a judge of the achievement awards program for the National Council of Teachers of English.

Soules will participate in regional judging committees to evaluate the writing abilities of high school students and to recommend scholarships for winners.

Man Arraigned In Burglary Case

A San Francisco man was arraigned on a charge of burglary yesterday in Marin Municipal Court following his arrest in Corte Madera.

Wells was arrested with two companions after a San Rafael warehouse owner, Kenneth L. Silvestri, reported seeing the men leave his building after midnight. Silvestri described the men's car to police and a Corte Madera officer arrested them on a Highway 101 ramp.

No complaint was filed yesterday against the other two, Daniel K. Chisolm, 21, of South San Francisco, and Richard V. Reverdy, 21, of San Francisco.

Squirrel Causes Electrical Halt

A squirrel that tumbled into an electric power transformer caused 50 customers in the Bret Harte Road area to go without electric power for more than five hours yesterday.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. said the squirrel caused a section of line attached to the transformer to burn out at 8 a.m.

Power was restored to the area, which included sections of San Rafael, Larkspur and Greenbrae, at 1:30 p.m.

Lesser Counts Denied By Assault Suspect

Trial for Walter Christopher Shoemaker, 21, of Inverness, on charges of disturbing the peace and assault was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for 2 p.m. Tuesday.

Shoemaker was jailed Saturday on suspicion of attempted rape of a 13-year-old girl in Inverness but was arraigned on the lesser charges. He pleaded innocent yesterday and was released on his own recognizance.

TREAT THE KIDS TO SHAKESPEARE!

And get in on the act yourself

And what better place to take them than to Forest Meadows Theatre in San Rafael, where Dominican College has built what is regarded as one of the most beautiful outdoor theatres in the world? (There's even a lake in front of the free-form stage!).

Browbeat the youngsters, then, into taking YOU, if you can't take them. You'll both be the better for it.

Cotati School Budget Leaves Tax Rate Same

Cotati School District Trustees last night adopted a budget of $1,051,867, expecting to continue the present tax rate of $2.06 per $100 assessed valuation.

The final budget was $12,186 higher than the publication budget, but nearly $30,000 lower than the 1968-69 budget.

Business Manager James Davidson said the budget anticipates a revenue of $1,064,093, but that state allocations and local assessed valuation figures were not yet known.

The Cotati School District trustees also:

VICE PRINCIPAL — Named Paul Percy as vice principal of the Waldo Rohnert School where he has been a teacher for the past several years. His starting salary will be $11,435.

LIBRARY — Acknowledged the receipt of an additional $100 for the Thomas Page School library from descendants of Thomas Page bringing the total contribution to $600.

REPRESENTATIVE —Named Trustee Bart C. Mitchell as the board representative on the Petaluma High School District citizens advisory committee.

MEETING — Set the next meeting for Aug. 26, at 7:30 p.m.

Auto, Bike Thefts Reported By Police

Police said a bicycle, valued at $50 and owned by Thomas P. Hannen of 216 Mountain View was stolen within the past three weeks from his home.

Pair Injured As Motorcycle Slips

A San Anselmo man and a San Rafael woman were injured when their motorcycle missed a curve on North San Pedro Road near Vendola Drive at 7:15 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Michael Wade Loftin, 22, of 4 Olive Avenue, San Anselmo, was treated at Marin General Hospital for multiple cuts of the face, knees, legs and arms.

His passenger, Bonnie Joslyn, 33, of 869 Estancia, San Rafael, was treated for a cut knee and foot.

Mill Valley Panel Opposes Heliport Area Food Plans

A Colonel Sanders Kentucky fried chicken take out food restaurant should not be permitted adjacent to the heliport in Richardson Bay, the Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee declared last night, according to Zoning Administrator Howard R. McGill.

The committee recommended that the Marin County planning commission deny the restaurant's application because of traffic, circulation and parking problems.

In addition, the committee criticized the esthetics of the proposed building and the lack of landscaping, McGill said.

The Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee also:

Two Injured In Auto Accident

Gregory Wayne Edwards, 18, of Carmichael, Sacramento County, was injured yesterday when his car collided with another vehicle that failed to yield at the intersection of Highway 37 and Lakeville Highway in Southern Sonoma County, the California Highway Patrol said today.

Edwards was treated at Novato General Hospital for cuts on his lip and broken front teeth. The other driver, Donald Lee Elledge, 23, of 91 Wilmington Drive, Petaluma, went to his own physician.

The patrol said Edwards was westbound on Highway 37 when Elledge pulled across the road in front of him from the Lakeville Road. Elledge was cited for failure to yield to traffic on a thruway.

The accident occurred at 5:20 p.m.

Peace Corps Tests Scheduled Aug. 16

Peace Corps placement tests for Marin residents will be given at 1:30 p.m. Aug. 16 at the Mission branch of the San Rafael Post Office, Third and D streets.

Applications are available at post offices or from the Peace Corps, Washington, D.C. and must be presented to the tester before the test.

Ayala Cove Naming Rites Set For Outing On Sept. 6

Hospital Cove at Angel Island State Park will officially have its name changed to Ayala Cove during Ayala Day ceremonies, sponsored by the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission, Sept. 6 on the island.

Willam Penn Mott Jr., state director of parks and recreation, will officiate at the 2:30 p.m. dedication which will follow a chicken barbecue lunch at 11:30 a.m.

Planned to be a festive civic celebration and family day, Ayala Day will celebrate the fact that Don Juan Manuel de Ayala, lieutenant of a frigate in the royal Spanish navy, anchored in Ayala Cove in 1775 while directing the first known survey of San Francisco Bay. Ayala was the one who named the island Angel Island.

Tickets for the barbecue luncheon must be obtained in advance at Tiburon City Hall.

Committee members planning the event are parks and Recreation Commissioners David Teather, Polly Smith, George McKegney, Donald Loomis and F. Geoffrey Knight; Louise Teather, Belveder-Tiburon Landmarks Society historian; Russell L. Melquist, Tiburon assistant city manager, and William Carter, Cove Players president.

Car Extensively Damaged In Lot

Extensive damage was done to a car parked in the Crocker-Citizens National Bank lot in the Fair-Anselm Shopping Center, Fairfax police reported yesterday.

Police said Georgia Rosentruter of Box 46, Fairfax, reported the seats of the car were ripped, the carpets torn out, the horn rim broken and wiring damaged while the car was in the lot Thursday night and Friday.

Hearing Set For Attack Suspects

Preliminary hearing for Robert James Walker, 23, and Edward McCullough, 29, on charges of rape, robbery, kidnaping and car theft was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for 9:30 am. Monday.

McCullough pleaded innocent to the charges yesterday. The public defender was assigned to defend him. Judge Peter Allen Smith said he would appoint counsel for Walker, who entered no plea.

The two are accused of raping a San Leandro woman in Muir Beach Saturday taking her to San Francisco for another rape, and taking her purse and car.

Jury Trial Set For Car Theft Suspect

A jury trial for Lester James Skippingday, 23, of San Rafael, on a charge of grand theft was set yesterday in Marin Municipal Court for 10:30 a.m. Oct. 9.

Skippingday is accused of attempting to start another person's car in San Rafael July 20.

Special Meeting Set

The Gallinas Village Community Services District will hold a special meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. at the fireside room of the Santa Venetia Presbyterian Church to discuss the possibility of purchasing that church property, according to Marguerite Clark, secretary.

Junior College Budget Meeting

Marin Junior College trustees will consider adoption of the school's 1969-70 final budget at an 8 p.m. public hearing tomorrow in the Fine Arts Building at the College of Marin.

The proposed $11,412,582 budget includes $6,203,536 in building funds and carries an estimated 8-cent increase in the tax rate over last year's 82.5-cent rate.

Due for approval also is a $43,290 Associated Students budget.

The board will consider an updated version of a policies and procedures manual for students.

If You Could Have Seen

the joy in our eyes, then these words could go unsaid. This is one of the most charming, sturdily built, Bavarian chalet-styled modified "A"-frame homes that we have seen (3 bdrms., 2 bas. plus den). From the quality carpeted liv. rm. a styled staircase rises with a flair to a railinged study-den & to a most generous sized mstr. bdrm. w/adj. large walk-in closet & bath. The view windows are like picture frames encasing the beauty of natural wooded privacy accented by Yosemite-sized boulders and gay splashes of colorful fruit and flowers. The customized all-elec. kitchen is unusual and warm with rdwd. paneling & surprise quality extras. About 12 min. to G.G. toll. Want charming living (?), then please phone now; you'll be glad you did!

DECORATOR'S DELIGHT — S.R. HEIGHTS
Imagine a beautiful custom-built home situated on a rustic and tranquil half acre. The four bedrooms and three baths include a deluxe master bedroom and Roman bath. Gold leaf tiling in the sunken living room is just one outstanding feature of this elegant home. You will spend many relaxing hours in the pool area, which is complete with cabana, BBQ pit, and a deck which completely surrounds the house. Owner will consider an all inclusive deed of trust. Price $59,500.

TOWERING OAK — RACQUET CLUB
The majestic oak sets the mood for this beautiful home. Sliding glass doors from the living room and master bedroom lead onto a huge covered deck. Perfect for family living, entertaining and enjoying the breath-taking view. The large living room and dining area are walnut stained, ash paneled giving a warm feeling. The fireplace and glass wall adds charm to this setting. The 3 bedroom, 2 bath home has interesting expansion possibilities. Loads of storage in the walk-in closets. The lush green surroundings complete with vegetable garden and fruit trees give this large lot a feeling of its own. Membership is available in the Racquet Club. Price $40,990.

TOWNHOUSE — PEACOCK GAP
This 2 bedroom, 2½ bath condominium boasts of all the extras that one could hope for. These including: intercom system, laundry chute, electric radiant heating, w/w carpet thruout. Attached to the double car garage (with electric eye) is a utility room with a workshop area and lots of storage space. The beautiful carpeted stairway leads to the all-electric kitchen, complete with blender. The formal setting of the dining area and living room, complete with fireplace, adds elegance for entertaining. An additional stairway takes you to the 2 master bedrooms with adjoining baths. Each room has its own private deck. The large porch area overlooks the Peacock Gap Golf Course, lovely surrounding hills and Mt. Tamalpais. The outstanding features of the recreation room and pool area must be seen to be truly appreciated. Reduced $3,000, first time offered at $43,950.

LOTUS LAND — FAIRHILLS
This peaceful family home high in the hills of Fairhills in San Rafael is situated on a mostly level acre. The U-shaped floor plan encompasses a delightful outdoor living area with ample room for a pool. The house has a separate dining room, a kitchen with a distinct breakfast area, four bedrooms in addition to a den or family room. If you have been looking for a home in this price range, this property is well worth the time to inspect and check the value at a price of $69,500.

SUPREME ELEGANCE — PEACOCK GAP
First time offered — architect designed home of many unusual points of elegance. One side of every lovely room in the house captivates one of the most beautiful views in the area, the other side looks on to a tropical garden surrounding a pool. This 3 bedroom, 2½ bath home with a separate dining area is patterned not only with the thought of family living in mind, but truly offers all the prominent features of gracious style in entertaining. This home complete with air purifier and built-in vacuum cleaning cost more than $80,000 to build and is priced below cost at $74,500.

BEST SHOWS FOR TONIGHT

Best bets on television tonight:

KTVU (2), 7:30 p.m. — "Wonders of the World" presents "A Salute to Finland," including visits to a Finnish baseball game, the army at drill and the Laplanders.

KQED (9), 8:30 p.m. — "Performance" offers "The Music of Harry Partch," spotlighting the inventor of exotic musical instruments and composer of unusual music based on a system of 43 tones to the octave. Partch is seen and heard in concert at the University of California at San Diego.

KRON (4), KCRA (3), 9 p.m. — Dancer-actress Cyd Charisse and British music hall star Dave King appear in skits about America's "Old West" on the "Kraft Music Hall from London." The program is hosted by Tony Sandler and Ralph Young with Judy Carne.

KPIg (5), 9 p.m. — Dame Edith Evans heads a cast of British actors in a one-hour dramatization of Dostoyevsky's classic story "The Gambler." Cyril Ritchard is host.

KQED (9), 10:30 p.m. — "Dada and Surrealism" is a half-hour special tracing the history of the Dada movement and its relationship to surrealism and today's machine art.

Florida Resorts Coast Hard-Hit By A Blackout

MIAMI (AP) — A baby was ushered into the world by flashlight and exiles in Miami's "Little Havana" joked about a Cuban invasion last night as a power plant explosion left two million South Floridians in darkness.

It was hot and stormy at 6:08 p.m. when lights from Miami to north of Fort Lauderdale—with a solid strip of beach resorts in between—flickered and went out.

The blackout covered Dade and Broward counties for two hours and spotty failures hopscotched along a 200-mile strip from Marathon in the Keys to Fort Pierce until midnight.

At 6:17 p.m. Mrs. Geraldine Frusterie gave birth to a 9-pound, 11-ounce girl under an emergency room spotlight hooked up to an emergency generator at Holy Cross Hospital in Fort Lauderdale.

But the generator failed and at 7:03 p.m. Mrs. Linda Hayes delivered her 8-pound, 6-ounce daughter under a nurse's flashlight.

Cuban exiles crowded into streets of Miami's "Little Havana" as the lights went out. Bus driver Mario Lazaro walked out of a bar and said, "Maybe it's Fidel on his way over."

Herman Sabel of Charleston, S.C., was stuck for more than an hour in an elevator with its operator in the Fontainebleau Hotel on Miami Beach.

"She was scared to death," he said. "There was no emergency telephone, no emergency key and no ventilation."

The power shutoff came after a routine power loss at a generating plant 50 miles to the north, said Fred Brown, assistant manager at the Florida Power and Light Co. plant south of Miami where the blast occurred.

Usually the turbines at his plant automatically shut down, he said. But one didn't because of a malfunction and "took an overload of work and blew," he said.

FP&L officials said it would take a full probe to verify Brown's theory.

Four Children Hurt In Accident

Four San Pablo children were injured yesterday at 3:35 p.m. in an accident on Lakeville Highway, two miles south of Petaluma.

James Haupt, 5, was reported in fair condition at Hillcrest Hospital with a skull fracture and Annette, 3, was reported in good condition with head cuts. Treated for multiple scrapes were John, 4, and Dennis, 1.

The California Highway Patrol said the car driven by their mother, Marianne Haupt, 22, swerved to avoid an oncoming car in the wrong lane, went through a fence and overturned in a hayfield.

Series Form May Be On Its Way Out

By ROBERT MUSEL

NEW YORK (UPI)—The television series is safe for the time being as the backbone of network viewing but NBC-TV is injecting more than 100 specials into its programming for the new season in a development that may alter the pattern in future years.

Don Durgin, president of the network, told a press conference it was the most ambitious and diversified schedule of special programs in television history and by the time he was through dropping the names of stars it began to sound like an understatement.

Starting Sept. 2 and continuing through to next summer there will be one-special nights, multi-special nights and even rare all-special nights. For an example of the latter make note of the night of Nov. 12—a Bill Cosby Special, followed by Johnny Carson's only special of the season, followed by a Diana Ross and The Supremes special and winding up with a musical, "Norman Rockwell's America", featuring Jonathan Winters.

This is a venture not without fiscal peril but if there is any insurance in talent NBC has certainly taken it out. Durgin divided the specials into three classes—"star," "drama" and "informational-cultural."

In the "star" special category he recited a list that included Julie Andrews, Jack Benny, Perry Como, Bing Crosby, Tony Curtis, Goldie Hawn, Lena Horne, Rowan and Martin (without the Laugh-in team), Jack Paar, Debbie Reynolds and Bob Hope whose nine contributions will begin Sept. 22.

Durgin promised 14 dramas, more, he said, than any other network and an impressive list of informational-cultural programs including Lowell Thomas's expedition in search of "Stone Age Man."

Another complication that the NBC sales department will have to cope with is that specials are expensive and advertising time on them runs at about $100,000 a minute—double the rate of commercials on a series. It isn't always easy to find that kind of money around even in these inflationary days.

$500 Book Drop For Old Library Approved

San Anselmo library board members agreed Monday night to install a $500 book drop in the side of the 56-year-old library building, board member Col. Reuben Smith Jr. reported yesterday.

Added also will be an office copying machine for public use. A planned expansion of reference books will include new industrial and business indexes, Reuben said.

Six Marin Students Make Dean's List

Six Marin County students have made the dean's list for having at least a 3.5 grade point average for the spring semester at the University of the Pacific at Stockton.

Driving Course

A driver training course for the older motorist will be held four Mondays from 10 a.m. to noon, beginning Aug. 11. Those interested in attending the course, at the First Methodist Church of San Rafael, should call J. C. Uhte at the Marin Senior Coordinating Council.

Rewarding European Golf Experience For Marinite

By GARY TISCHLER

Who says athletics can't be rewarding?

Just check out Ray Leach, world traveler.

Leach, the former Novato junior whiz kid on the golf courses when he was a prep, recently returned from a 17-day mini-European tour as member of the Brigham Young University golf team.

The tour took a goodwill competition route across Scotland, England and a one-tourney shot at St. Germain in Paris.

Also along as another member of the BYU team was former San Rafaelite Don Hawken, who roomed with Leach in his first year at the golf-oriented Mormon School in Salt Lake City.

It was a most impressive tour for Leach, who has been to a few places in his young golfing life, but never to Europe.

He found some things that have dismayed some people, but had no averse affect on him.

For one thing, there's the condition of the courses in Scotland and England.

"If you shoot in the rough there, you might as well forget it," he said. "They don't cut the grass and the courses themselves are rough and sandy."

All of it made for some tough rounds of golf, a situation that Leach rather liked.

"It's a challenge," he said. "You really have to work. Their average course over there compares to maybe one exceptionally tough course in the United States."

He found the British and the Scotsmen genial, friendly, fun-loving and disorganized.

"In the British United School Championships, most of the teams didn't even have a coach," he said. "Their team captain would usually take care of everything."

Leach, incidentally, took medalist honors at the tournament in Southport over some 300 other golfers.

"The British and the Scottish golfers we met have a nice attitude about golf," he said. "They play it for fun. They enjoy it. If they make a bad shot, they shake it off instead of brooding about it. They don't play it for blood, like a lot of us do."

The itinerary shows that the BYU team started off at Prestick, Scotland, then to Old Troon for a match against the University of Glasgow, then to Turnberry, and on to England and Manchester, then to Southport, followed by a stopover in Blackpool and a sneak look at the British Open in action, then London for a quick tour, then to Paris and St. Germain Golf Course, back to Glasgow, then to Edinburgh, from there back to St. Andrews Golf Course and finally back home to the United States.

The team got some time for bus tours, but not too much out of the way of excursions.

Some things seem to have changed for Leach. He is still not satisfied with his game and a little troubled about the way he plays it.

"I'm never satisfied with my game," he said. "I haven't played as well as I'd like to have. My putting is better but not my whole game. And I'm not nervous anymore. Sometimes I think I'm too calm."

Leached walked into a whole new atmosphere when he migrated from Novato High to BYU.

"It's a whole dfferent world," he said. "There isn't a single long hair around. I'm not a Mormon, and that takes some getting used to. I had a little trouble adjusting in the first semester, but I'm fine now."

There also was a matter of adjusting to being a member of a team that had quite a few outstanding golfers on it. Team play counts.

"Before, in a junior tournament, you could play pretty much for yourself," he said. "But on this team, even if you shoot an 80 and you're out of it, your score still counts."

In addition to Hawken, another local on the BYU team is Dan Springer of Rohnert Park, who did not make the big trip.

John Miller of Sa Francisco, a Mormon, started the great Northern California migration of young golfers to BYU. That's a situation that helped Leach.

"Right away, when you get

Moondust And Astros On Baseball Junket

They're not going to the moon — yet — but they will get as close to it as possible.

I refer to the San Francisco Giants Boosters Club of Northern California whose next junket next month promises to be a doozy.

Would you believe Boosters Prexy Allan B. (for Brainstorm) Murray of Kentfield and tour director Paul Hartman of San Rafael at last count had 230 baseball aficionados signed up for the Boosters' trip to Houston Sept. 4-7?

"This," said Murray, "will be the largest organized tour in the history of sports. It's never been done before on such a large scale."

ANNE KELLY

"I thought we hit a peak when we had about 125 on our New York-Montreal tour earlier this season," said Hartman, whose GTS travel bureau in San Rafael handles all accommodations for the Boosters, "but, shucks, we did that with just one plane. This time we've got two jet-loads for Houston. It'll look like a full-scale invasion."

This is the club's second trip to Houston. The main purpose, of course, is to follow the Giants in action, but last year the tour of the famed Astrodome and a special bonus tour of the NASA Manned Spacecraft Center in Houston dwarfed the athletics.

"I just talked to NASA," said Murray, "and we're all set for another VIP tour. Astronaut Frank Borman has promised to greet us if his schedule permits. He's been a Giants fan since he was 10 years old."

Murray and Hartman, who founded the Boosters Club last year and have snowballed it to more than 1,000 members, will be taking their fourth junket of the year, following earlier trips to spring training in Phoenix, the season opener in Atlanta and the New York-Montreal swing.

40 Marinites On The Roster

They report the upcoming trip to the land of imported moon dust and rocks will include at lease 40 Marinites.

They are Messers and Mesdames Charles Bell, F. J. Cranney, Russell Fisher, Lester Lahmann, Harry Lalor, N. J. Taylor and Paul Hartman, Mrs. James McCone, Mrs. Frances Zander, and Misses Anita Thomas and Jerry Buckelew, all of San Rafael; Edgar Donlon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campagna and sons Glen and Mark, of Mill Valley; Christine Cannon, Miss Irma Cunha, Mrs. Alberta Cunha and Mr. and Mrs. William Keplinger, all of Tiburon; Mrs. Letha Jenkins of Fairfax; Harold Kelly of Larkspur; Mrs. Lewis Kerlin and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gillis of Kentfield; Mrs. Florence Stormes and Ashfield Stow of Corte Madera; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Craig of Ignacio; and Mr. and Mrs. Art Sharman of Greenbrae.

Thus far, the trip has developed only one small hitch. Anne Kelly, an American Airlines stewardess who is Miss Booster, always accompanies the Boosters on their flights. "But now, with TWO planes," said Murray, "we're facing a physical dilemma. I guess we'll put her on one plane going to Houston and the other plane coming home to keep everyone happy."

And that, my friends, is the only way to fly.

Redwood Aces Spark Cagers

Redwood High School gunners Jerry Piro and Roger Smith whipped in 24 points each to lead Schafer's Ice Cream to an 81-75 win over the Cardinals in the semifnal playoffs of the high school division of the Drake Summer Basketball League at Drake High School yesterday.

In the other semifinal game, the Crusaders, behind Ron Nicoletti's 23 points, whipped Pier 15, 72-51.

Schafer's Ice Cream and the Crusaders will meet in the finals at Drake High School at 8:30 p.m. Friday.

Sudden Sam Impresses A's Jackson

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Sam McDowell convinced Reggie Jackson as he beat the Oakland Athletics 10-4 Tuesday night att he Cleveland Indians lost the opener of a twi-night doubleheader, 8-3. But McDowell's opponent, John "Blue Moon" Odom wasn't impressed.

"I do not believe he can really beat me," Odom (14-5) said after being rocked for seven hits and seven runs in 3 1-3 innings of work. "I cannot believe tonight. He was just lucky.

"Last year, if I had the stuff he has now, I would have won 20 or 25 games," Odom continued. "He doesn't have any kind of brains. He just doesn't know how to pitch. He's got good stuff when he gets on the mound and when he starts fooling around, he doesn't have anything."

In a parting shot at McDowell who has won only 12 of 22 decisions this year, Odom said, "If I had his stuff ,why, I'd make $125,000 a year.

REGGIE IMPRESSED

The Athletics' home run slugger, Reggie Jackson, who struck out twice and hit into a fielder's choice before walking in the eighth and scoring one of two runs in the inning on Sal Bando's double, said:

"He's (McDowell) got good stuff and you have to give credit where credit is due. He's a real good pitcher. I kept looking for the ball to come in on me and Sam kept it away. He made some good pitches on me and it is nothing new to be struck out by McDowell."

McDowell struck out nine, walked three, and gave up six hits in the game.

Rookie Frank Baker continued his impressive hitting for the Indians. He hit a two-run homer in the third inning and Jackson said, "Looks like he's going to be a good ball player. He's not hitting any cheapies and when he makes an out he hits the ball hard. I hope he can weather bad times when they come because it will make him an even better player."

SEVEN TIMES

The Indians got a third run in the third of the nightcap on Lou Klimchock's single, then scored seven more times in the fourth.

In the opener, Chuck Dobson (13-7) worked 8⅔ innings and took the win despite surrendering 12 hits and all three runs. Dick Ellsworth (6-6) took the loss, working 1 2-3 innings and yielding four hits and five runs in the second inning.

McCormick, Bolin Hurl Twin Killing

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — This city showed its brotherly love to the San Francisco Giants last night.

As a result, it was the Giants turn to take over first place by a half a game over Cincinnati and Atlanta in the tightly bunched Western Division of the National League where only four games separate the top five clubs.

Consecutive homers by Dave Marshall, Ron Hunt and Bobby Bonds propelled the Giants to a 6-2 win in the opener and Bob Bolin singled home one run and scored the go-ahead tally while pitching a 5-3 victory over the Phillies in the nightcap of yesterday's twi-night doubleheader.

TWO BAD ONES

Lefty Mike McCormick of the Giants made only two bad pitches—home run balls to Cookie Rojas and Richie Allen —in going the route on a six-hitter to win the opener. He improved his record to 8-5 by fanning six and walking four.

Juan Marichal, who has lost his last three starts , tries to give the Giants a little breathing room tonight when he chases his 14th win against Grant Jackson.

Bolin needed relief help from Frank Linzy before picking up his sixth victory against seven losses. Bolin singled home Ken Henderson in the fourth inning and then singled to start San Francisco's three-run rally in the seventh.

TIE SNAPPED

After advancing on a wild pitch and a passed ball, Bolin scored his team's third run on a single by Ron Hunt to snap a 2-2 tie. Bobby Bonds doubled in Hunt and scored the fifth run on a single by Willie McCovey.

Homers by Larry Hisle and Johnny Callison had tied the game at 2-2 in the fourth.

Marshall drove in four runs with a single and three-run homer in the opener to launch a five-run fifth inning.

The Key Family Of Novato Has Racing Past...Future

This time, it's 10-year-old Billy Ray who holds down the spotlight, as he prepares for a trip to Portland, Ore., and a shot at the Grand National Quarter-Midget Auto Championships Aug. 22-24.

All this is no accident. Mr. Key planned it that way.

Key, who was a professional driver for over seven years racing the Oklahoma and Texas circuits, saw organized quarter-midgets in action in Los Angeles and figured "it was right up my alley."

"The oldest boy wasn't old enough to race then," he said. "But when he turned five we got him started. Same with the other boys."

If all this sounds like a racing show biz saga, it's not. Mr. Key, formerly of Wichita Falls and Lubbock, Tex., as well as Los Angeles, has no interest in steering an Indianapolis-type career for his boys.

"The main purpose of it all is that when the boys get old enough and drive their own cars, they won't have a thing to prove to anybody," he said, referring to highway speed tests which teens sometimes indulge in. "All they have to do is show them the trophies and pictures."

Key isn't too keen on his boys going on to bigger and better things as they mature.

"There's a simple reason for that," he said. "The boys know I don't want them to make a career out of it. You can get killed that way. But when they grow up, that's their decision."

FAVORS BASEBALL

Randy, now 14, has followed that dictum. He shows absolutely no interest in racing, preferring baseball.

Billy Ray earned his ticket to Portland by finishing fifth in a field of 60 at the Western State Championships last month. He'll be going under the sponsorship of Marin Bay Lincoln Mercury in San Rafael.

McCovey Getting Walks Instead Of Strikeouts

PHILADELPHIA—There was a time when pitchers could tease Willie McCovey into swinging at pitches outside the strike zone. In 1963 McCovey struck out 119 times, a team record for the San Francisco Giants until Bobby Bonds came along.

This year McCovey may wind up with 119 walks at the rate pitchers are issuing him intentional and semi-intentional passes. Scorekeepers log intentional walks in the official records only when such a walk is ordered by a manager and the catcher steps out of the box for four wide pitches.

ACTUALLY, McCOVEY was walked intentionally four times during one game in Chicago the other day by Dick Selma. The first pass was ordered by Leo Durocher. The next three were on consecutive wide throws of the plate by Selma. McCovey was walked four times on 16 pitches.

"He never is going to get anything in the strike zone from me again," says Selma. "I can't get him out. I've faced him nine times now and he has three homers and six walks.

ON APRIL 13 in San Diego when Selma still was with the Padres, McCovey was first man up in the second inning. He hit a homes. In the fourth inning, McCovey again was first man up. Selma walked him. The walk, incidentally led to a run, just as two of the walks by Selma in Chicago led to runs.

On April 19 in Candlestick Park Selma faced McCovey again. McCovey hit a two-run homer in the first inning. In the third inning, Selma walked McCovey on four pitches. In the sixth, Selma decided to give it another try. He put one in the strike zone. Socko. A two-run homer.

SO IT WAS understandable when Selma faced McCovey again, this time as a Cub, and walked him four times, each time on four pitches.

It may have been understandable insofar as Selma was concerned but it was the first time Clyde King ever saw a batter walked four times on consecutive pitches.

"THAT'S GOT to be a record," said the manager of the Giants. "I never heard of (Ted) Williams getting that treatment. They wouldn't give McCovey a ptich he could hit. He was helpless."

"Nothing I can do about it," said McCovey. "If they want to walk me, okay. I'm not going to swing at bad pitches. Other people here get paid to hit. I'm not the only hitter on the club."

Gaylord Perry overheard McCovey's comment. Perry, winner over Selma in the two early season games when Selma was in a Padre uniform, again was the winner for a third time over Selma in the Cub game.

"WE'VE GOT people who can come off the bench," said Perry, "like Bob Burda who came in for McCovey, following the fourth walk to Stretch because his ailing knee was acting up a bit. And what did Bruda do in the ninth? He crashed a two-run double, that's what he did."

From Chicago the Giants moved on to Pittsburgh. In the opener with the Pirates the veteran Jim Bunning had a 1-0 lead when McCovey tagged him for a homer, No. 301 and No. 33 for McCovey. So it was 1-1 when McCovey came to bat as leadoff man in the seventh. Bunning walked him on four semi-official wide ones, McCovey's 72nd walk of the season, 28 of which are officially logged as intentional.

It was a walk that represented the winning run — and it became the winning run when Dick Dietz hit a homer.

END OF A BOYCOTT — Several members of the U. S. men's track and field team in Augsburg, Germany, point to their insignias which they altered by taping over the letters AAU in protest over travel fares. The boycott has been dropped. (AP Wirephoto)

All Quiet As Athletes Drop Boycott

AUGSBURG, Germany (AP) — Hotels housing American track and field athletes were strangely quiet following first night competition against West German men and women teams.

The few athletes remaining in the lobbies were still discussing the unprecedented action by the American men that threatened a boycott of next week's meet in London.

Gary Power, one of the keymen in yesterday's controversy, described his 14 flat timing in the 110 meter hurdles as 'something short of remarkable." He was runner-up to Leon Coleman, who clocked 13.7.

"I lost so much adrenalin because of the controversy that I couldn't get up for the race," he said.

Power confirmed that the AAU has agreed to reimburse his travel expenses. American male athletes threatened a "100 per cent no-show" at the London meet if the AAU refused to repay Power's round trip travel costs from the United States to Europe.

"They will pay my expenses from Miami to Stuttgart and my return flight to Los Angeles," he said. "They have also agreed to reimburse my track club for the plane fare from Los Angeles to Miami."

Power, a member of the Los Angeles Striders, ran in a meet in Miami before flying to Europe. He was added to the American athletes when gold medal winner Willie Davenport did not accept an invitation to join the team.

John Carlos, San Jose, Calif. won the 100-meter in 10.1; Lee Evans, also of San Jose, the 400 meters in 45.6; John Cole, Tempe, Ariz., the discus with a toss of 198 feet, 1.22 inches, and Ron Laird, Pomona, Calif. the 10,000 meter walk.

Bill Toomey, Laguna Beach, Calif. held the lead at the halfway mark of the decathlon with 4,290 points for five events. He won the 100 meters, the long jump and the 400 meters.

SPORTS SHORTS

Maccabiah Gold To U.S. Athletes

TEL AVIV (AP) — American athletes dominated the gold medal column in the Eighth Maccabiah Games that ended last night, but for the first time they were beaten in the sport they invented, basketball.

Israel beat the American hoopsters 74-70 in the final, surviving an American rally that nearly wiped out a 13-point half time deficit at 39-26.

The Americans won a total of 63½ golds, but finished second over-all to Israel in total medals, 151½ to 138½. Israel took 48 golds, 52½ silver and 51 bronze medals. America had 40½ silver and 34½ bronze.

The United States won three golds in the track and field competition that featured the final day of the so-called Jewish Olympics.

Marin Junior Grid Teams Set Tryouts

Marin County Pop Warner Football Conference starts the 1969 ball rolling Saturday with the official opening of practices for all six teams in the league — Drake of San Anselmo, Redwood of Larkspur, Tamalpais of Mill Valley, San Rafael, Terra Linda and Novato.

More than 600 boys have signed up for the program and a final signup for the Novato Junior Hornets has been scheduled tomorrow, 7-9 p.m., at Western Title Guaranty Co., 945 Front Street, Novato.

Eligible are boys born between June 1, 1955 and Sept. 15, 1959 who will not be past eighth grade at the start of the season. Each boy must present proof of birthdate and be accompanied by a parent to tomorrow night's signup. Registration fee is $20 per family.

Terra Linda boys were reminded that their first practice is set for 10 a.m. Saturady. For information on pre-tryout requirements, Terra Linda boys are invited to contact coach George Carli at 20 Esmeyer Drive, San Rafael.

Drake Junior Pirates coach Tony Barbera has reported a record signup of 115 youngsters from the San Anselmo-Fairfax-San Geronimo areas. Drake won the Marin County championship last season.

This year a junior varsity program for younger boys up to 105 pounds will be presented with teams playing full, four-quarter games. In the past the smaller lads on each team played a "fifth quarter" to the varsity games.

in Los Angeles. Right now, Mr. Keys, who runs his own body and fender repair shop in San Rafael, is working on the engine and getting the car ready for the big race.

The quarter-midgets will go up to 40 miles per hour. To Mr. Key, it's the safest place in the world for a kid to be.

"Midget racing is safer than any sport a boy could take up," he said. "I used to manage a Little League team, and I've seen more boys get hurt that way than in midget racing."

"It's a great education," Key says of the racing circuit which has taken his family to Hayward, Santa Rosa, Fresno, Stockton, Sacramento, Phoenix and Las Vegas. "It costs me maybe around $700 a year, but we make a vacation out of it," he said.

Mota A Father

LOS ANGELES — Outfielder Manny Mota of the Los Angeles Dodgers became a father for the fourth time Tuesday, the Dodgers announced.

Mota's wife, Margarita, gave birth yesterday to a 7 pound, 4 ounce son—Rafael—in the Dominican Republic. It is the third son for the Motas.

Lazzarini Trails In Bid For Fourth Title In Row

Don Lazzarini, club champion at the Meadow Club in Fairfax for the last three years, seems to be in danger of having his championship streak snapped.

Lazzarini is trailing by three strokes going into next Sunday's 18-hole final round of the 54-hole championship. Al Garcia of San Francisco leads the tournament after 36 holes with a 147 total, five over par, followed by Lazzarini and Dr. Doug Ramsey at 150.

Also in the running are a pair of former Meadow Club champions — George Kerrigan (151) and Cy Donaldson (154). Also grouped in the championship flight are Ken Gelatti, 151, Joe Campbell, 152, Dr. Marv Gilberg, 154, and Bob Parish, 154.

DON LAZZARINI
Three pops back

A HOME TOWN fella took the Sonoma County Men's Amateur Championships at Rohnert Park Sunday.

He is Ron Janney of Rohnert Park, ex-member of the Brigham Young University golf team and Rohnert Park High School grad who shot a 72-70-142, two strokes ahead of Montgomery High School (Santa Rosa) grad Don Hunter, who had a 72-72-144 for the 36-hole medal play over two weekends.

Janney is a business management major at BUY who played on the school's golf team that included Ray Leach of Novato and former San Rafaelite Don Hawken.

TALK ABOUT a severe case of conflicting interest.

Mrs. Blanche Altermatt, a veteran lady golfer in Marin County, bounced in a hole-in-one at Meadow Club last Friday, sinking it on the 133-yard 11th hole.

But she could at least have made the ace on home territory.

Her husband, Darrell Altermatt, is president of Indian Valley Club and both Mr. and Mrs. Altermatt belong to Marin Country Club, Novato.

MR. AND MRS. MORT WEISS and Mr. and Mrs. Mel Bleadon topped the Marin Country Club Mixed Invitational Tournament Sunday with a 123 total.

They were followed by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Majors and Mr. and Mrs. William Cardinal, and Mr. and Mrs. Foster Manning and Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Flower, all at 124.

GEORGE GREENWOOD of Indian Valley, Grant Rogers of Mill Valley and Doug Quinlan of Mill Valley failed to make a dent in the final results of the Northern California Golf Association Publinx Tournamentat Pebble Beach last weekend.

The tournament was won by 20-year-old Forrest Fezler, the California Amateur champ.

FOURTEEN YOUNG Marin Countians will be among some 128 golfers who will tee off Monday at Lake Merced Golf and Country Club in Daly City in the Northern California Golf Association's Junior Amateur Championships.

Marin entries in the tournament are Richard and Steve Goldfien, Dean Rider, Jeff DeVoto, Kevin Hogan and Wayne Smith, all of Mill Valley, Kelly Wolfe, Elliot Powers and Chris Cardinal of San Rafael, Jim Wilhelm and Jeb Harrison of Kentfield, Tom Schaal of San Anselmo, George Carewe of Ross and Russ Gardner of Novato.

VOSS BORETA of Fairfax will be among 19 amateurs set to play in Oaklands Celebrity Golf Classic Sunday at the Willow Park Public Golf Course in Castro Valley.

Leach will be out to qualify for the U.S. Amateur at Palo Alto this month. He'll also defend his Northern California junior title at Spyglass Golf Course in Pebble Beach before returning for his second year of college.

But there'll be no Europe next year. The school sponsors the trip only every five years.

Mrs. Shapiro, Mrs. May Tie

Mrs. Harry Shapiro and Mrs. William May tied for top honors in the Peacock Gap Women's Golf Club's Guest Day field of 103 golfers yesterday.

Mrs. May and Mrs. Shapiro both shot an 81-12—69.

The results:

PEACOCK GAP

Key Battle Tonight In DiMaggio League

To be more exact, 6 o'clock tonight when the Italian Club gets one last chance to get a crack at the Southern Marin Division title in the Marin County Joe DiMaggio League when it meets front-running Toby's Truckers at Marin Catholic High School.

Toby's, composed of Marin Catholic players, has an 11-3 record to the Italian Coub's 10-4-1 mark. A win by the Italian Club would result in a tie and necessitate a playoff, probably on Sunday. The Italian Club is made up of Redwood High School players.

If Toby's Truckers win tonight, they'll join Annex Motors of Novato and four other teams in the Joe DiMaggio District Tournament which will run at San Rafael's Albert Field Aug. 14-17. Winner there will go on to the state tourney in Stockton.

Toby's Truckers will go with Bill Kelly on the mound and the Italian Club will counter with Roger Smith, in a rematch of the teams' first meeting.

The Italian Club won that one, 2-0, when Smith spun a three-hitter. Toby's hasn't lost since then, although the Truckers have been tied. Smith has been nothing short of great, racking up a no-hitter since then.

In other games which will wind up the regular Joe DiMaggio season tonight, Holiday Magic visits the Mill Valley Chiefs at Tamalpais High School, San Anselmo hosts Herb's Pool Service at Drake High School, and Annex Motors, the Northern Division champ, is at Healdsburg.

The Great Race.. Giants In Lead

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The San Francisco Giants couldn't score nearly as high in two passes against Philadelphia as the Cincinnati Reds did in one, but they still made their point.

After the Reds tossed the Phillies 19-17 Sunday to move into first place in the National League's West Division, the Giants passed them by rolling only 11 for a twi-night doubleheader sweep over the Phillies, 6-2, and 5-3, yesterday.

The victories sent the Giants into the lead by one percentage point over the Reds, who beat the New York Mets 8-5 and then lost 10-1.

And right behind are the Atlanta Braves, who made their points the hard way, rolling by the Montreal Expos 1-0 and 4-3 to pull within six points of the top.

The Los Angeles Dodgers and Houston Astros, the other two clubs in the cluttered division race, were thrown for a loss as Pittsburgh bombed the Dodgers 11-3 and the Chicago Cubs topped the Astros 5-2. That dropped the Dodgers three games behind and the Astros four back.

In the only other game Bob Gibson and the St. Louis Cardinals eased by the San Diego Padres 2-1.

The Reds unloaded homers by Pete Rose, Bobby Tolan and Tony Perez in their victory as Gary Nolan pitched into the eighth inning in his first appearance since May 6 for his first victory since April 12.

But then the Mets rolled, piling up eight runs in the third inning of the second game with Donn Clendenon hitting a three-run homer. Tommie Agee added a two-run shot later as Nolan Ryan, 4-1, breezed with a seven-hitter.

STREAK ENDS

Atlanta ended a five-game losing streak by scoring a run in the ninth inning of its opener on Gary Sutherland's throwing error which decided a duel between winner Jim Britton, 6-2, who allowed six hits, and Gary Waslewski, 2-5, who gave four safeties.

Orlando Cepeda decided the nightcap with one swing, a three-run homer in the seventh inning that wiped out a 3-1 deficit.

Willie Stargell pasted a 480-foot homer onto the right field pavilion roof—believed to be the first ball hit out of Dodger Stadium since it was opened in 1962—breaking a 3-3 tie and sending the Pirates to their victory. Pittsburgh added seven runs in the ninth, three on errors and two on Bill Mazeroski's homer.

LEAD PADDED

Steve Blass, 11-7, who gave seven hits, got the victory despite a three-run homer by Andy Kosco.

The Cubs increased their East Division lead over the Mets to 7½ games as Bill Hands, 13-8, allowed six hits in 6 2-3 innings before Phil Regan saved Hands' fourth straight victory and eighth in nine outings. It was the sixth victory in a row for the Cubs.

Adult Softball C-II Winners

Marin Supply, the Refectory and Savganis Shell were winners in C-II division games of the San Rafael Recreation Department's Adult Softball League at Albert Field yesterday.

The Refectory downed the Bippies, 11-5 behind Don MacArthur's three hits. Marin Supply thumped Hub City, 17-12 as Gary Hines hit a pair of home runs. Sarganis Shell bombed the Patio Club, 26-1 as Barry Weiss collected five hits.

In a slow-pitch game, Cal's Steakhouse nicked the Harding Gophers, 7-6.

'Orange Crate' Derby Scheduled In San Rafael

Boys and girls aged 10-15 are invited to participate in the San Rafael Junior Chamber of Commerce's "Orange Crate Derby Race" to be held Sept. 13 on San Marino Drive at Peacock Gap.

Applications can be obtained from James Baker, 2417 First Street, Apt. 4, San Rafael, and must be returned by Aug. 15.

Each contestant is to build his own car. The cars must have four wheels, dependable brakes, an adequate steering system. It cannot be more than seven feet long and four feet wide. All wheels must be on the outside of the body, with at least six inches clearance. Cars may not be pushed or powered.

Competition will be in the junior and senior division, with winners awarded a $25 U. S. Savings Bond and an opportunity to go on to the State Orange Crate Derby Race.

Kwalick Set To End Holdout

SANTA BARBARA (UPI)—Spurred by his outspoken father, it looks like top draft pick Ted Kwalick is about to end his long holdout with the San Francisco Forty Niners.

Thaddeus Kwalick Sr. of Pittsburgh and his All America son, along with agent Bucky Woy, were due into the club's summer training camp today to discuss Kwalick's 1969 contract with general manager Jack White.

From his Pennsylvania home, the elder Kwalick gave notice he was tired of "pussy footing around." And his big, strong son is just itching to play pro football.

At present, Kwalick, who starred at Penn State as a tight end, and flanker Clifton McNeil, the top receiver in the NFL last season, are the lone holdouts of the Forty Niners. McNeil is being fined $200 a day while sitting in his Cupertino home.

"I'm not a part of the team and I want to be," said the younger Kwalick. "I'm ready to go. I've been playing golf in the morning and working out in the afternoon.

"My father is a stern man. He doesn't like this pussy footing around. He wants to get down to brass tacks, especially where his children are concerned."

When Kwalick's father became convinced that contract talks involving his son were stalemated, he telephoned White and the general manager invited the Kwalicks to fly to California at the club's expense. The elder Kwalick accepted.

"My son is not asking for the toll gate on the Golden Gate Bridge," said the father. "My son is a great football player, fast as a deer, and I think he's entitled to a decent wage."

Contract discussions between the club and its top draft choice had been hanging in the air because the Forty Niners refused to talk to Kwalick's agent unless the player also was present.

Forty Niner coach Dick Nolan said he would take his entire squad of 58 players, with the exception of defensive lineman Kevin Hardy who is nursing an injured knee, to Seattle for Sunday's exhibition opener with Cleveland "so I can look at as many people as possible."

Indians Land On A Blue Moon

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now the Indians—Cleveland, that is—have landed on the Moon—"Blue Moon" Odom, that is—and the Moon still can't believe it.

"I feel like I can shut out the Indians anytime I take the mound," Odom, ace right-hander of the Oakland Athletics, announced after blanking Cleveland back on May 16.

"Tell him," shot back Ken Harrelson of the Indians, "that the next time he pitches against us he'd better have all his friends come to the park early because he's gonna be gone after three innings."

Professor Harrelson's prediction was almost as accurate as the recent Apollo 11 moon shot. Odom was gone after 3 1-3 innings in the second game of yesterday's twi-night doubleheader and the Indians rolled to a 10-4 victory behind Sam McDowell after Oakland took the opener 8-3.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit nipped Minnesota 4-3 in 13 innings, Baltimore tripped Kansas City 7-5 in 10, the New York Yankees shaded California 3-2 on Bobby Murcer's three-run homer with two out in the ninth, Seattle walloped Boston 9-2 and the Chicago White Sox belted Washington 11-4.

Despite the split, Oakland gained one-half game on Minnesota and trails the Twins by three games in the AL West.

Frank "Home Run" Baker was the first Indian to land on the Moon with a two-run homer in the third

Don Wert smashed a single off second baseman Rod Crew's glove with the bases loaded and two out in the 13th, giving the Tigers their triumph over the Twins. The winning hit came after reliever Dick Woodson had struck out Bill Freehan and Dick Tracewski with the bases loaded and none out.

Ted Uhalender's homer helped the Twins to a 3-1 lead against Denny McLain but the Tigers tied it in the sixth on Gates Brown's first home run of the season, a walk to Willie Horton, Tom Matchick's single, an error and a wild pitch.

Baltimore's Swish Family Robinson did in Kansas City. Brooks Robinson walloped his 17th homer in the 10th inning with Frank Robinson aboard on a single. Frank also had his 27th homer, a triple and another single among his four hits. Jackie Hernandez and Buck Martinez homered for the Royals.

The Yankees turned an apparent 2-0 setback into a sudden 3-2 victory when Murcer hammered reliever Clyde Wright's first pitch into the lower right field stands for his 14th homer. Wright had been brought in to replace Ken Tatum, who walked Ron Woods to start the inning and Frank Fernandez with two out. Tatum had relieved starter Rudy May in the seventh.

Desperate Arnie Tries For A Win

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, desperately seeking some Ryder Cup points and needing a victory in the worst way, is the top attraction in the $100,000 Greater Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament.

Palmer, a non-winner for more than a year and experiencing some major troubles with his game, is running out of time in his quest for a spot on the United States team that play Great Britain Sept. 18-20.

He has only this tournament and next week's PGA championship in which to play his way into the 12-man squad. Right now, he's 15th on the list.

"I'd like to make it, of course," the 39-year-old millionaire said. "There may still be time. But I'm sure going to have to improve a lot to do it."

The presence of Palmer, still the most dynamic player in the game and golf's greatest gallery attraction, virtually assured the sponsors of a successful event.

GRID ROUNDUP

A Family Affair In Jet Exhibition

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The New York Jets-St. Louis Cardinals exhibition football game Saturday night will be a family affair for the rival coaches.

Cardinals Coach Charlie Winner is Jets Coach Weeb Ewbank's son-in-law, as well as his protege.

It all started 20 years ago when Winner played halfback for Ewbank, then coach at Washington University in St. Louis, and dated and eventually married his daughter, Nancy.

Ewbank hired Winner as defensive backfield coach of the Colts when Ewbank was head coach at Baltimore, but Winner nailed down his job with the Cardinals in 1965 on his own.

He guided the Cardinals to a 9-4-1 record last season in finishing ½ game behind the Cleveland Browns in the National Football League's Century Division.

"My granddaughter, Lisa, says she wants the game to end in a tie." Ewbank said.

TACKLE CUT

The Jets cut offensive tackle Ezell Jones of Minnesota, their fourth round draft choice, yesterday and announced the signing of two more veterans. Ralph Baker, former Penn State linebacker, agreed to terms for his sixth season, and offensive tackle Winston Hill signed for a seventh year.

The Philadelphia Eagles made their third deal of the year with the Los Angeles Rams. The Eagles traded veteran defensive back Algin Raymond to the Rams for defensive back Billy Guy Anderson and a third round draft choice. Raymond led the NFL in punt returns in 1965 and 1966.

New York Giants Coach Allie Sherman indicated defensive end Fred Dryer, the club's top draft choice, will see considerable action in Green Bay against the Packers Saturday in the Giants' first exhibition game. Dryer broke through four times and dumped the quarterback in a scrimmage Tuesday.

FINGERS CROSSED

Tom Boutwell, free agent quarterback from Southern Mississippi, was acquired by the Miami Dolphins. Boutwell, acquired by the Cleveland Browns in the 13th draft round, was put on waivers last week.

The Kansas City Chiefs have their fingers crossed about the future this season of center Jack Rudnay, their No. 4 draft choice. Rudnay, who chipped three vertebrae in practice for the College All-Star game and didn't play, will undergo two days of physical tests at the Chiefs' training camp to determine if he can play.

Running back Tom Barrington of the New Orleans Saints, described by Coach Tom Fears as one of the "best fifth backs in pro football," has been shifted to the injured list. Barrington hurt his back last week.

Cleveland Coach Blanton Collier said defensive tackle Bill Sabatino, who walked out of training camp last Saturday, is coming back. Collier said the big tackle phoned him, and said he'd changed his mind about retiring.

Today is Wednesday, Aug. 6, the 218th day of 1969 with 147 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Venus and Saturn. The evening stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

On this day in history:

In 1890 convicted murderer William Kemmler became the first person in the United States to be electrocuted. He went to the electric chair at Auburn, N. Y.

In 1926 Gertrude Ederle of New York became the first American to swim the English Channel. Her time: 14 hours, 31 minutes.

In 1945 President Harry S. Truman announced that an atomic bomb had been dropped on Hiroshima, Japan.

In 1968 President Dwight D. Eisenhower suffered his sixth heart attack.

A thought for the day: Adlai Stevenson said, "A wise man does not try to hurry history."

Dog Population Explosion In N.Y.

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — There are more dogs in New York State than there are humans in some other states.

According to the State Department of Agriculture and Markets, the 1969 dog population is 982,429.

Based on the 1960 census, the dog population of New York outnumbers people in at least 16 states, including New Hampshire, Alaska, Delaware, Montana, North Dakota and Hawaii.

HOW TO PLAY

Value Of Experience Seen In This Three No-Trump Action

When an inexperienced bridge player does something we call it foolishness. When an experienced player does the same thing for the same reason we call it a bad break. What this means is that we all make mistakes, but experience enables us to make them on purpose.

SMALL SPADE

West led the seven of spades, East put up the king, and South had enough experience at the game to refuse the trick. He called this a hold-up play, but you may find another name for it before you're much older.

When East returned the jack of spades South played low again. West overtook with the queen and returned the eight of spades to declarer's unguarded ace.

Now South led a heart to try a finesse with dummy's queen. East took the king of hearts and returned a club. South wasted several minutes and much precious sweat, trying to guess whether the six missing hearts would break 3-3 or whether the club finesse would work. It didn't matter because either line of play would fail. Down one.

EARLY MISTAKE

South made his mistake when he refused the first trick. West clearly had a spade suit consisting of two honors, the eight and the seven because if West's spades were headed by any three honors he would lead one of them. This meant that East had two spade honors and that the suit could be blocked if South took the first trick.

South should take the first spade and lead the low club toward dummy's jack. If West takes the king of clubs, he can take only two spades at most.

IF WEST DUCKS

If West ducks the club, declarer gets to his hand with a diamond to try a heart finesse. The defenders can take two spades, one heart, and one eventual club. South makes game with one spade, two hearts, four diamonds and two clubs.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens the bidding with one club, and the next player passes.

You hold:

♠ Q 10 8 7
♦ 8 6 5 2
♣ K 9 4.

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass.

You have only five points in high cards, and your doubleton has doubtful value. If partner opened with one spade you would raise to two spades because then the doubleton in hearts would have sure value. Also, there would be sounder prospects since you would be sure of a fine fit in a major suit.

New Diesel Company Sets Up Headquarters In San Rafael

Lyon

Mathias

A new company specializing in the engineering, manufacture and service of diesel-driven, independent power generation sets delivering 500 to 3,000 kilowatts will open headquarters in San Rafael.

Diesel Systems, Inc., with initial capitalization of $500,000, is headed by Halsey H. Lyon of Sleepy Hollow. Lyon was formerly a vice president and director of Schoonmaker and Co., Sausalito. During his many years with this firm he established the West Coast office and plant and at various times headed sales, production and assisted in the development of the company's mobile gas generator concept.

Space for an office has been leased at 1330 Lincoln Avenue. Manufacturing facilities will probably be located in Stockton.

ERIC MATHIAS, known at the Corte Madera Shopping Center for 11 years as The Swiss Watchmaker, will soon be moving his hop from that area.

He has taken a larger space at Red Hill Shopping Center in San Anselmo and will be moving there about the first of next month. He will be between Longs Drug Store and the Safeway Store.

NOT SATISFIED with just remodeling and revitalizing the Brown's Home Furnishers store in Mill Valley, new owner Hal Fenton has opened another outlet in San Rafael.

This one occupies 5,000 square feet, plus another 7,000 square feet of parking space, at 811 Francisco Boulevard, where the S and H Green Stamp Redemption Center used to be. The store has a "sleep shop" and "gourmet shop" and carries the same stocks and brand names as the Mill Valley headquarters. No store manager has yet been appointed for San Rafael.

Grand opening ceremonies for both stores will be held early next month.

GROUND HAS BEEN CLEARED for construction to begin on the $275,000 19,000-square-foot Mayfair Market at Fourth and Ida streets, San Rafael, the property formerly occupied by Lucas Valley Dairy and the Rambler automobile agency. There will be parking for about 100 cars. General contractor is Ernest W. Hahn.

GRANT AVENUE MEATS in Novato has moved from 850 Grant Avenue to 1557-A South Novato Boulevard. Name will remain unchanged.

THE SAN RAFAEL legal firm, Rockwell, Fulkerson and Clarke, has opened a San Francisco office at 300 Montgomery Street, Suite 717.

NOVATO OFFICE of Wells Fargo Bank will introduce the "express line" principle to replace several slow lines to tellers' windows.

AN ART SHOW featuring the works of more than 100 leading western artists will be held at the Northgate Fashion Mall next Wednesday, Aug. 13, through Saturday, Aug. 16. The California Artists Roundup, will show landscapes, still life, seascapes, florals, character studies and California missions.

Qualified artists wishing to enter the competition should write to Don Palmer, 7021 Cerritos Avenue, Stanton, Calif. Local artists wishing to display are invited to bring their works and join the show, provided they bring stands or display racks and can stay with their exhibits. Pre-registration is not required. Artists arriving Aug. 13 will be assigned locations on the mall.

Stocks Slump May Mean More Buyers

There is still concern over inflation, commented one analyst, "but you can't overlook the recent protracted decline which has made issues attractive to bargain hunters."

Several electronics tacked on point-sized gains, but many were below their best levels.

McIntyre Porcupine was an impressive gold mining issue. This group had been under considerable pressure in the previous session.

Oils also showed marked strength, although fractional losses cropped up in spots.

Aluminum issues were mostly firm following some price hikes on aluminum products.

Steels traded in fractions. So did motors, rails and most airline issues.

Aircrafts moved in both directions.

Prices also advanced on the American Stock Exchange in moderate turnover.

Home Building Firm Acquired

COSTA MESA (BW) — Standard-Pacific Corp., a diversified Southern California home builder, has completed the acquisition of the business organization and certain assets of William C. Garcia & Co., a Northern California home building company, it has been announced by Arthur E. Svendsen, board chairman and chief executive officer.

Operations in the San Jose area will continue under the direction of William C. Garcia who will head the company's new Bay Area division and supervise all construction projects in the Northern California area. Garcia has been elected to the board of directors and appointed a vice president of Standard-Pacific.

Ford's Maverick Strides Past Mustang Record Pace

DEARBORN, Mich. (BW) — Ford Division's new Maverick set a record for sales during the first quarter following introduction, exceeding even the fast pace of the previous new car record holder — its stablemate, Mustang.

John B. Naughton, Ford Motor Co. vice president and division general manager, announced that Maverick sales since its April 17 introduction through July 31, total 101,210 units. In the last 11 days of July alone, 20,415 Mavericks were sold by Ford dealers.

Ford's Mustang, previously the most successful new car in history, had 97,606 sales in the comparable introductory period in 1964 while Falcon, runner-up to Mustang's title, racked up 92,815 sales in its introductory period in 1959.

Naughton noted that with the Maverick record, Ford Motor Co. can now claim five of the six most successful new car launchings in history. The Fairlane in 1961 and the Mercury Comet in 1960 are the others on the list.

Naughton said he is confident that Maverick sales will continue strong in the months to come but pointed out that August sales will probably fall off due to a two-week vacation shutdown at the St. Thomas, Ont., assembly plant, one of two Maverick supply sources.

"The public is reading the car precisely as we wanted it to — as a high value, economy automobile designed to meet America's driving requirements," Naughton reported.

Through July 30, 61 per cent of the retail orders involved no trade-ins. He said, "This tells us two things — that Maverick is an extremely strong draw to the first time new car buyer and that it's making a definite mark as a second and third car. As a matter of fact, 36 per cent of all Mavericks are being sold as first new cars vs. 28 per cent for Mustang."

Maverick is proving to be a strong conquest car, attracting competitive owners of both foreign and domestic cars. Of the 39 per cent of sales involving a trade-in, 22 per cent are imports and 41 per cent are competitive domestic makes. On 37 per cent of the trades are other Ford Motor Co. cars.

The average Maverick buyer, according to Ford surveys, is 34 years old and earns $10,500 annually. About 30 per cent have some college education and 41 per cent are professional, technical or management personnel. Sixty-eight per cent are male and the same percentage is married, with half of the married group having two or more children, the surveys show. About two-thirds of all Mavericks are being bought as second or third cars.

Naughton pointed out that Maverick buyers are, for the most part, keeping the car the simple machine it is intended to be. He cited "remarkably low option installation rates," such as 56 per cent automatic transmission and 200 CID engines (the larger of two engines available on Maverick), 55 per cent whitewall tire installation and 40 per cent optional trim rate. About 78 per cent of all Mavericks are going out with radios.

Naughton noted that Maverick economy and serviceability reports have been excellent and said that dealer enthusiasm for Maverick "is as strong as ever — as you might expect with results like these."

Airline Asks Fare Drop On Pacific Flights

SAN FRANCISCO (BW) — The Civil Aeronautics Board is considering proposals by Pan American World Airways to cut fares from San Francisco to Japan and the Orient by 5 to 40 per cent.

Pan Am's proposals, subject to approvals of governments concerned, has called for a drop of 5 per cent in basic economy class fares from San Francisco to Tokyo, effective Sept. 1, according to Axel Mikkelsen, district traffic and sales manager.

The round trip economy class fare to Tokyo via the Great Circle Route would be cut from $684 to $656. First class would be reduced from $1,216 to $1,155.

Marin Savings And Loan In Merger

Marin County Savings and Loan Association will be merged into San Mateo Mutual Savings and Loan Association.

The combined associations will form an institution with assets of nearly $100 million and will operated under a new name not yet determined.

The merger was announced jointly today by Clyde H. Charlton of San Francisco, president of Pacific Coast Holdings, parent company of San Mateo Mutual, and Jordan L. Martinelli, president of Marin County Financial Corp., of which Marin County Savings is a subsidiary.

The transaction involves an exchange of all the stock of Marin County Savings for Pacific Coast Holdings common stock, subject to the approval of Marin County Financial Corp. stockholders, the California Savings and Loan Commissioner and the Federal Home Loan Bank. Following completion of the merger, Marin County Financial Corp. will be dissolved.

Under the terms of the agreement, Charlton and James W. Derryberry of Tiburon will serve as chairman of the board and president of the combined associations respectively. Fred F. Enemark, executive vice president and managing officer of Marin County Savings, will become executive president and managing officer of the combined associations.

Enemark said he will continue to make his headquarters at 990 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. He said the San Rafael office and staff will continue the full spectrum of service heretofore provided.

Marin County Savings was formed in 1886. At the end of 1968 it showed assests of $49 million, savings of $38 million and loans of $42 million.

San Mateo Mutual was organized in 1896. On Dec. 31 it reported $45 million in assets, savings of $39 million and loans of $39 million. Its headquarters in San Mateo will also become the headquarters of the new corporation. A branch office is located in Burlingame.

Pacific Coast Holdings, which also owns Pacific Coast Holdings Insurance Corp., Pacific Coast Holdings Management Co. and Pacific Coast Holdings Mortgage Co., will have a total of approximately 1,200 stockholders upon completion of the merger. Its common stock is traded over the counter.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Continue To Hold Good Mutual Funds

By ROGER SPEAR

Q. We have $10,000 in Fundamental Investors and Chemical Fund, but they have disappointed us. My husband retires in five to seven years and further investments will stress income. We've been told about Madison Fund. Should we transfer our $10,000 to Madison or invest directly in income stocks? — L. P.

A. I'd hold your two funds to share in the market's recovery and further advance. Chemicals are believed to have strong trunaround potential. Both funds have been operating for over 30 years and have shown good progress under competent managers who have not been tempted to follow the new high-performance cult recently developed by some fund managers.

If your disappointment springs from your funds' rather conservative gains in net asset value during 1968, you can be cheered by their small percentage losses for the first half of 1969. Chemical Fund was down only 4 per cent from its 1968 net asset value and Fundamental Investors 8.6 per cent, compared with a range of 22.7 per cent to 48.7 per cent for the 20 largest losers. Each of your funds offers a withdrawal plan when its total value reaches $10,000.

Madison Fund on the Big Board has been a recognized leader among the closed-end investment companies. It shows a 12 per cent yield from the $3.41 a share (investment income and capital gains) distributed thus far in 1919. Madison's "dividends" may be automatically reinvested in new shares priced at net asset value. As of June 30 the latter figure had dropped sharply year to year to about $8 under the trading level of the shares. The president of Madison Fund recently expressed disappointment in having postponed some portfolio sales when the market was on high ground.

Though Madison's shares have commanded a market premium for several years, I'd wait for the premium to shrink before purchasing. For new buying I recommend the electric utilities for good income and the promise of longer-term capital gains. With five to seven years left to prepare for retirement, further growth of your capital should be your primary objective.

Stock Cancelled

SOUTH PASADENA (UPI) — Subscription Television, Inc., has cancelled the registration of a proposed offering of 800,000 shares of new common stock accompanied by warrants because of current conditions in the securities markets.

Marin Land Firm Joins Lear Siegler

Trousdale Construction Co., owner of the Marin Country Club and developer of other Novato properties, has been merged into Lear Siegler, Inc., headquartered in Santa Monica.

The merger, under which Trousdale becomes a division of Lear Siegler, was accomplished in an exchange of $10 million of Lear Siegler common stock, with the possibility of an additional $10 million in stock changing hands, depending upon Trousdale future earnings.

Ronald Waranch, executive vice president of Trousdale, which is headquartered in Los Angeles, said there will be no change in the management or operation of the company and membership in Marin Country Club will be unaffected.

He said Trousdale owns approximately 1,000 acres of undeveloped lands in Novato in addition to the club property. The company has holdings in several other areas, he said, the largest of which is a joint venture interest with Amfac, Inc. in 11,000 acres overlooking Pearl Harbor in Honolulu.

Besides its activities in the aircraft equipment industry, Lear Siegler is diversified in about 125 other fields. It has 28,000 employees and operates in 27 states and 16 foreign countries and is listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

TODAY'S EDITORIAL

Why Object To Probe By County Grand Jury?

An odd situation is developing regarding investigation by the Marin County Grand Jury of the Sausalito School District.

Several weeks ago, hearing that grand jurors were asking questions about the district, the Sausalito school board asked that the jury meet openly with it and ask questions in public.

Aside from the fact that the Sausalito school trustees have not been noted for their eagerness to discuss everything in public — preferring unannounced breakfast meetings, for instance—this proposal was rather amazing in its naivete. The grand jury is an investigative body. You don't investigate by holding a meeting and asking questions—though that may very properly come after an investigation.

NOW IT HAS BEEN reported that Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Superior Court and County Counsel Douglas J. Maloney have cautioned the grand jury that it may be outside its jurisdiction in inquiring into affairs in a school district.

Asked about this, Asst. County Counsel Richard V. Godino told an Independent-Journal reporter: "If you ask me, I don't think they would have a right to such an investigation unless a crime has been committed."

This is a rather strange statement, it seems to us, since a primary duty of the grand jury is to ferret out crime — to find out whether a crime has been committed. An additional duty is to inquire into the spending of public money, for which purpose the grand jury is empowered by law to examine books, records and accounts of all officers of the county and its districts.

THE LEGAL ADVISER to the grand jury, under the law, is the district attorney. The law provides: "The district attorney of the county may at all times appear before the grand jury for the purpose of giving information or advice relative to any matter cognizable by the grand jury."

As to the judge and county counsel, however, the law says: "The grand jury may, at all times, ask the advice of the court, or the judge thereof, or of the district attorney, or of the county counsel. Unless such advice is asked, the judge of the court, or county counsel as to civil matters, shall not be present during the sessions of the grand jury."

The county counsel is in a particularly sensitive position as regards grand jury inquiry into school districts. He is, by law, the legal adviser to the school districts. His attorney-client relationship, therefore, applies with them rather than with the grand jury.

Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales declines to say whether he has been asked for advice regarding the reported investigation of Sausalito School District. He commented, however: "Grand juries in other parts of the state are looking into school affairs."

WE DON'T KNOW what the grand jury expects to find in Sausalito School District. Maybe it is just on a fishing expedition. But if it needs to be called off, it has a legal adviser who can call it off — the district attorney, who may attend any or all of its meetings and therefore presumably knows much more about what it is doing than, say, the judge or the county counsel.

In the meantime, we really don't know why the Sausalito School District should mind being investigated. A clean bill of health from the grand jury never hurt anybody.

"Thus Camelot, the once-and-perhaps-future dream, settled into the mists of Chappaquiddick Island."

More About Skunks

Skunks are fascinating creatures, despite their malodorous artillery and a tendency to contract rabies. In harsher climates than ours, a skunk may survive for three months without a meal and lose half its weight. Many starve to death. Only about a third of all skunks survive until their first birthdays.

Being a skunk isn't easy because there are always cats, dogs and men that are anxious to attack it, if only to prove how tough they are. To be fair, however, a trigger-happy skunk can make a neighborhood very unpleasant, and they are also a minor nuisance, digging small holes in the lawn and flower beds, looking for grubs and worms.

When Lawmakers Legislate On Morals, There's A Catch

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — There's an old saying to the effect that you can't legislate morals, no matter how hard you try.

Nevertheless, the saying doesn't keep legislators from trying, the result frequently being the passage of new laws which confuse the public and do little, if anything, to keep public officials and others on a strictly moral basis when dealing with public issues and public money.

Some years ago, the Legislature voted what are supposed to have been strict rules regulating lobbyists, following some startling disclosures of influence over legislation.

The laws went into effect, and still are in effect, yet lobbying continues with practically no restrictions except that lobbyists are required to list their expenses. This they do, every month, limited to the amounts spent in pursuit of the passage or defeat of legislation in Sacramento.

The latest attempt to legislate morals was effected recently when the Legislature adopted AB 325, by former speaker Jess M. Unruh, requiring public officials to disclose certain stock ownerships and political contributions to campaigns of more than $500.

There is no law the Legislatue ever can pass which cannot be circumvented by politicians who do not wish their financial activities disclosed. The uselessness of such legislation is not only apparent, but has been proven in the case of measures purporting to keep lobbying under regulation.

There is another argument against the Unruh measure which is even more far-reaching. It was brought up when the bill was debated in the senate, where it passed 26-5. This argument was to the effect such a financial disclosure would deter many solid citizens from seeking public office, because their financial interests happen to be nobody's business but their own.

This in itself would have the effect of contributing to the trend toward "professional legislators" which was started under the sponsorship of Assemblyman Unruh when he urged, and the people voted, virtually a full-time Legislature to attend to the lawmaking duties in this state.

The experiment has not worked out very well, as witness the length of time the solons have taken this year to "consider" vital issues, and come to no decision.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

State Hospitals Sadly In Need

Jennifer Carder lived in San Rafael until she was nine months old. Since she required full time medical care her parents were encouraged to place her in Sonoma State Hospital at Eldridge.

Jennifer now lives in Tallman Hall. She may receive her meals if the small staff has time.

Sometimes her family can't see her because the attendant doesn't have time to dress her.

If people who do not have a loved one in a state hospital would take an interest also in their state hospitals, maybe Jennifer and her ward friends would have it a little easier. The parents and hospital staff just aren't being listened to in Sacramento. They need help.

You do not let 300 people go from a hospital and run it just the same. The cold fact is, good care costs money. I guess Reagan is thinking we find other ways of taking care of our people if the hospitals get bad enough. Maybe he is right?

Black Panthers Seen As Menace

I am startled to think that Sausalito School Supt. Phillip Schneider is defending the Black Panthers and their breakfast program. Any person that has his feet on the ground and at the same time does not have his head in the sand knows that the Black Panthers are indoctrinating the kids to be cannon fodder in the planned communist attempt to instigate race riots and revolution in the near future. In fact, to quote J. Edgar Hoover, writing in the FBI annual report for 1969: "The Black Panther party, without question, represents the greatest threat to the internal security of this country." These people are revolutionists in no uncertain terms and they mean business. Most of the adult members of the black community will have nothing to do with them, so they pick on the impressionable kids to sell their program of subversion in America.

Therefore, any person on the public payroll that lends these Black Panthers a helping hand does not deserve the support of the community at large and should be fired forthwith.

Compromise Noted In BCDC Bill

On July 25 you ran an editorial on the BCDC legislation expressing the view that those who favored jurisdiction over a narrow band of 100 feet of shoreline were taking an "all or nothing" position.

Your editorial was probably an emotional reaction to some of the things that occurred at the Senate Finance Committee hearing. It is unfortunate that people got so emotional about this matter but it is understandable when the special interests of a relatively few companies and cities were so forcefully attempting to get exemptions or special amendments to take care of their problems.

Actually the shoreline band which was finally included in the bill is insignificant as compared with the recommendations of the BCDC. . . . The final compromise of 100 feet will not be adequate to protect the use of areas which should be reserved for expansion of ports and airports and for use by water-oriented industries, although it will provide some protection of the right of public access to the Bay.

With respect to your "all or nothing" accusation, I call your attention to the . . . list of amendments to the bill to accommodate the desires of various special interests, all of which were concurred in so that the final compromise bill could receive enough votes to pass. These accommodations were for the special interest of such organizations as Leslie Salt, Sante Fe, West Bay Associates, the P.G.&E. and other utilities, Standard Oil and other oil companies and cities which are concerned over their right to expand shoreline facilities. . . .

Except for your July 25 editorial, we believe that the Independent-Journal has been favorable to the viewpoint of those of us who are concerned about protecting the environment in which we live and work and your reporting on the progress of Bay legislation has been accurate and fair. . . .

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Aug. 6, 1959

The North Marin Pony League collected $1,200 to send its all-star baseball team to the Far West regional playoffs in Provo, Utah, as representatives of Northern California.

The Marin County Labor Council reported the county's employment situation was excellent with several unions short of available workers to meet demands.

20 YEARS AGO

Aug. 6, 1949

The Marin Conservation League opposed use of the Deer Park area for a Faifax school site, contending the land should be preserved for recreation.

Marilyn Van Dyke of Mill Valley set a Far Western A.A.U. record for girls' 50-meter freestyle swim at Fleishhacker Pool, San Francisco.

Fine Officers For False Arrests

Save all taxpayers money. A good way to end false arrests in this county, which has a reputation on making them, would be to fine the officer or officers responsible two weeks pay plus pay the innocent party $10 per hour for every hour detained, also to remember (sic) the innocent for any costs he may have occurred (sic) in his defense and bail as well as traveling expenses.

I believe I am the record holder of false arrest in Marin County.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

ONE DAY, when Mark Twain tired of a chronic croaker's endless complaining, he exclaimed impatiently, "I've had my trials and troubles, too — and so has everybody else. The Lord has given us both vinegar and honey, but He has given us the vinegar with a teaspoon, and the honey with a shovel."

A THEATRICAL group in Alabama recently put on a production of the Russian classic, "The Cherry Orchard." A mean and heartless Birmingham critic dismissed it as "Southern-fried Chekhov."

Nixon's New Policy In Asia Contains Some Ambiguities

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — A major turning point in American foreign policy is taking place under President Nixon. Everything the President said and did on his Asian trip adds up to one conclusion: He is not talking about a radically changed Asian policy, but he is carrying it forward with speed and directives.

What Mr. Nixon told the non-Communist Asian officials is that American armed force must not be viewed as their first line of defense and would not be committed automatically, even in the event of outside aggression.

Their response is not surprising. It is to welcome the President's policy, with uneasiness and anxiety.

WHEN MR. NIXON talks about Asia for the Asians and shows he wants to encourage independence, self-reliance and nationalism, they like it. But when he talks about how Asian nations must be ready to defend themselves, and, ideally, each other, most Asian officials wish they could have it both ways, with U.S. forces ready to come in anywhere at a moment's notice.

This is why the Asian reaction is one of both approval and alarm — agreement with the theory that they should defend themselves but hesitance to face the reality.

THE TIMING is deliberate. Obviously, it stems in part from the staged withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam to try to get the Paris peace talks going. But it also rests on the conviction that only by making it firmly clear the United States is reducing its military involvement will the non-Communist Asian nations make the hard decisions necessary for their own defense.

But isn't there ambiguity in what the President said during the course of his trip? The candid answer is: yes, there is.

His repeated goal is "no more Vietnams," but when he got to Bangkok he assured the Thais that the United States stood solidly behind the Southeast Asia Treaty commitment to help defend Thailand's independence. And it was to honor the SEATO treaty that the United States sent troops to the defense of South Vietnam.

There is ambiguity in these statements, but they are not deceptive. Thai officials know that the SEATO commitment, promising American support if aggression occurs, leaves it open to the United States to determine what form that support shall take.

THE SEATO TREATY did not commit the United States to send ground troops to Vietnam. It doesn't require the United States to put any military forces into Thailand.

But a high White House official, speaking for the President in Bangkok, said that when external forces cross a recognized demarcation line "the Nixon policy would not preclude the use of American combat forces."

If President Nixon wants to avoid future Vietnams, isn't this ambiguity? It is, but it is necessary and inevitable in applying a broad concept to unforeseeable developments. The President of the United States simply can't assert that the national interest would never require the sending of U.S. forces to the Asian continent.

MR. NIXON is serving notice that he is radically reducing future U.S. military involvement. That's clear; that's firm; that's significant. But he is wisely avoiding the mistake of pretending that no circumstances could ever develop that would require U.S. combat troops in Asia. That's just being honest.

How substantial a turning point this is in American foreign policy can be measured by comparing it with the Truman Doctrine which Congress approved in 1947 and which stated:

"It must be the policy of the United States to support free people who are resisting attempted subjection by armed minorities or by Asian oppression."

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Bigger Federal Role Seen In Financing Of Education

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Dr. James E. Allen Jr., the U. S. commissioner of education, is biding his time while the Nixon administration focuses on welfare programs, but he has some very ambitious long-range hopes.

Allen, former education boss in New York state, is reconciled to a short "breather" in the federal government's drive to help the nation's schools and colleges. He has been using the interval to make some changes in the organization of the U. S. Office of Education.

Last year the office of education had a $4.1 billion budget. First President Johnson and then President Nixon tried their hands at trimming that total, this year, and they finally proposed cuts which would amount to about 25 per cent.

CONGRESS is now in the process of restoring some of those cuts. Allen, however, has his eyes on the future — on the budget to be submitted next January and on subsequent budgets stretching into the 1970s.

Office of education summaries indicate that about half of the bond issues proposed by school systems were defeated last year and that many school operating budgets were disapproved. Allen takes this to mean that local governments have just about exhausted local resources in financing local school systems.

The federal government, in the commissioner's view, is going to have to help create "a more stable financial pattern for the support of education in the 1970s."

ALLEN THINKS the system of financing education may be in for a change. He is gingerly suggesting to state and local education officials that the federal government's role is going to have to be one of providing a stable base on which state and local funds can be pyramided.

Allen's office of education experts are studying a number of ways to move in that direction — revenue sharing plans, formulas for general education aid, bloc grants, and continued grants for specific categories of educational programs. No conclusion has been reached as yet with respect to the use of any of them.

The question must be faced up to pretty quickly, however, in Allen's view. He estimates that the nation will be spending $180 billion on elementary and secondary education alone by 1980 By that time, he says, the federal government should be providing about 25 per cent of the total.

RED CONSPIRACY — Trotskyite communists are masterminding those grandiose plans of the Student Mobilization Committee for a "nationwide" student strike Nov. 14 and a "giant" anti-war march on Washington the following day.

SMC is an outgrowth ot the Spring Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam that sponsored anti-war demonstrations throughout the country in April 1967. Over the 4th of July weekend, SMC held a so-called "national conference" in Cleveland, Ohio.

Approximately 400 "delegates" attended, of whom around 300 were Young Socialist Alliance members. Chief topic discussed was anti-war and anti-military demonstrations, particularly the Nov. 14-15 affairs.

One haranguer boasted the contemplated Nov. 15 march on Washington would by the "biggest and most momentous of its kind the country has ever seen."

Alert Reporter Lays Bare The Perils Of Skinny-dipping

It is a newspaperman's job to present the naked truth, and in line with that, I offer the following item as proof that I'm doing my duty.

Despite all the flap about Muir Beach's nudeniks, one of the great nude stories from that delightful place has never been exposed. It has to do with a young man's first fling at public skinny-dipping and is retold here just as it came from a Stinson Beach man who gave the kid a ride.

It seems the young man, a San Franciscan, was intrigued by the reports of public displays of nudity at Muir Beach and thought he'd give it a try.

So he hitchhiked over (wearing a short T-shirt, Levis and tennies) and took off his clothes, our informant reports. Now lying around in the sun with nothing on makes a body hot, so the young man (17 years old) went for a swim.

WHILE HE WAS frolicking in the surf, one of the beach's herd of friendly canines appeared and decided to chew on the kid's pants. Seeing this, the young man scrambled out of the water and the dog fled — with the pants in tow — right up the road toward Shoreline Highway.

A few yards up the road, a citizen of Muir Beach confronted the youth — still quite unclothed — and demanded he dress. "I will if I can catch that ———— dog," the thoroughly embarrassed young man shouted, and tried to get around the indignant citizen. "I'm not going up there (on the road)," the man insisted, "even if you did have your pants."

According to the story as related in Stinson Beach bar, the boy finally was allowed to resume his chase, only to be met by a Marin County sheriff's deputy's car. The youth jumped in the bushes and the deputy passed, apparently without seeing him.

By this time, the dog — apparently curious about where his pursuer had gone — came warily back with the Levis still firmly held in his teeth.

THE BOY lunged. The dog jumped. The pants ripped. The boy ripped an eatly from the botton of the fly zipper clear around the seam - so the boy ended up with a pair of nothing but backside peekaboo pants.

"I stopped sitting down when I stopped to pick him up," our story-teller said, "and he walked funny when he came up to get in the car.

"Then the Stinson Beach man said he felt so sorry for the boy that he took him all the way to San Francisco. "I thought I'd do my part to bridge the generation gap," he chuckled in a neat double entendre.

And so ends the story of, as the story-teller described him, "The Peek-a-boo Barefoot boy with the cheek."

Court Hits Monopoly Role Of Accrediting Groups

By BRYCE W. ANDERSON

The regional associations which accredit American colleges and high schools have been declared in violation of the anti-trust laws by a District of Columbia federal court.

The ruling has brought alarm in the associations and prompt notice of appeal. It undoubtedly will be fought all the way to the U. S. Supreme Court.

It was handed down by Judge John Lewis Smith Jr. of the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia, in a suit brought by Marjorie Webster Junior College.

This is a privately owned school in the nation's capital, which is operated as a profit-making institution. Middle States Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools —one of six regional accrediting agencies which blanket the United States — refused to accept Webster Junior College as a member because of its proprietary status. As membership is a pre-requisite to evaluation for accreditation purposes, this means the school cannot be accredited.

THIS, HELD JUDGE Smith, constitutes illegal restraint of trade, since lack of accreditation "stigmatizes the school as being of inferior quality and thereby discourages applicants."

He pointed out that there are three college-level schools — all in California — which are operated as profit-making institutions yet are accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, the regional association accrediting Pacific Coast schools. These are Armstrong College in Berkeley, Woodbury College in Los Angeles, and Brooks Institute of Photography in Santa Barbara.

The three were admitted before the six regional associations created an over-all body called the Federation of Regional Accrediting Commissions, which in 1964 adoped a rule that no more proprietary schools would be admitted.

MOST PARENTS probably are unaware of the role of the accrediting associations. When they see that a high school or college is "fully accredited," they probably assume this means it has been accredited by the state. Not so, however. Although some states have their own apparatus for accrediting schools, it is the extra-legal associations, spawned by teacher-training colleges, whose accreditation is accepted in the education field.

James D. Koerner, in his book "Who Controls American Education?" had this to say about the colleges:

"Collectively and individually they can dictate educational policy. Inclusion in higher education the accredited label of the regional association is coveted by institutions and is in fact essential to most of them; our institutions, minimum criterion, indispensable to the public, used by parents it is the wise way of choosing a college, by employers in choosing by hiring the school's graduates, by government departments and by foundations in dispensing grants and contracts, and by the general public in assessing the institution."

JUDGE SMITH recognized this situation in his ruling that the associations cannot arbitrarily deny membership to an institution because they do not like its corporate set-up.

The implications of his ruling are far-reaching, pointed by a memorandum which was promptly circulated to member institutions. It warned that, if Judge Smith's decision stands, a school or college denied membership can go to court charging conspiracy, and perhaps collect triple damages under the anti-trust laws.

THE ASSOCIATIONS based their arguments against admitting Webster Junior College on the contention that for a school to be operated for profit is contrary to the principles of education (Armstrong, Woodbury and Brooks Institute notwithstanding).

Judge Smith dismissed this with the terse comment: "Educational excellence is determined by the method of financing but by the quality of the program." He called the rule proprietary schools "arbitrary, discriminatory and unreasonable."

Besides its direct implications, Judge Smith's ruling gives rise to some interesting speculations. For instance, might not the National Education Association's imposition of "sanctions" to whip a school district into line also be a violation of the anti-trust laws?

Closed Session

The San Rafael Fire Commission will meet in closed session at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at city hall to hear charges against a fireman, according to John T. Goodacre, secretary of the commission.

Budget Control Meeting For School District

A method of budget control to reduce expenditures of the Bolinas-Stinson Beach Union School District will be considered by the district board at its 8 p.m. meeting Monday at Bolinas School.

The board is aiming at ways to hold down expenses in several items of its 1969-70 budget passed Monday night which it considered too high.

The board also will study the "Time of Your Life" sex education program, use and purchase of playground equipment and supplies, summer recreation programs and the district's liability in cases of unauthorized use of school property.

A closed session will follow the regular meeting to reconsider the resignation of Erika Zettl who taught last year in Bolinas, changing it to a one-year leave of absence instead.

Insurance Burglary

Burglars Monday night took $150 from the State Farm Insurance Co. 410 Petaluma Boulevard South, Petaluma, police reported. All insurance offices had been looted.

Man Arraigned For Marijuana

I-J Special Report

CLEAR LAKE — Robert G. Vogel, 24, of 1151 Butterfield Road, Sleepy Hollow, was arraigned yesterday in Lakeport Justice Court on a charge of marijuana possession and ordered to appear Aug 19 to plead to the charge.

Vogel was arrested Sunday near Konocti Harbor Inn by Lake County sheriff's deputies along with two 17-year-old youths from Fairfax and San Anselmo who were charged with possession of alcohol and later released to the custody of their parents.

Vogel made $1250 bail yesterday. His attorney is Bruce B. Bruchler of Lakeport.
